There is an ideal in Storekeeping, the following is our motto: "The rendering of good service to our customers—the stocking of quality goods—honesty—courtesy—tact—kindness—all of these to make up the harmonious whole. Help us realize this ideal for 1917. Strauss."
F. C. Sexton, city councilman of The Dalles, and Mrs. Mary Gray of that city, says The Dalles Chronicle, surprised their many friends by uniting in marriage at 4:30 o'clock last Monday morning. They were wedded by the Rev. Nathan Evans at the Methodist parsonage, and went to Portland on the early train.
While attempting to crank the Ford automobile belonging to his father, Leo Nichol last Friday threw his wrist out of joint. Dr. A. Macaron, who happened to be in town, at once pulled the wrist back into place, and it will be necessary now for Leo to wear a bandage for some time to keep the joint from slipping out of place. Clyde Root meanwhile has been assisting in the store of Nichol & Co.
Hans Kollandsrud went to Hood River Friday afternoon where he was joined by Dr. J. M. Waugh and together they left for Spokane, Wn. Dr. Akenbary, a home specialist and surgeon, has been consulted after many recommendations and an operation will be performed on the leg of Mr. Kollandsrud, which was broken last summer. By the use of circular saws a part of the bone higher in his leg will be sawed off and grafted on to the place where the bone refused to knit. Other operations which have proven successful show that the bone will form again where it has been taken out. Mr. Kollandsrud expects to remain in Spokane for at least six weeks.
Bring Christmas Cheer
Don't forget to bring a Christmas offering for the poor Saturday night at the Community Christmas Tree Festival. Bring money if possible. Bring clothing and edible articles neatly packed away and they will be distributed to the needy wherever the committees feel that it would do the most good or wherever the donor may suggest that his offering go.

NEWS NOTES FROM COUNTY AGENT

(By A. R. Chase)
Farmers and their wives who are thinking about going to O. A. C. Farmer's week should get in touch with our office at once. If we can get at least thirty people we will take a special sleeper and side-track near the college. About sixteen of our best farmers have already agreed to go and take the week's course. The college is planning on a series of conventions of grain growers, fruit growers and other specialties, during the week and many farmers will want to take advantage of the extremely low rates that are available. Hundreds of practical farmers and specialists from every community in the Northwest will take the third annual pilgrimage to the college.
From a small box of corn sent to Walla Walla county show through this office, Wasco county boys and farmers received $42 in prize money. The humorous part of the story comes from the fact that we abstracted a little corn from Mr. Herx and Mr. Ireland while they were out in the field and their cash prizes amount to $10 and $5 respectively. Also, one of the boys receiving a $5 prize did not know of our sending in his corn and was surprised to receive the check.
The Dalles Wins, 21 to 11
The Dalles Tigers defeated the Mosier Bull Dogs last Friday night in the basket ball game played in Chown's hall. The local boys held the visitors to a close score during the first half, but the latter were more versatile in shooting baskets and won out by the final score of 21 to 11. The game was rough and hard fought and team work were evident on either side. This however, for the first game of the season was interesting to watch and the spectators seemed satisfied, as the Dalles players were considerably outweighed. Following the game a basket social was held, the visiting players going then to their homes in The Dalles on the evening train. Quite a crowd gathered for the dance held after the game in the building formerly occupied by the Mosier Valley Bank. The dance was arranged hurriedly and for music a phonograph was used.
The line-up of the teams follow: The Dalles O. Bailey r g Philpotts
B. Carroll c Elwood
Cole l f Coryea
R. Depee r f Ford
P. Bailey g Melrod
Jim Carroll, who accompanied the aggregation from The Dalles, alternated with C. Bailey as referee and umpire. Randy Cook was timekeeper, and Harry Wilson, scorekeeper.
The local team is practicing regularly and have several games scheduled to be played during the next two months.
Rights of Way Desired
In order to facilitate immediate construction work should the State Highway Commission decide early next year to open the stretch of the Columbia River Highway between the Mitchells Point tunnel on the Edgar Locke place and the top of Ruthin hill, local citizens are circulating petitions to the county court to have the rights of way between these two points secured. While the reports are not official, Hood River men believe this section of road will receive immediate attention next year.
The survey for the Highway west of town was made in 1914 by Engineer J. A. Elliott, but no rights of way have ever been secured. J. W. Morton, owner of land over which a part of the new route extends, is opposed to the survey, and condemnation proceedings may be necessary.
The Fault of Ridicule
There is no character, however good and fine, but it can be destroyed by ridicule, however poor and witless. Observe the ass, for instance. His character is about perfect, he is the choicest spirit among all the humbler animals, yet see what ridicule has brought him to. Instead of feeling complimented when, we are called an ass we are left in doubt.—Mark Twain.

INSPIRING TALKS AT TEACHERS INSTITUTE

At the local teachers' institute held here Saturday many entertaining as well as profitable talks were made along educational lines. J. P. Mueller, who is a teacher in The Dalles high school gave the opening speech, choosing for his subject "Interest, and How to Arouse It." He cited the many opportunities to arouse the children's interest in the great out-of-doors, among mountains, forests, rivers and in general the study of nature. Singing he recommended to make school life more attractive, and everything should be done by the teachers to harmonize and vitalize the course of study.
Miss Ruth Van Zandt followed with a picture study using the "Angelus" as the basis for her remarks. She assumed that all of her auditors were children and then skillfully questioned them, showing how she would teach the appreciation of pictures. Miss Van Zandt, who is the teacher in the Greenwood school, was highly praised by Clyde T. Bonney, county school superintendent, for her work.
"School Room Decoration" was the topic used by Mrs. Anna T. Lindsey, teacher of the Rowena school, which Mr. Bonney says, is the neatest school room in the county.
Luncheon was served in the school building by the domestic science department of the high school in charge of Miss Dorothy E. Passmore, and consisted of beef and vegetable soup, meat loaf, marmalade, bread and butter, coffee and apple pie.
Miss Alice L. Bennett, at the forenoon session spoke on "Teaching the Forty-Five Combinations," and showed various devices by charts on the blackboard to aid in teaching and to arouse the interest of the primary pupils. The play element is introduced in each device used for the pupils.
Mrs. Margaret Walker showed the methods she used to instruct the pupils to obtain a firm grasp on the memory of the multiplication table.
Miss Grace L. May, of The Dalles, talked on the teaching of geography and reading in the seventh grade. She explained the questioning used to bring out the meaning of the text, and advocated some dramatization.
Luncheon was served in the evening after adjournment. The evening session was held at 7:30 in the Church of Christ.
J. P. Mueller explained the German school system and told how exacting the teachers were of their pupils, aiming always towards increased efficiency. The United States is gradually adopting the German methods, he stated.
Prof. B. A. Berry in speaking of "The School and the Social Life of the Community," maintained that the public schools should articulate with every interest in the community, that the atmosphere of the school room and the teacher should be a leader especially in the rural districts. Prof. Berry contended that the teacher should be interested in the general welfare of the community, should know farming, how to spray for various fruit diseases and in general be a leader among all the people of the community, lending his best efforts to the promotion of progressive ideas for its advancement.
Clyde T. Bonney introduced all the speakers, and in conclusion spoke highly of the work of the Mosier schools and complimented the community on its excellent corps of teachers.
