Great Discovery.

"Some of the grandest discoveries of the ages," said the great scientist, accidentally, "have been the result of accidents."

"I can readily believe that," said the fair lady, "I once made one that was myself."

"May I ask what it was?"

"Certainly," answered the fair one, "I found that by keeping a bottle of ink handy you can use a fountain pen just like any other pen—without all the trouble of filling it."—Christian Register.

"Harry, I am beginning to believe the baby looks like you."

"Are you, dear?"

"Yes, I notice it more and more every day. I'm so glad."

"Do you really want him to look like me?"

"Of course I do. I've been sorry ever since we had him christened that we didn't give him your name."

"Sweetheart, you don't know how happy you make me by saying that."

"And, Harry dear, I found the loveliest hat today. I don't believe I ever saw anything that was so becoming to me. It's $25. Do you think I ought to pay that much for a hat?"

A Superfluous Question.

"In that new servant girl," said Mr. Testy, as he discovered the sugar in the salt shaker, "it seems to me you have found the possessor of stupidity in its unadorned double distilled form. May I ask where you obtained her?"

"Why," replied Mrs. Testy, "at the Intelligence office, of course."—Judge.

The Light That Failed.

The audience held their breath and simply thr-r-rilled as Jack Braveboy, the hero, killed the last of the Indians. He staggered about; he almost fainted with loss of blood.

Then he gazed about him, and suddenly his voice rang out with hope: "See!" he cried. "The dawn breaks bright upon you to-morrow heights!"

The stage remained in darkness. "See!" he yelled again. "The dawn breaks bright upon you to-morrow heights!"

Still darkness reigned.

"The dawn! The dawn!" he screamed, raging about the stage. "It breaks. The dawn!"

A head popped over the mountain top:

"Old 'ard, gov-nor!" said the head. "Don't be in such a bloomin' 'urry! Some one's bin 'n turned the gas off!"—The Bits.

Bravery.

Paw's Version.

Willie—Paw, is it proper to say that a man was given in marriage?

Paw—No, my son. A girl is given in marriage. The man always gets sold.

Maw—Willie, you go out in the back yard and stay there.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

His Vacation Clear.

Young Arthur, the pride of his Beacon street home, had been attending school all of six weeks, and his devoted parent thought it was high time he should find out how things were running. So he asked one afternoon:

"And what did my little son learn about this morning?"

"Oh, a mouse. Miss Wilcox told us all about mouses."

"That's the boy. Now, how do you spell mouse?"

It was then that the diplomat gave promise of entering the diplomatic service. He paused meditatively for a moment, then said:

"Father, I guess I was wrong. It wasn't a mouse teacher was telling us about; it was a rat."

No Worse.

"Say, old man, lend me ten dollars, will you?"

"Why should I? You'd only buy whiskey with it."

"What if I do? You subscribed to the war loan didn't you?"

"I don't see what that's got to do with it."

"Do you think it's any worse to lend me money to buy whiskey with than to lend money to the allies to spend on guns and ammunition?"

An Ingenious Soul.

Bilthers entered the dining room with a pair of yellow automobile goggles on.

"Hello, Bilthers," said little Binks.

"Going motoring?"

"No," said Bilthers. "I'm sort of hungry for a grapefruit, and I want to keep the juice out of my eye."

Liner Bosnia is Sunk.

Rome—The Italian steamship Bosnia was sunk Sunday by a submarine flying the Austrian flag. The passengers and crew boarded four lifeboats. Three of these craft have been landed, but the fate of the occupants of the fourth boat is not known.

The Bosnia was of 2561 tons gross and was built in 1898. She was 307 feet long, 39 feet beam and 25 feet deep. The home port of the Bosnia was Venice, and she was owned by the Societa Nazionale de Serviza Marittima, of Rome.

PLOTS OF GERMANS WILL BE PURSUED

President Wilson Determined to End Teutonic Schemes.

AGENTS HIGHER UP SOUGHT BY U. S.

Ambassador Count Von Bernstorff Is Under Suspicion—Demand for Recall of Nuber Possible.

Washington, D. C.—President Wilson has determined to put an end to the activities of Teutonic agents in the United States.

By his direction, the department of Justice and the Secret Service are co-operating to secure the necessary force to punish the men caught in projects which endanger the peace and safety of the country. More important, however, is the President's direction that the search shall be continued for those "higher up." As soon as he is in possession of all the facts, Mr. Wilson will take steps to stop the pernicious activity of diplomats and consular officers who are directing the work of destroying munitions factories, ships and other enterprises.

If the President carries his intention to its conclusion, and the charges now on file should be substantiated, it would surprise no one should this government request Austria-Hungary to recall Herz von Nuber, its consul general in New York.

Count von Bernstorff, the German ambassador, has been under suspicion for months, but in the absence of proof it is clearly impossible to take any action against him. Should the revelations of Dr. Gorican, recently resigned as Austro-Hungarian consul, be supported by evidence, then whatever diplomatic consular officer is involved will go.

The Austrian and German embassies deny the truth of Gorican's allegations, but the Department of Justice has had the promise of documentary evidence to substantiate them.

In addition the State department has received from the British government the documents carried by a German messenger. These contain a great deal of information regarding German and Austrian activities and supplement the papers taken from James F. J. Archibald, was familiar with the contents of Dumba's dispatches. The Department of Justice has not initiated any action against Archibald because it could not obtain proof that he had knowledge of the character of the dispatches he was conveying.

The sections of the United States statutes under which the government is proceeding against Robert Fay and his associates are those which apply broadly to the crime of piracy, the penalty for which is death. The indictments against Fay and Scholtz are for conspiring to "cast away or destroy" vessels with intent to injure the owners or the underwriters of the vessels or of goods in the cargo. The penalty for this crime is a fine of $10,000 or imprisonment for 10 years. They are also indicted for piracy.

Export Record is Broken.

New York—The greatest volume of exports ever recorded at a single port in the history of the United States left New York harbor during October, mostly for the warring nations of Europe, according to estimates made by customs officials here. The total, based on tabulations that are nearly complete, will not fall far short of $175,000,000, or about $7,000,000 a day for every working day of the month. In September exports from New York totaled $162,000,000.

Three hundred and ninety-three ships, nearly every one laden with a capacity cargo, left New York during October as compared with 365 in September. The tabulation shows that munitions and foodstuffs, mostly grain, filled the list of articles shipped abroad, with clothing, shoes, cloth for uniforms, automobiles and automobile parts following in close order. The bulk of the exports went to Great Britain.

30 Killed by Air Raid.

Rome—Thirty persons are dead in Verona as a result of the dropping of bombs on the city by three Austrian aeroplanes. Three other persons were seriously and 19 slightly injured. The bombs of the aircraft found most of their victims in the principal square of the city, where citizens and peasants from the outlying districts were attending the market. Nineteen persons were killed by one bomb. The aeroplanes visited various parts of the city, but none of the missiles fell near any of the military buildings.

Speaking Softly.

A Virginia farmer was driving a retractor cow down the road, and cow and driver came to a cross road. The man wanted the cow to go straight ahead, but the cow picked out the cross road. A colored man was coming along the cross road.

"Hald her off! Hald her off!" yelled the driver.

"Is trying ter!" replied the colored man.

"Speak to her! Speak to her, and she'll stop!"

"Good maw'nin', cow—good maw'nin'!" said the other, politely.—Pittsburgh Chronicle Telegraph.

TOO MANY CHILDREN

are under-size, under-weight with pinched faces and poor blood; they do not complain but appetite lags, they have no ambition and do not progress.

Such children need the rich medicinal nourishment in Scott's Emulsion above everything else; its pure cod liver oil contains nature's own blood-forming, flesh-building fats which quickly show in rosy cheeks, better appetite, firm flesh and sturdy frames.

If your children are languid, tired when rising, catch cold easily or find their studies difficult, give them Scott's Emulsion; it supplies the very food elements that their systems lack.

Scott's Emulsion contains no alcohol and is so good for growing children it's a pity to keep it from them.

More Than a Hint.

He was a shy young man. For two long years he had been paying her attention and had not yet even squeezed her hand.

One evening as they lingered in the shadow of the trees by her gate he asked timidly:

"Florence, would you—might I—er—would you mind if I placed one reverent kiss on your fair hand tonight when I leave you?"

Florence thought he wanted speeding up. So she dropped her head coyly on his shoulders, lifted her face temptingly to his and replied:

"Well, George, I should think it decidedly out of place."

Failures Fewer Than Year Ago.

Some increase in the country's business mortality is not unusual at this period of the year, and no special significance attaches to the rise in the commercial death rate during October. Total insolvencies, as reported by R. G. Dun & Co., numbered 1599, or 185 more than in the previous month and the largest since July, while several defaults of exceptional size helped to swell the liabilities to $25,522,580, as against $16,208,070 in September and an average of about $19,000,000 for the four months prior to that time. When comparison is made with October, 1914, however, the showing is favorable, not only from a numerical standpoint, but also in respect to the aggregate indebtedness. Then 1686 concerns failed, owing $29,702,187, in 1913 only 1434 suspensions occurred and the amount involved was $20,245,466, though in that year practically 200 more reverses were reported in October than in September.

Rutabagas in Market.

Tacoma—Rutabagas of unusually fine quality from North Yakima made their first appearance this season on the local produce market and sold at once as well as a pound. Turnips also rolled in for the first time this season and met with as much favor as the rutabagas. Local vegetables are off the market, the last shipments being in no condition to handle according to dealers. Turnips are selling at the same price as the rutabagas. Two carloads of fine sweet potatoes from the South were received this week.

Improved Tons in Butter Market.

Portland—There is a rather better feeling in the butter market this week. Fresh butter is moving out more freely and there is also an improved demand for second grade. Egg prices are unchanged. Fresh eggs are extremely scarce and there is no opportunity to bring in Eastern fresh, owing to the higher prices prevailing in the Eastern markets. Oregon storage are holding steady at 26c@28c.

The poultry market was steady, with a moderate supply. Dressed turkeys were quoted at 22 cents.

YOUR BLOOD

Is the canal of life but it becomes a sewer if clogged up. All life consists of building up and tearing down and just in the same manner that the blood carries to the various parts of the body the food that the cells need for building up, so it is compelled to carry away the waste material that's torn down. These waste materials are poisonous and destroy us unless the liver and kidneys are stimulated into refreshed and vigorous life.
