Nine Oregon Crops Valued at $30,181,730; Wheat Leads

Salem - Oregon farmers this year will resp a profit this year of $30,181,-730 from nine principal products, according to estimates compiled Monday by O. P. Hoff, state labor commissioner. The crop of wheat, corn, cats, barley, potatoes and apples will each oxceed $1,000,000,000 in value.

The percentage of the combined condition of all crops during July, based on a 10-year average, was 94.3. The biggest item in Oregon's enormous harvest this year, as in the past, is the wheat crop, which, based on crop conditions August I, will show a yield of 11,781,000 bushels of winter and 4,000,000 bushels of spring, or a total of 15,781,000 bushels. Commissioner Hoff's estimates indicate that the state's winter wheat crop is 86 per cent of the average for 10 years, while the spring wheat crop | 86.2 per cent. The estimated value of the entire wheat crop of the state at the farm on August 1 was 83 cents a oushel, or a total of $13,097,230. The stock of wheat now held on Oregon farms is placed at 873,000 bushels.

The state bureau of labor statistics forecasts an oat yield of 13,200,000 bushels, worth $5,412,000 to the Oregon farmer at 41 cents a bushel. The rop is 90.3 per cent of normal.

With 50,500 acres planted to potatoes this year and the crop 92 per cent of normal, a yield of 6,250,000 bush-els is forecasted. At 80 cents a bushel this crop will have a value of $5,- Her hands lay on the counterpane
