CONGRESS DELAYS OPPOSING WILSON

Action on Submarine Situation Put Off by Both Houses.

WM. J. BRYAN IS AGAINST PRESIDENT

Plain Talk Exchanged but President Wilson Still Stands Solidly for Full Rights of Americans.

Washington, D. C.—Congress settled down Saturday to await developments in the submarine controversy between the United States and Germany with an overwhelming majority of both houses apparently definitely determined to take no action which might embarrass the administration in the present stage of diplomatic negotiations.

A few of the more ardent advocates of legislation to keep Americans off armed ships continued their activities, and ex-Secretary Bryan's support for them was shown in the form of a telegram, but even most of them admitted that there was no prospect of immediate action.

So far as the administration is concerned, it was said authoritatively that while any agitation of the issue just now was undesirable, there was no disposition to oppose a vote on the pending armistice resolutions if their sponsors tried to force one.

It was declared that reports from the Capitol during the day showed conclusively that the senate and the house would stand behind President Wilson in his refusal to permit any abridgement of the rights of American citizens on the seas, as outlined in his letter to Senator Stone.

The President reiterated his statements in that letter to Speaker Clark, Majority Leader Kitchin and Representative Flood, chairman of the house foreign affairs committee, early in the day when they called at the White House to tell of the situation on their side of the capitol and hear the executive's views.

There was plain speaking both by President Wilson and his callers. Mr. Wilson said plainly that his efforts to keep the country at peace were likely to be hindered by impressions sent abroad by congress, and the congressmen were equally frank in giving notice that a strong sentiment existed at the capitol against risking the possibility of war by permitting Americans to travel on armed belligerent ships, whatever might be their rights under international law.

Although wholly different reports came from other sources during the day, Speaker Clark declared he believed a resolution to waive citizen-ship of vessels would carry in the house by two to one if it reached a vote.

The house delegation went back to the capitol with word that the President stood unalterably by his position. There the situation rests, and while there probably will be many more conferences and possibly some speeches, the generally accepted opinion is that no further serious effort to bring about action will be made, unless developments occur to make a rupture of relations with Germany imminent.

Pekin Admits Rebels Defeated
Government Troops at Sze-Chuen

Pekin—Official acknowledgement of the defeat of government troops by the Yunnan rebels on the Sze-Chuen border was withheld until Saturday, when the State department issued a mandate denouncing Tai Ao, in which admission is made that the revolutionists surprised the regular army and defeated a small garrison.

Information received in Pekin from non-Chinese sources shows that the Yunnanese, who descended on the city of Suifu and captured it, numbered about 10,000. The government garrison at Suifu numbered about 4000, but these troops left for the north several days before the arrival of the Yunnanese and consequently there was no resistance to the entrance of the latter. The fleeing government forces are reported to have started north for Tze-Chow.

Turks Reinforce Army.
London—Turkey is making great efforts to dispatch troops to the Russian front in an endeavor to recapture Erzerum, says the Bucharest correspondent of the Times.

All ordinary traffic on the railway from the Bosphorus to Angora has been stopped, according to the correspondent, and trains carrying troops and supplies there are running incessantly, but as the distance from Angora to Erzerum will consume at least a month's march there is little likelihood of the success of the movement.

Hughes Refuses Views.
New York—In a letter to Henry A. Wise Wood, made public here, Justice Hughes reiterates his declaration that he is not a candidate for Presidential nomination. Mr. Wood had requested a statement as to Justice Hughes' position on preparedness. Justice Hughes replied in part: "In view of my judicial office I do not feel that I have any right to take part in any political discussion or to make statements of the sort that would be expected from candidates for office. I am not a candidate, actively or tacitly."

Women to Urge Defense.
St. Louis—Miss Anne Morgan, daughter of the late John Pierpont Morgan, will be a delegate to the conference of mayors on national preparedness which will begin here March 13, according to an announcement by Mrs. Philip N. Moore, president of the National Council of Women. Mrs. Moore said that on March 5 a mass meeting would be held to "clinch the sentiment of the women of the country to prepare the nation to defend itself."

The Ford peace trip, besides adding somewhat to the gaiety of nations, offered to the pictorial satirists in many quarters of the world an opportunity of a lifetime. Two rather distant echoes of the junket appear in the March number of Caricatures Magazine. One is from the Christiania, Norway, Vikingen, and represents the Detroit idealist as a rat leaving a doomed ship. A touch of humor is added to the cartoon by reason of a bathing suit hung on a clothes line in the bow of the boat. The bathing suit is supposed to be the property of Mme. Schimmer.

AMERICAN NAVY THIRD ON LIST; EQUAL TO ANY BY YEAR 1925

Washington, D. C.—The object of the building policy formulated in 1913 by the Navy General Board, it was disclosed Wednesday before the house naval committee, was to keep the United States ahead of Germany in the race for naval supremacy. The statement was made by Rear Admiral Charles J. Badger, a member of the general board, who explained that the policy had contemplated a fleet of 48 first-line battleships by 1919 to accomplish its purpose.

The admiral was replying to a suggestion that the object of the old policy, abandoned this year by the board for the first time, was to keep the American navy in second place. While the statement did not go into the record of the hearing and Admiral Badger did not amplify it to show why the board had thought such a course necessary.

The admiral was replying to a suggestion that the object of the old policy, abandoned this year by the board for the first time, was to keep the American navy in second place. While the statement did not go into the record of the hearing and Admiral Badger did not amplify it to show why the board had thought such a course necessary.

GENERAL IVANOFF

General Ivanoff is in command of the southern group of Russian armies and, together with General Brusiloff, is given the credit for the severe defeats inflicted on the Austrians since the Teutonic invasion of Russia was checked.

That was the effect it had, he said, the real object was to keep ahead of Germany.

This year the board fixed as its policy the creation by 1925 of a fleet equal to the most powerful afloat at that time, he said. The committee did not go into the board's reasons for changing its ideas beyond drawing out the explanation that the board believed a fleet 10 per cent superior to any fighting force that might be brought against it would be necessary to insure against the invasion of American soil by an enemy.

Under questioning by Representative Kelly, Admiral Badger said the construction of three additional dreadnaughts and eight battle cruisers would place the navy on a par with the capital ships of the German fleet today. Germany now has 22 dreadnaughts and eight battle cruisers, he said, according to the best available information, while the United States has all told 19 ships of the dreadnaught class, built or building.

To equal Great Britain's fleet within two years, Admiral Badger said, the United States would be obliged to have a total force of 40 dreadnaughts, 15 battle cruisers, 25 swift scouting craft, 50 submarines and 250 destroyers. He was not favoring such a program, but merely answering questions by Representative Butler. Such a fleet could not be built in two years, he added, though it might be constructed in four.

Roslyn Has $100,000 Fire.
Tacoma, Wash.—Approximately $100,000 loss was caused by a fire starting in some refuse, swept in front of the ash pan of a boiler in the big department store of the Northwestern Improvement company at Roslyn, a coal mining town, according to advices received here.

In the building were the real and personal tax rolls of Kittitas county. These records and those of the county were rescued. Many fuses caps and much oil was stored in the building, but an explosion was averted.

Feed Scarce; Cattle Die.
Baker, Ore.—Because of scarcity of feed in Grant county, oats have gone to $2.25 a 100 pounds and threaten to go still higher. Since the heavy storm, sheepmen have been in a dilemma regarding the care of the flocks.

The rise started when Newton Shank bought 5000 pounds at 2 cents and M. W. Submarine and 250 destroyers. He was not favoring such a program, but merely answering questions by Representative Butler. Such a fleet could not be built in two years, he added, though it might be constructed in four.

Market Roads Discussed.
Milwaukee, Wis.—Market roads were discussed at the meeting of Milwaukee Grange Saturday afternoon, the main address being delivered by C. B. Hanson, master. Mr. Hanson suggested that main market roads be built by district assessments to be paid in part by the abutting property, and the balance by a district extending from one to two miles from each side of the road. Mr. Hanson urged the enactment of a law by which farmers may form road districts and take control of the district road construction.

Reclamation Interest Up.
Klamath Falls, Or.—Project Manager G. C. Camp, of this city, has returned from a meeting held by Main farmers in the Sand Hollow country, south of this city. Mr. Camp reports that the landowners are sufficiently interested in the reclamation project to advance money toward the cost of engineering and other preliminary work. About 60 farmers attended the meeting and talks were made by several. Mr. Camp explained various features in connection with the project. The project would water about 5000 acres.

Wool Growers Find Good Market by Shipping to Portland

Portland—With wool contracting for the 1916 clip just starting in the Eastern counties, the last remnant of the 1915 clip is being sold here. The Portland Wool Warehouse company has not over 40,000 pounds in its warehouse on Municipal Dock No. 1, and that is all the wool that is left in Portland.

The bulk of these wools were sold at from 21 cents to 23 cents for fine and 25 to 30 cents for coarse wool, according to condition and shrinkage.

"The prices realized," said W. L. Crowe, manager of the company, "are from 3 cents to 5 cents better than were offered in the country for the same wools. The growers are more than satisfied with their experiment of sending their wools here to be marketed, and it is safe to say a much larger quantity will be sent here during the coming season."

"We have sold wool to about 17 different customers, a dozen of whom never operated in this section before. We have had inquiries from a dozen other big Eastern mills, and although we did not close deals with them we are looking forward to their trade in new wools.

"Our object is to improve the condition of the woolgrowers and put them all on an equal basis. By availing himself of cheap money, which he could never do before, the grower is enabled to hold his wool until he is ready to sell. All the wool consigned here is sold only with the approval of the growers. It is different when the wool is consigned to the East, for it then gets beyond the owner's control."

Potato Shipments 600 Cars.
Portland—Up to the present time about 600 cars of potatoes have been shipped from Oregon, and the indications are the total shipments for the season will not exceed 1000 cars. Normal shipments from the state are about 1500 cars a year.

"There are between 400 and 500 cars of potatoes left unsold," said McKinley Mitchell, "and these will all clean up at some price. There is no likelihood the market will be any better in the immediate future, but there is a possibility the late market will improve if California cleans up."

What is life? It is supposed to be something that most people value highly, yet few there are who are willing to preserve it. For example, everyone talks about methods of attaining long life, yet no one cares to practice them. The commonest rules of health are constantly violated by the great majority. Doctors know this and rarely, if ever, advise their patients how to live, but give them medicine to tide them over some temporary attack.

Life has been called an illusion, a dream, a bubble, a curtain raiser and a forgetting. In reality, it is merely something that no man wants to part from too suddenly, but which he will always sell on the installment plan to the highest bidder. The colder gambles with the state for the price of his life, the immigrant with the minor, the rich man with luxury.

At best, life is only what we learn to avoid.

There comes a clear day when one realizes that clothes are to keep the weather off you, that food is to give you health, that home is shelter and inspiration; that, aside from being clean and inoffensive, one's personal appearance does not signify very much; that the main thing in life is to be going along toward the goal of your ideals. That isn't getting old, it's getting sense. From then on Time is not master, but friend.—Colliers.
