Lucky Editor
"Is the editor in?" asked the man with the unbarbered hair and the shiny coat as he fished a roll of paper from his pocket.
"No," replied the office boy, "he has just gone out."
"This is the third time I have called to see him," growled the caller, "and each time you have told me that he has just gone out. What's the explanation?"
"I don't know," answered the office boy, "but I guess he must have been born under a lucky star."—Lippincott's Magazine.

Perfection Far Off.
"So you went on record for prohibition?"
"Yes," replied the man with the ancient silk hat. "I'm ready to vote for it. But I can't help hoping that there will be a deadlock or an investigation or something to cause the usual delay."—Washington Star.

Naturally So.
"Airships are very expensive, are they not?"
"Well, they make the money fly."—New York Sun.

WHY GRIP IS DANGEROUS.
It requires a good tonic laxative to keep the body of the patient as strong as possible to counteract the effect of the poisons created by the grip bacillus. An expectorant tonic with some laxative qualities is the safest remedy. Such is Peruna.
Mrs. Gentry Gates, 8219 First Ave., East Lake, Ala., writes: "I had a bad case of grip. I tried Peruna and it cured me. I can safely say it is a fine medicine."
Mr. George E. Law, 134 N. Franklin St., Brazil, Ind., writes: "I am satisfied that Peruna is a wonderful remedy for grip, and I do most heartily endorse and recommend it."

Most Skin Trouble Readily Overcome
The Active Principle of a Famous Remedy Works Wonders.

Many people have marveled the way E. B. overcomes skin troubles. The explanation is the fact that E. B. works in the blood and the blood is really a most intricate and extraordinary mass of arteries and veins.
When you come to realize that the skin and the flesh beneath are composed of a network of tiny blood vessels you solve the mystery.
There are wonderful medicinal properties in E. B. S. S. that follow the "flow" of the blood streams just as naturally as the most surprising food elements.
It is really a remarkable remedy. It contains one ingredient, the active purpose of which is to stimulate the tissues to the healthy condition of its own essential parts. And the medicinal elements of this matchless blood purifier are just as essential to well-balanced health as the medicinal elements of the meats, grains, fats and sugars of our daily food.
Not one drop of mineral or drugs is used in its preparation. Ask for E. B. S. S. and use it as directed. And if you desire skillful advice and counsel upon any matter concerning the blood and skin, write to the Medical Department, The Swift Specific Co., 122 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga.
Do not allow some zealous clerk's sales talk to fool you with the same old mineral drugs. Beware of all substitutes. Insist upon E. B. S. S.

Newswings.
A steam launch belonging to a British battleship recently sprang a leak while crossing from Portsmouth and rapidly sinking. Nearly an old salt was leisurely rowing a boat, but he made no attempt to come to the rescue. The launch's crew managed to swim to the boat, and as they scrambled in one of them said to the boatman: "Why on earth didn't you give us a hand? Didn't you see we were sinking?"
"Lor' bless yer," said the boatman stolidly, "I thought yer craft was one of those blessed submarines!"—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

A Puzzle.
The lady of the house was explaining things to the new maid.
"An' what's this, missus?" asked the girl, indicating a metal bottle.
"That is a bottle which will keep things either hot or cold, whichever you desire," replied the mistress.
"Well, foh the land sake!" ejaculated the girl. "How is it givine to know whether you want things hot or cold?"—Philadelphia Chronicle-Telegraph.

Conservation.
Moe Rose—"They say women lose more than 60,000,000 hairpins every year."
Joe Cose—"Yes. And it is such a waste of our natural resources that they are talking conservation by making wireless hairpins."—Browning's Magazine.

Virtue Not Rewarded.

"Why Willie, whatever is the matter?" inquired his mother.
"Boo! hoo!" sobbed Willie. "I was in school today and I—I saw Teddy Smith put a bit pin in the teacher's chair, and because I didn't want to be a teacher to sit on the p-p-p I pulled his chair away, and he sat on the floor. He gave me a thrashing for pulling his chair away when he got up, and when I got outside the school Teddy Smith hit me for pulling the pin away and not mindin' my own b-b-business."—London Tit-Bits.

NORTHWEST MARKET REPORTS.
Portland—"All wool men agree that the coming season will be the most interesting, and perhaps exciting, that the Western markets have seen in many years. Beyond this they will make no prediction. Prices, of course, will be good, but whether they will be high, or how high, no one cares to guess.
A dealer needs a brave speculative disposition to undertake forward business in the face of the conditions this year. Nevertheless it is said contracting has been done to a considerable extent in Utah and it is also reported that some contracts have been signed around Arlington. The terms were not mentioned, nor could the reports be verified.
Sheep growers are confident that prices will go to a high range and some of them are talking of a 25 or 30-cent market. With stocks in America as low as they are and spot prices here and abroad continually advancing, there is no doubt the 1915 market will open very strong, but buyers are not willing to concede that farmers will get the prices they are expecting.

IMPORTANT THAT PUBLIC SHOULD KNOW ABOUT GREAT KIDNEY REMEDY.
The testimonial I am to give you comes unsolicited. I have been suffering from lumbago for ten years and at times was unable to stand erect. A Mr. Dean of this city, saw me in my condition (bent over) and inquired the cause. I told him that I had the lumbago. He replied, "If you get what I tell you to, you need not have it. I said I would take anything for ease. He said, 'You get two bottles of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root and take it, and if it does not fix you O. K. I will pay for the medicine myself.' I did so and am a well man. For five months I have been as well as could be. Before I took your Swamp-Root was in constant pain day and night. This may look like advertising, but it seems to me most important that the public should be made familiar with this treatment as it is the only one I know which is an absolute cure. I owe a great deal to Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, and am anxious that others situated as I was should know and take advantage of it. Hoping that this testimonial may be of benefit to some one, I am, J. A. HOWLAND, 1734 Humboldt St., Denver, Col.

Our Own Popular Ballads.
A working girl lived in a flat that looked out on the court;
She loved her finnan haddie, though she wasn't any sport.
The fumes that rose from Nelly's flat 'bout 6 o'clock each night,
Were pungent, penetrating and they brought about a fight.
"Cut out the honey doers," yelled a mean old man next door,
And as the janitor approached they made an awful roar.
"Who's cooking fish for supper?" cried a woman with a grouch,
"This ain't no Friday feast day. Do you get me? I'm no slouch."
But Nelly faced them calmly, as she sauntered through the hall,
And as aromas wafted 'round, she warbled to them all:
"I may not suit your snuffers, but I know what's good to eat,
My fish may be quite smelly, but thank God! I'm pure and sweet;
You guys can eat your sauerkraut and cabbage, if you wish,
But, heaven will protect the girl who works to buy her fish!"

Sorrows of Song.
"The old songs used to talk about unrequited affection," said the bald-headed man.
"Yes, somebody was supposed to be heartbroken about something all the time."
"There's no danger of heart trouble with these up-to-date songs. The only risk you run in that line is to make you catch your breath till you get asthma."—Washington Star.

Bonds Are Light.
"And are the divorce laws so very liberal in your sections?"
"Liberal? Say! They are so liberal that nobody ever heard of a woman crying at a wedding out there."—Detroit Journal.

Not in His Class.
Angry employer—Do you mean to contradict me? You haven't as much sense as a donkey.
Suitor—No sir, I don't pretend to set my opinion against yours.—Boston Transcript.

A Mental Feat.
"Girls and photographers have one paradoxical quality in common."
"What is that?"
"Both can give a positive negative."—Baltimore American.
