MOSIER APPLE CROP NOW ENTIRELY SOLD

The entire unsold output of the Mosier crop of apples, which comprised the Spitzenburg and Yellow Newtown varieties, has just been sold to J. H. Killough & Co., of New York, at satisfactory prices. Shipments commenced Saturday. It is estimated that the order will total 50 cars.

Indications are that this year's crop will exceed the estimates of 75 cars made the first of the season, and in all probability will reach between 90 and 100 cars.

"From the present outlook, with a steady and rising market, the growers stand excellent chances of getting good prices for their apples this year," said R. D. Chatfield, manager of the Mosier Fruit Growers Association.

Nearly the entire crop was under cover before the rains commenced last week, and it is probable that in two or three days not an apple will be left on the trees.

A dearth of packers, scarcity of boxes and refrigerator car shortage are hampering considerably in getting out the crop. Several carloads are now stored in the association warehouses. Several cars have been shipped to European countries and many have been placed throughout the east, as well as California and other markets.

The entire crop of Red Cheeks has been sold to Portland dealers and several carloads of cider apples also have been shipped to Portland.

WHAT THE BREWERY AMENDMENT MEANS

The insertion of a comma after the words "for medicinal purposes," and before the words "upon prescription of a licensed physician," makes it possible for druggists to sell for medicinal purposes without prescription, and for physicians to prescribe it for other than medicinal purposes.

It is a rule of law that a person does a thing himself when he does it through an "agent." The old saloons would open with the proprietors brewers' "agents" in name, as they were before in fact.

The license law has been before, as have all regulatory measures, so they would pay no license, could sell to children, intoxicated persons and habitual drunkards, at all hours and on all days. Not only saloons, but pool halls, cigar stores, barber shops, livery stables, garages, candy and confectionery stores, soda fountains, drug stores, fruit stands, groceries and janitors of apartment houses would become "agents" also the street vendors of trade, while brewery wagon drivers would work the home trade.

Since the local option law is repealed these "agents" could go into places formerly dry under the local option law, and outside of the incorporated places where they were before barred by statute now repealed and to be superseded by this proposed new constitutional measure.

They must sell in the "original package" (a five cent bottle, corked and sealed at the brewery is an "original package") and the customer could drink from it or pour it out for himself.

Railways (of whose business it is less than one per cent) now control deliveries. Adopt this, and brewers' agents would control and regulation would become stimulation of deliveries.

That an increased allowance for deliveries is contemplated, is shown by the words "in such quantity or under such regulations as may be prescribed by law." "Until otherwise prescribed by the legislature," (not the people) "delivery shall be limited to the quantity as persons are now permitted to import into the state under existing laws." If this is adopted they will move heaven and earth to have the legislature raise the allowance or abolish it altogether.

NEW ZEALAND FRUIT GROWER SEES VALLEY

(From the Hood River Gleaner)

"I retired about 15 months ago," says J. C. Alpass, who for 35 years has been a resident of Wellington, New Zealand, where he owns large orchard interests, "and now instead of settling down and growing old, I am walking about all over the globe and keeping young." Mr. Alpass is especially interested in fruit growing.

"For 35 years on my New Zealand farm I have been experimenting in growing apples," he says, "and that is why I am here, to see how you Americans grow the fruit. From the horticultural books I have read it would seem that you had the work perfected. It is true you know how to grow apples, but I haven't found a man in America who knows how to grow a tree. Instead of from 40 to 50 feet apart, we plant our apple trees only about 15 feet apart, and then we prune the trees so that sunshine and air can get in around every branch. As a result we have our trees both next to the body and on the outside well loaded with fruit spurs. Our trees do not get so large. It is easy to spray them and to harvest their crops."

Mr. Alpass, who has visited in Okanogan, British Columbia and Yakima districts, says that the varieties of apples here differ to a great extent from those grown in Australia. One of the favorite varieties in New Zealand, he says is the Starmer Pippin. New Zealand growers do not raise Newtowns in commercial quantities. The fruit there is called the Chisel pippin.

Mr. Alpass says that he was in North Yakima when Hon. J. Ham Lewis delivered an address in behalf of the Wilson campaign.

"It struck me," says Mr. Alpass, "that some of your American politicians are doing a lot of boasting over legislation that has been in effect with us for many years. One to hear Mr. Lewis talk would have thought that the party he represented conceived and originated the child labor laws, rural credits and eight hour laws. We have all of these over in New Zealand. We even have the eight hour law applied to agriculture."

POLITICAL CANDIDATES VISIT MOSIER

Five political candidates, Mrs. Alexander Thompson, for representative in the legislature; Judge W. L. Bradshaw, for circuit judge; Francis V. Galloway, for district attorney; C. L. Darnielle, for sheriff; and D. L. Cates, for treasurer; accompanied by Chief of Police Ed. Kurtz, visited Mosier Friday afternoon from the local for a visit with friends. The visitors, who were all Democrats, spent a part of the afternoon going through the warehouse of the Mosier Fruit Growers Association, and later went to the cider plant of C. A. Hage where refreshments were partaken.

Introduced by precinct committee-men, J. N. Mosier, Mrs. Alexander Thompson after giving two well rendered recitations in the evening in Chown's hall, launched into her arguments why she should be sent to the legislature.

Mr. Thompson maintained that the women should be represented now that they have the ballot; that she having had 16 years in public life was able to represent them; and that she as a woman, would be more interested and better able to make laws for the welfare of the home and children; that women have more training in economy than men, although never at the expense of efficiency.

Mrs. Thompson asked to be elected on her merits, and stated that she would be present at every roll call. She said she would be more useful than any other woman, although she stated that believed she would be more ornamental than most of the men.

The visitors, with the exception of Mrs. Thompson returned in the evening to The Dalles. The latter left the next day for Cascade Locks and Hood River.

SHINN-KERR NUPTIALS

One of the most successful social functions that has been held in Corvallis in recent years, says the Portland Oregonian, was the wedding Wednesday evening at 9 o'clock in the Presbyterian church of Miss Leona Kerr and Robert Shinn. Dr. J. R. N. Bell performed the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. J. W. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural College. She was graduated in 1912 and from the University of California in 1913, and is a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The bridegroom was graduated from the Oregon Agricultural College in 1914, and is a member of the Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. He is the son of Dr. W. R. Shinn, of Portland.

artificially decorated with roses, palms and pink and white chrysanthemums.

Beginning at 8 o'clock the college orchestra played a number of selections and at 8:30 a musical program, arranged by Professor W. A. Gaskins, of the school of music, was given. Miss Blanche Hammel, Miss Iva McGinnis and Jack Porter sang solos. Walter J. played by the college orchestra. Two little flower girls, Martha Kiger and Helen Elgin, preceded the procession and the bridesmaids.

The bride wore a beautiful Creole-like costume which had a foundation of silver with silver lace trimmings and an overskirt of silver lace draped with silver net and trimmed with silver beads and pink and silver roses. She was attended by Miss Gertrude Nolan, a sorority sister, who wore a gown of pink silk draped with pink silk net and with a bodice of cloth of silver trimmed with French flowers. Lynette and Genevieve Kerr, Bertha and the bridesmaids.

The bridal bouquet consisted of Ophelia roses, lilies of the valley and bride roses tied with lilies of the valley. The bride was given away by her father.

Dean Crowell, former University of Oregon football player, was the best man, and the ushers were Wilson Perry, Mat Thielens, Tom Nolan, J. T. Fikes, Dick Kiger, Grant Elgin and Harry Buxton. Marion Kerr and Bruce Bauer acted as bridesmaids.

During the ceremony Mrs. Genevieve Baum-Gaskins played the pipe organ. Miss Blanche Hammel chanted the prayer and the ceremony was concluded by Lynette Kerr singing "I Did Not Know." Following the ceremony a reception to the guests was given in the church parlors, which were beautifully decorated with evergreens, autumn leaves and native chinkapin trees, arranged under the direction of A. L. Feek, professor of landscape gardening at the college. Refreshments were served by sorority sisters of the bride. In the receiving line were included members of the board of regents and close friends of the bride's parents.

The newly wedded couple left that evening to visit Mrs. Shinn's sister, Mrs. Ralph Reynolds, at Cheyenne, Wyo., and will then return to Mosier, Or., where Mr. Shinn is manager of the large Mayer estate.

Apples high in Minnesota
"Apple prices in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Minn., are prohibitive almost at the present time," says Rev. J. H. Hargreaves, formerly pastor of the Heights Baptist church who returned last week from the Twin Cities to look after business interests. "The supply seems limited and the stock is poor." Rev. Hargreaves states that he paid 25 cents for a little bag of a half dozen Washington boxed apples.

Don't forget about that bond issue when you go to the polls, and see that all legal voters cast their ballot. The advisory board plan eliminates many former objections and the bonds should now be supported by each and every voter.

Vote Yes, for good roads in Wasco county. The issue carries, the State will build from Hood River to Mosier.
