HOOD RIVER PIONEERS HOLD ANNUAL MEET

Once a year the sturdy men and women who conquered the virgin forests of the Hood River valley, who have seen the vast area of pine and fir trees give way to orchards and vineyards...

Some September day is chosen for the annual reunion, and a birthday of a member is always chosen. The pioneers met Thursday and simultaneously participated in their annual gathering and celebrated the 80th birthday of David A. Turner...

Despite his four score years Mr. Turner was bubbling over Thursday with optimism, and was greeted with rousing cheers when he rendered on his beloved fiddle "The Arkansas Traveler" and other old time favorites.

Newton Clark, who delisted the annual address of last Thursday, chose for his subject the discovery of Lost Lake, the beautiful shores of which were first sighted on an autumn morning in 1879 by a party of men composed of Dr. T. L. Elliot, Prof. L. F. Henderson, Milton Odell, E. L. Smith and Mr. Clark.

"We did not reach the lake the first day, but found it early in the morning of the second. I took Mr. Odell's rifle and went out to get some game, while the other members of the party built a raft from fallen logs and endeavored to catch some fish. I returned with only my rifle, expecting to find the bank covered with fish.

"On our return trip Prof. Henderson, a botanist, found many wonderful specimens of plants that thrive in the region." A paper on The Columbia River Indians, prepared by Capt. H. C. Coe, of Portland, who was unable to be present for the gathering, was read by Prof. Henderson.

Other numbers of the program were: Singing of America by the entire assembly; a reading by Mrs. Alexander Thompson, of The Dalles, who was present with a delegation from the Old Fort Dalles Historical Society; readings by Mrs. Maribeth Crowell.

The date set for the reunion of next year falls on September 17, the birthday of E. L. Smith and Mrs. William Boorman, who will be respectively 80 and 82.

At noon Thursday around long tables set in the big Odd Fellows hall, the Hood River, Ore., Sep. 24, 1916. Editor Bulletin: In my remarks at the Pioneer Association last week I did not attempt to give the names of all the party which discovered Lost Lake, but mentioned incidentally several names which have erroneously been understood as embracing the whole party on that occasion.

OREGON RANKS LOW IN NORMAL SCHOOLS

U. S. BUREAU OF EDUCATION REPORT UNCOMPLIMENTARY TO STATE'S SCHOOL POLICY.

Pendleton, Ore.—Oregon is one of the most poorly equipped states in the Union for the training of teachers, according to the United States Bureau of Education. Only five states in the Union have less Normal equipment than Oregon.

The report of the Bureau of Education shows that even the little state of Idaho, with a population only half as large as that of Oregon, is spending more than twice as much for Normal Schools as is this state.

State Superintendent Churchill's annual report shows that of the 6055 teachers in Oregon last year but 791, or 13 per cent, were Normal School graduates. The same official estimated that 1000 new teachers are needed each year and the present Normal school is turning out but 600.

L. J. Merrill returned yesterday morning from a ten day's trip to Des Moines, Iowa, where he attended the wedding of his brother, E. D. Merrill, and the wedding of his sister, Mrs. Merrill, also of Seattle, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Merrill.

Conditions throughout the middle west and central states seem to be very favorable. Mr. Merrill states that in relating impressions gained on his trip, "I believe this year are not equal to any very satisfactory with high prices prevailing for all products.

BIG GAME SIGHTED IN THIS VICINITY

While coming over the Columbia River Highway Sunday a black bear was seen in the road a short distance from Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Pierce, of Spokane, who were en route to their home after a camping trip through Oregon and California last June.

Four bears were reported seen near the head of Mosier creek by Ed Jasper, who resides south of this city. Fred Evans, accompanied by W. H. Corey of Hood River, with their dogs, have started in pursuit of them.

It is said that the lack of huckleberries and other wild berries in the mountains this year is driving the bear close to civilization in search of food.
