is the source of most sickness because drugged pills, syrups and alcoholic mixtures are uncertain and unsafe.

Scott's Emulsion has been relied upon by physicians for forty years as the safe and sensible remedy to suppress the cold and build up the enfeebled forces to avert throat and lung troubles. Don't tolerate alcoholic substitutes, but insist on the Genuine Scott's Emulsion. One bottle usually lasts longer than a cold. Every druggist has it.

ONLY ONE SUBMARINE OPERATED ON U. S. COAST, SAYS ADMIRAL

Newport, R. I.—The wholesale raid on foreign shipping south of Nantucket lightship Sunday was the work of one submarine, according to reports of American naval officers. Rear-Admiral Gleaves, commanding the torpedo boat destroyer flotilla which did such remarkably speedy rescue work, said that the reports of all his officers agreed that to the best of their observation one raider only was concerned. This boat presumably was the U-53, which called at Newport Saturday afternoon to mail a letter to Ambassador Bernstorff and then put to sea without taking on an ounce of supplies, although she had been 17 days off her base, according to the statement of her officers.

Admiral Gleaves said he could easily understand the positive statements of the captain of the Nantucket lightship and of sailors of the torpedoed vessels.

that more than one submarine was concerned. The U-boat, he said, was very fast and appeared to have been handled very cleverly. It was easy, he pointed out, for her to disappear on one side of a ship and then show up unexpectedly at another spot. Doubtless, he believed, she had submerged and reappeared often enough to mislead any but a keen professional observer and to create the impression that more than one sea terror was operating.

This opinion would seem to be borne out by the statements of many of the refugees that the submarine had more business on hand than she could take care of at once and was obliged to request one steamer to wait the turn while another was being put out of commission. Lieutenant-Commander Miller, of the destroyer Ericsson, who witnessed the destruction of the Stephanos, said he was positive that only one submarine was in the vicinity at the time.

The known list of the victims of the U-boat's Sunday exploits remains at six, notwithstanding reports from the Nantucket lightship that three other ships, the identity of which could not be learned, were sent to the bottom.

There also was a persistent rumor, without verification, that a British cruiser, one of the allied patrols sent to the submarine zone, had been attacked.

Cautious. When the week-end traveler arrived at the little country village he found deserted streets and a terrific rain-storm. The village had been advertised as one of the picture in the guide book suggested a little bit of heaven. But to the unhappy traveler smoky London seemed more than desirable.

However, the last up-train had gone, there was no hope. "Tell me," he said to the porter stationmaster inspector, "can you direct me to the best hotel here?" "I can, sir. But, as a matter of fact, I hardly like it." "Oh! Why?" "Because when you've seen it you'll say 'I'm a liar!'"—London Answers.

Washington, D. C.—Unless instructed to do so by the London foreign office, the British embassy here does not intend to make any fresh representations to the state department, as it regards the representations already made in connection with the Deutschland as sufficiently settling the British view of international law on the subject.

From the British point of view only two courses are open: either to convoy all British ships using American ports where the ship is not sufficiently armed to afford full protection, or to withdraw British ships from the American trade.

The latter contains the possibility of much injury to American commerce.

U-Boat Commander Lucky or Wise. Boston—Luck was with Captain Hans Rose, or the commander of the German submarine U-53 was well advised. There was evidence that when he set out to attack enemy shipping there was not a British warship within 500 miles of the spot in which he chose to operate. For some time, according to men who follow marine affairs, there had been only three British cruisers engaged in patrolling the Atlantic Coast to keep open the path for American-made munitions of war.

Cruiser Torpedoed in Mediterranean. Paris—The steamship Gallia, an auxiliary cruiser carrying 3000 Serbian and French soldiers, was torpedoed and sunk in the Mediterranean on October 4 by a submarine. Thirteen hundred men picked up by a French cruiser and landed in boats on the southern coast of Sardinia have been accounted for thus far. The torpedo caused the explosion of ammunition in the hold of the Gallia and also destroyed the wireless apparatus, making it impossible to send out calls for help. The crew and troops took to rafts and small boats.

Electric Heating of Houses.

Stockholm, way up on the Baltic sea side of Sweden, is a cold proposition for many months in the year. Not only its far-north latitude, but its insular situation conduces to cold climatic conditions. For Stockholm is built mostly on islands, and is called the Venice of the Baltic.

But the people in the city keep very warm during the long winters, and they do so through electrical heating arrangements. Fuel for individual families was an immense item in Sweden, as it is in all cold countries, but in the past few years the electricians of the country have bent their energies to the development of the natural water powers, to the end that electricity has become the chief fuel. Hot water tanks in hotels, churches and all public buildings, and buildings are heated by electricity from a nearby power plant, and the hot water is sent through the houses pretty much as it goes through similarly heated houses in our cities. The electricity that heats the water is turned on at night when the family retires, and by morning the tank is so hot that the water, pumped automatically through the house pipes, gives the inhabitants all the comforts of steam heat, and it lasts through the whole day.

The chief difference is that we build our coal fires in our furnaces, and have smoke and ashes to contend with, while the Swedes press a button that connects the house tank wire with the power plant, and the work is done, with no aftermath of cleaning up.—Memphis Commercial Appeal.

The Retort Courtes.

Hogan had died. Casey, a friend of Hogan's, had been away and arrived in town on the day of the funeral. With his satchel in his hand, he passed Hogan's house, just as the pallbearers were carrying the casket out to the hearse. Hogan had been a very large man and the pallbearers were straining every muscle.

Casey stood aghast, but finally approached one of the pallbearers. "Who's in there?" he demanded, pointing to the casket. "Hogan," panted the pallbearer. "What is Hogan doing?" "The pallbearer turned upon Casey disgustedly and said: "For the love of Mike, you don't think we're just rehearsing this, do you?"—Brooklyn Eagle.

A Time for the Two Bears.

We have a friend who is fond of telling how his elderly mother took him aside when he was about to be married and advised him always to keep two bears in his home if he would be happy.

When he asked her what she meant she explained that the animals she had in mind were "bear" and "forbear."

The homely story is one that we Americans might well lay to heart just now. In both our foreign and domestic relationships far greater success may be necessary to avoid quarrels and quarrels are invariably ruinous to happiness, disturbing to business and nearly always lead us to do many things that we afterward regret.—Commerce and Finance.

Women Once Invalids

Now in Good Health Through Use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Say it is Household Necessity. Doctor Called it a Miracle.

All women ought to know the wonderful effects of taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound even on those who seem hopelessly ill. Here are three actual cases:

Harrisburg, Penn.—"When I was single I suffered a great deal from female weakness because my work compelled me to stand all day. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for that and was made stronger by its use. After I was married I took the Compound again for a female trouble and after three months I passed what the doctor called a growth. He said it was a miracle that it came away as one generally goes under the knife to have them removed. I never want to be without your Compound in the house."—Mrs. FRANK KNOB, 1642 Fulton St., Harrisburg, Penn.

Hardly Able to Move.

Albert Lea, Minn.—"For about a year I had sharp pains across my back and hips and was hardly able to move around the house. My head would ache and I was dizzy and had no appetite. After taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills, I am feeling stronger than for years. I have a little boy eight months old and am doing my work all alone. I would not be without your remedies in the house as there are none like them."—Mrs. F. E. Yost, 611 Water St., Albert Lea, Minn.

Three Doctors Gave Her Up.

Durham, Penn.—"Your medicine has helped me wonderfully. When I was a girl 18 years old I was always sickly and delicate and suffered from irregularities. Three doctors gave me up and said I would go into consumption. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and with the third bottle began to feel better. I soon became regular and I got strong and shortly after I was married. Now I have two nice stout healthy children and am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. CLARENCE DUKKINS, 34 Gardner St., Troy Hill, Pittsburg, Penn.

All women are invited to write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for special advice—it will be confidential.

Misery in Back, Headache and Pain in Limbs.

Dear Mr. Editor—For more than a year I suffered with misery in the back, dull headache, pain in the limbs, was somewhat constipated and slept poorly at night until I was about ready to collapse. Seeking an account of the wonderful qualities of "Annie," prepared by Doctor Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., I sent for a box, and before using the whole box I felt and still feel improved. My sleep is refreshing, misery reduced, and life is now the drug it was before. I most cheerfully recommend this remedy to sufferers from like ailments.

Yours truly, W. A. ROBERTS.

NOTE: You've all undoubtedly heard of the famous Dr. Pierce and his well-known medicines. Well, this prescription is one that has been successfully used for many years by the physicians and specialists of Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, of Buffalo, N. Y., for kidney complaints, and diseases arising from disorders of the kidneys and bladder, such as backache, weak back, rheumatism, dropsy, congestion of the kidneys, inflammation of the bladder, scalding urine, and urinary troubles.

Up to this time, "Annie" has not been on sale to the public, but by the permission of many patients and the increased demand for this wonderful healing Tablet, Dr. Pierce has finally decided to put it into the drug stores of this country within immediate reach of all sufferers.

I know of one or two leading druggists in town who have managed to procure a supply of "Annie" for their anxious customers in and around this locality. If not obtainable send one dime by mail to Dr. Pierce for trial package—50 cents for full treatment.

Envy—Please insert this letter in some conspicuous place in your paper.
