ROAD BUILDING BEING OUTLINED
J. A. Elliott, the engineer who will have charge of the road construction work in Wasco county during the time $250,000 will be spent for improving the highways, arrived in The Dalles Friday, says the Chronicle, and immediately began the work of compiling records preliminary to securing rights of way. Mr. Elliott held a short consultation with County Judge F. S. Gunning, who outlined the plans made by the county court and advisory board. It is not expected that any obstacles will materially delay securing rights of way. Many land-owners, through whose property a road will pass, have already promised to grant a right of way without expense to the county. The farmers believe the acquisition of a road through their land is worth much more than what the land itself is worth.
The plan for letting contracts which has been adopted, promises speedy work when actual construction is commenced. The various routes will be divided into units, and these units will be open for separate bids. The road from The Dalles to Petersburg, will compose one unit. There will be three units from The Dalles to Mosier, and the bridge over Mosier creek will be offered for a separate bid. This system will give a number of contractors a chance at the various sections of road, with the result that construction work can be done all along the route.
The units of the road from The Dalles to Dufur and south to the Jefferson county line, which has not been surveyed, will be designated later. Mr. Elliott will go over this route and determine how many units can be successfully worked.
The units from The Dalles to Petersburg and from The Dalles to Chenoweth creek, are now ready for bids, rights of way having been granted.
Mr. Elliott has a thorough checking system which will cover every phase of the construction work. The system is simple and will be kept up to the minute, showing daily what work has been done and what it has cost.
This cost system will contain records showing for what every dollar has been spent, and will give the taxpayers an opportunity not only to see how the $250,000 has been spent, but will show exactly what expenditures the contractors have made in fulfilling their contracts.

Sam Yates left Tuesday for Kansas City, Missouri, and will go from there to Warrensburg, Missouri, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Yates, reside. He expects to remain for the winter with them and plans to return to Mosier again in the spring.

PROCEEDINGS OF COMMON COUNCIL
Upon a unanimous vote of the city aldermen Wednesday night, the street committee was authorized to order tailings be spread upon the main roads and streets in the city, which includes the repair of the road between the Mosier creek bridge and the Rock creek bridge. Oregon street from the beginning down past the blacksmith shop is especially in need of repairs. The committee was also ordered to report any other streets which are in bad condition.
Permission was granted to O. E. Wilson to use dynamite on the east side road for a period of 90 days, conditionally that he be responsible for any damage incurred. The question of the purchase of a lot for the city fire engine was deferred until the next meeting as was the question of the repeal of the dry license ordinance.
PLANS PROGRESS FOR CHRISTMAS TREE
The committees in charge of the plans for the community Christmas tree to be held on Saturday evening, December 23, report that they are receiving good support among the people. A fine program has been arranged for the occasion, which by a vote of those present at the chicken supper given by the Ladies Aid Society, has been transferred to the Church of Christ.
After soliciting among the people of the city and valley, $34 has been raised for the purchase of candy and oranges for the children. It has been decided to allow presents to be placed upon the tree. A big box will be placed in the church to hold contributions for charity and everyone is urged to bring gifts. A complete announcement of all plans will be made next week.
J. M. Wilson, who since the start of the apple shipping, has been employed at the warehouse of the Mosier Fruit Growers Association, left Sunday for Portland to go from there to Oswego to the home of his uncle, A. King Wilson, a Portland attorney, for a few days' visit. Mr. Wilson has had two offers of pruning jobs and planned on accepting them as they will last for just a few weeks. He then in the latter part of February expects to go back to Yacolt, Wash., where he has been consulting horticulturist for a big orchard company for the past several years. This is the fourth season that he has assisted in the shipping of the Mosier crop of apples. However, Mr. Wilson said that he is also contemplating a two months' visit back to his old home near Baltimore, Maryland, where his parents still reside.

EXPECT FULL APPLE RETURNS FEB. 1
Up to the present time 20 per cent of the returns on apple shipments has been allotted to the local growers by the Mosier Fruit Growers Association. Manager R. D. Chatfield states that by February 1 he hopes to receive the entire amount due, which this year has been delayed on account of car shortages.
The shipping of apples from the local association will be continued, in all probability, for a week at least, as growers are still hauling apples to the warehouse which contains at present nearly 7500 boxes. This week another car of apples for canning was shipped to The Dalles to the Wittenburg-King company. This company is already soliciting business for next year and is endeavoring to secure 5000 tons of apples or approximately 500 carloads. They are also endeavoring to make five year contracts for fruits at good prices and next year are planning on an expansive business.
G. A. Nahstoll, of Washington, D. C., representing the Office of Markets, Department of Agriculture was here this week conferring with the manager of the association regarding a uniform system of records advocated by the government to be used in pooling shipments of fruit.
