THE PASSING OF MRS. WOOD.

This community was stirred to its depths Monday morning by the announcement that Mrs. G. R. Wood had passed into the Great Beyond. She had been sick for several years and at various times it was believed that she could not survive; but her wonderful vitality and indomitable will brought her through each time. The terrible strain upon her vital forces, however, eventually wore her out and the end came peacefully and painlessly in the early morning hours of Monday. She felt her time approaching and continually asked for her son Edwin, who was in Portland. He was sent for but did not arrive until after her death.

The funeral services were held Tuesday forenoon in Immanuel Church, conducted the Rev. M. H. St. John, pastor of the Seventh Day Advent Church of Portland. The body was taken to The Dalles and laid to rest in the family lot in Odd Fellows cemetery.

Mrs. Wood, during her twenty five years' residence in Mosier, endeared herself to every one by her kindly disposition and Christian influence and she will be sadly missed from the community and lovingly remembered as a warm-hearted friend who was ever ready with a word of cheer and encouragement, and a kind and generous, often self-sacrificing, deed. This was attested by the number of old-time residents who knew her in the early pioneering days and who gathered at the church to render her the last tribute of respect.

The immediate relatives who are left to mourn her death are her husband, Geo. R. Wood, who was faithful unto death in his loving care of his wife during her long illness; a daughter, Mrs. H. T. Decker, of Oakland, Cal., a son, Edwin B. Wood, of Portland, and an adopted daughter, Marion, besides other relatives, and L. H. Wilson, of Portland, who for many years of his earlier life was a member of the Wood household. To these bereaved relatives and friends we extend our heartfelt sympathy. We hope next week to publish an interesting account of Mrs. Wood's life—interesting especially to those who knew her intimately.

THE COUNTY FAIR

By Peter Radford

Lecturer National Farmers' Union
The farmer gets more out of the fair than anyone else. The fair to a city man is an entertainment; to a farmer it is education. Let us take a stroll through the fair grounds and linger a moment at a few of the points of greatest interest. We will first visit the mechanical department and hold communion with the world's greatest thinkers.

You are now attending a congress of the mental giants in mechanical science of all ages. They are addressing you in tongues of iron and steel and in language mute and powerful tell an eloquent story of the world's progress. The inventive geniuses are the most valuable farm hands we have and they perform an enduring service to mankind. We can all help others for a brief period while we live, but it takes a master mind to tower into the realm of science and light a torch of progress that will illuminate the pathway of civilization for future generations. The men who gave us the sickle, the binder, the cotton gin and hundreds of other valuable inventions work in every field on earth and will continue their labors as long as time. Their bright intellects have conquered death and they will live and serve mankind on and on forever, without money and without price. They have shown us how grand and noble it is to work for others; they have also taught us lessons in economy and efficiency, how to make one hour do the work of two or more; have lengthened our lives, multiplied our opportunities and taken toll of the back of humanity.

They are the most practical men the world ever produced. Their inventions have stood the acid test of utility and efficiency. Like all useful men, they do not seek publicity, yet millions of machines sing their praises from every harvest field on earth and as many plows turn the soil in mute applause of their marvelous achievements.

Lazy farmers are just as useless as dead ones and take up more room.

When the soul communes with the spirit of nature the back to the farm movement prevails.

There are two kinds of farmers. One tries to take all the advice he hears and the other won't take any at all.

W. A. STARK PASSES.

Waytt Alexander Stark, for years a well known and respected citizen of Mosier, died last Saturday evening at the residence of his son, S. W. Stark, in Hood River, after a long and painful illness. His funeral was held on Monday forenoon and attended by his relatives and many friends from Mosier.

Mr. Stark, who was born at Otterville, Cooper county, Mo., May 24, 1845, came to Oregon in 1892 and located on a homestead south of Mosier, where he lived until about five years ago, when he went with his wife to Hood River to make his home with a son. He was a direct descendant of General John Stark, of Revolutionary fame, was a Civil War veteran and also fought Indians with Kit Carson. He was past commander of Candy Post No. 16, G. A. R., of Hood River.

During his residence in Mosier Mr. Stark was pastor of the Baptist Church and was highly esteemed for his honest worth and sterling character. He is survived by his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Wm. Akers, two sons, S. W. Stark of Hood River, and Charles R. Stark, of Spokane, and two brothers living in Missouri.

The bereaved relatives have the sincere sympathy of the entire Mosier district.

WHO RUNS THE PAPER?

In a neighboring county a clergyman took the editor of the local paper to task because the editor accepted a certain advertising contract. The good man forgot that for years the editor had given freely of his space to help the church; had printed columns of notices of services, meetings, suppers, entertainments and lectures, all free. In donating this the editor had given more than the equivalent of cash. He had given publicity, and thus had done more to support the church and pay the minister's salary than any three members of the church had done. An editor has but two sources of income—his subscription list and his space. Yet, in this case, when he sold his space he lost a subscriber. Of course, no one need subscribe to a paper unless he wishes to do so, but no subscriber should want to dictate to the editor as to what he should publish. Many editors will not accept certain lines of advertising. Other editors cannot afford, perhaps, to be so independent. Business conditions often govern these matters. A rich and prosperous Philadelphia weekly of national circulation for years declined the advertisements of cigarette manufacturers. Business has fallen off lately for many of the big magazines. Now that paper is accepting cigarette advertising. Perhaps the editor needs the money, and who shall blame him if he sells his space to the American Tobacco Company? Collier's too, we hear, is letting down the bars, just a little. That's all right. Let them down a little further, as long as fakirs, grafters and swindlers are kept out. No one can run a paper to please everyone, be that paper big or little. It is the editor's paper and it is his living. He is the one who should judge what should and should not be published in its columns.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ORGANIZATION

Feeling that a mutual benefit might be derived from the organization of a parent-teachers' association, the teachers of the Mosier school called a meeting for this purpose at Chown's Hall last Saturday afternoon. It was a good indication to have had present at this first meeting 27 decidedly interested people. The Grange, which convened at the same hour, sent over a committee with an assurance of their co-operation, and an invitation to join with them at their next regular meeting, the first Saturday afternoon in March.

Mr. Amsden, principal of the High School, occupied the chair and explained the object of the meeting. Mr. Ross spoke on some of the grade problems and Miss Bennett talked of her primary department.

Dr. Robinson gave the viewpoint the parent side of such an organization should take. Then followed a most enjoyable violin solo by Alex Carlson.

The chairman emphasized some of the things already said and enumerated several things Mosier most needs at present, and can accomplish with a minimum effort.

Then followed an open meeting. The parents showed themselves anxious to understand and aid the plans of the teachers when they were explained.

A motion to organize was made and carried. Some discussion as to a president followed, resulting in the election of Mrs. Fred Evans as president, Mrs. Charlotte Allington as vice-president, and Mrs. E. E. Amsden as secretary.

The next meeting of the organization will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, in Immanuel Church, and it is earnestly desired that all the parents in the district should attend.

MRS. AMSDEN,
Secretary.
