THE LAND OF LARGE FAMILIES.

In his article on the winter life of the French Canadians in Harper's Howard E. Smith tells of the extraordinary large families of these simple folk.

"Soon the twilight grew to night, and the large lamp on the table cast its orange glow over the room and the long table filled with steaming dishes. 'You have a large family, madam,' I remarked, as they gathered about the table.

"'Out, monsieur, we are sixteen. It is a good gift to la bon Dieu, n'est-ce pas?' she said, turning toward the cure.

"'C'est vrai, mon enfant. It is. There is no better gift than that of another child to his kingdom.'

"I could not but remember that the law has also encouraged large families by passing a bill at Quebec giving ten acres of land to any family having from that time forth twelve or more children, and how in two years the law was repealed because the demand on those ten acre lots was in excess of the supply."

Strawberry Nose.
The most distressing of facial deformities, rhinophyma, which is characterized by a much swollen and reddened tip of the nose, making this look like a huge strawberry or a piece of cauliflower that has been dipped in blue juice, may be cured by a simple operation. Sir William Milligan, of the Royal Infirmary, Manchester, England, describes this in the London Lancet.

The operation consists in cutting off the hypertrophied tissue, while the nasal passages are kept extended with absorbent wool in order to preserve their contour, and in two weeks injury to the lateral cartilages, and only two insignificant blood vessels requiring tying. The raw surface is covered with two thin grafts of skin cut from the patient's thigh, over which a sheet of gold leaf is placed and a dry dressing fastened with adhesive plaster. It should be possible to remove the dressing in five days.

Races Within Races in the Balkans.
Language and religion are not the only basis of the intense subdivision of feeling in the Balkans. The whole region is parcelled out among race fractions, some of which are no larger than a hamlet. Roumanians, Bulgarians, Servians and Greeks have a sharp consciousness of race persistence, and at the same time every state is intent upon breaking up the race units of other peoples which exist within its borders. If Greece were peopled only by Greeks and Bulgaria by Bulgarians and Serbia by Servians, the task would be easier. It is a curse to the peninsula that the villagers have pushed this way and that wherever there was vacant land or wherever they could make a vacancy by driving out the previous holders. The result is the creation of race islands in the midst of angry race seas.—Albert Bushnell Hart in Outlook.

Making the Insects Speak.
In the biographies of the world there is no passage more human and more humorous than the account by M. Fabre of his first interview with Pastear, who had never seen a cocoon and was astonished that there was anything in it. He concludes the account thus: "Encouraged by the magnificent example of the cocoons rattling in Pastear's astonished ears, I have made it my rule to adopt the method of ignorance in my investigations into insects. I read very little. Instead of turning the pages of books, an expensive proceeding quite beyond my means, instead of consulting other people, I persist obstinately in interviewing my subject until I succeed in making him speak."—London Spectator.

Limited Perpetual Motion.
Ambrose Fletcher solved the great problem of perpetual motion the other day, after laboring upon it for many years. It is in the shape of a ball which swings back and forth regularly and tirelessly, being propelled by a sort of clockwork mechanism. There is only one drawback to this solution of the old problem. He has to wind the machinery every eight days. There is always something wrong, isn't there? As soon as Ambrose gets it so it will run without winding he will have the problem definitely solved.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Exactly Alike.
"You ought to be pleased with those rolls, George, dear," said the young wife. "They are exactly like those your mother used to make when you were a boy."

"Of course they are," replied George gallantly. "In fact, I thought at first they were the same ones."

And the stupid creature could not understand why Mrs. George burst into tears!—Richmond Times-Dispatch.

SINNOTT TO DISTRIBUTE VALUABLE SEED

Congressman N. J. Sinnott, has received notice from the Department of Agriculture that he has been allowed a limit number of packages of alfalfa, field pea, millet, sudan grass and white clover seed.

Because of the very limited supply on hand this year the rule has been made that only one package of seeds can be sent in this year, and a package of the seeds should write to Congressman Sinnott for the same at once before the supply is exhausted. The seed will be mailed directly from the Department's warehouse, and will be accompanied by a circular giving full instructions for the culture of the crop. The department has also decided that no seed will be sent out later than March 1.

There has been great difficulty in securing some of the seeds this year, and for that reason only the following number of packages could be allotted to the second district of Oregon: 70 four pound packages of Kansas grown alfalfa seed; 200 four pound packages of improved variety field pea; 50 four pound packages of Kursk millet seed; 100 one pound packages of Sudan grass seed; 40 two pound packages of white clover seed.

Requests will be transmitted to the department by Congressman Sinnott in the order in which they are received. It will be a case of "first come first served" as long as the supply lasts.

Anticipating the usual river freeze up and taking advantage of the opportunity to get their boats in repair, The Dalles, Portland and Astoria Navigation Co., "The Regulator Line," will suspend operations during the months of January and February, 1917.

Balata.
Balata is a substance belonging to the rubber-like products and which is very similar to gutta percha. It is obtained from the milky juice of the "bully tree" (Sapota muelleri belki), found chiefly in the Guitanus and Venezuela.

An Easy Arrangement.
Wife—Am I, then, never to have my way in anything? Husband—Certainly, dear. When we are both agreed you can have your way. When we differ I'll have mine.

Obliging.
"Only give me time, your honor," begged the convicted prisoner.
"All right," replied the judge. "How will ten years suit?"—Baltimore American.

Limited Experience.
Mistress (to new girl)—We entertain a good deal. Have you had much experience at parties? Girl—Only as a guest, mum.—New Haven Register.

Curiosity is looking over other people's affairs and overlooking our own.—Wayland.

HOOD RIVER WANTS DUAL GOVERNMENT

Agitation is now under way in Hood River county that will probably eventually lead to a request from the Legislature, on the part of local people, to change the laws of the state in such wise as to make possible the amalgamation of the governments of the city and county of Hood River. It has been suggested during the past week that local legislative representatives be asked to take the proper steps toward creating the dual form of government. After a deliberation on the matter, however, it has been decided that a too hasty action would render impossible a law adequate in detail to all the demands of the proposed new form of government, and ultimate action will be left for some future Legislature.

The matter has been broached to me," says Geo. R. Wilbur, joint senator elect from Hood River and Wasco counties, "and I must say that, while the idea is in a measure revolutionary, I believe the city and county would gain in economy and efficiency if the two governments were combined. But nothing could be gained by rushing the question into the coming Legislature. As yet we have not had time to know just what we want. It will take some time and earnest study to outline a definite plan of action."

It is further suggested that a commission, composed of representative men of both city and county be appointed to make a study of the governments of cities and counties of San Francisco and Los Angeles, California, and other similar dual governments of eastern states. This commission, if appointed, will be authorized to draft a plan.

The proposed movement meets with general approval by both the residents of City and Valley. The consensus of opinion is that the matter should have thorough investigation.

It is argued that Hood River City and County at large are communities of similar interest. The entire county is small and compact and has the appearance of a town, the population is dense and the property is cut up into small holdings. All conditions, geographic and economic are ideal, it is said, for a common form of government.

It is further declared that the proposed new form of government will result in a great saving in that elections will be eliminated and one set of officers, instead of two, will administer the affairs of both. While the number and designation of new officers of the proposed government have not been named, it has been suggested that the tenure of office should be four years. Under existing laws, the city holds an annual primary and an annual general election, each of which cost approximately $100. The county holds two elections biennially, each costing an approximate $2,000. County officials have warned the people that records are in constant menace from fire because of the poorly constructed vault in the old schoolhouse now used as a courthouse. It is argued that within a few years a creditable, combined city hall and courthouse could be erected from the savings in election cost under the new form of government.

School Children Increase

A census of the school children of Hood River county shows an increase of 50 more than last year, when the number reached 2,095. The greatest increase is shown in the Barrett district, which as a result becomes a second-class district, the only one in the county except that of the city. The Barrett district's school children were increased mainly from the acquisition of territory acquired from the Frankton district.
