Wandering of Minor Planets. The "mislaying" of the minor planets is sometimes due to their actually failing to keep their appointments at the places where, according to calculation, they ought to be. An instance is the case of No. 153, otherwise known as Hilda. Dr. Palisa discovered her in 1875 and calculated her orbit. But attempts to find her again failed, and she was almost given up as lost until Dr. Palisa found her again in 1879-a long way, however, from where she had been expected. The discrepancy was caused by the effect upon Hilda of the attraction of Jupiter, of whom she is a comparatively near neighbor. For these little planets are scattered over a wide belt. #### His Helpful Suggestion.

In a church which could be named the pastor was desirous of bringing about in a tactful, way some improvements in the midweek service and announced for a subject "The Ideal Prayer Meeting." A number of helpful suggestions had been made, when one brother known to be harmless as a dove if not wise as a serpent got up and said: "I think everybody should come prepared to say something, so that no time should be lost except that which As he was known to be a great admirer of the pastor the gravity of the meeting was somewhat disturbed.

Courage and Courtesy.

It is recorded of General Sheridan that he was once asked who, in his opinion, was the most reliable of the corps commanders, and he unhesitat ingly answered, General Hancock. He said, "If I wanted a man to stay where I put him, if I located him at night and wanted to find him right there in the morning, I'd select Han cock." And then further Sheridan

"For genuine politeness and gentle regard for women Hancock was incomparable. If Mrs. Hancock came into his room twenty times in half an hour he would always stand up." There is a compliment indeed. The bravest commander was the most courteous to women, and, what was best of all, be included his own wife among the objects of his courtesy. That is something many men forgetthey are courteous to all women except to their own wives -- Ohio State Journal.

German and Spanish.

It is just about "nip and tuck" be tween those who speak German and those who speak Spanish, with the advantage somewhat on the side of the German. There are about $5,000,000 German speaking people in the world and about 82,000,000 speaking Spanish. -New York American.
