VALLEY SAID TO BE SHORT ON MOISTURE

Fruit growers of the valley welcome the recent change in the weather, a lower temperature accompanied by rainfall. The abnormally warm days of two weeks ago, causing a flow of sap and the swelling of buds, created alarm. Growth of fruit trees, however, has been stopped by the intervening cold weather.

The Hood River valley is shy this winter several inches of moisture. With the snowfall in the mountains to the west of the valley negligible, it is feared that irrigation districts supplying the West Side orchards will run short on a water supply before the season of 1917 is ended.

"We need all the rain we can get," says Sam G. Campbell, "and about two feet more of snowfall."

WHY not give your lad the same training?

"When I was a growing lad, and came upon many words in my reading that I did not understand, my mother, instead of giving me the definition when I applied to her, uniformly sent me to the dictionary to learn it, and in this way I gradually learned many things besides the meaning of the individual word in question—among other things, how to use a dictionary, and the great pleasure and advantage there might be in the use of the dictionary. Afterwards, when I went to the village school, my chief diversion, after lessons were learned and before they were reviewed, was in turning over the pages of the 'Unabridged' of those days. Now the most modern Unabridged—the NEW INTERNATIONAL—gives me a pleasure of the same sort. So far as my knowledge extends, it is at present the best of the one-volume dictionaries, and quite sufficient for all ordinary uses. Even those who possess the splendid dictionaries in several volumes will find it a great convenience to have this, which is so compact, so full, and so trustworthy as to leave, in most cases, little to be desired."—Albert S. Cook, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of the English Language and Literature, Yale Univ., April 28, 1911.

FESTIVAL DATES MAY BE CHANGED

An effort is being made by the committee guaranteeing the expenses of the Ellison-White winter festival to advance the scheduled date of this chautauqua course. In a letter received by Prof. B. A. Berry, the dates set by the company were February 13, 14 and 15. A special meeting was held Tuesday in the Mosier Valley Bank, at which time the local committee deemed it advisable to postpone the entertainment until some time between March 1 and March 15, the reason given that during the middle part of February the roads are usually in poor condition, and would hinder a good attendance. It is probable that the roads will be in good shape in March after the rains and snows which have usually passed by that time, enabling people from The Dalles and Hood River to motor to Mosier for the occasion. As soon as the dates are definitely settled a ticket campaign will be launched, and the local committee has guaranteed the sale of 200 season tickets at $1.50 each in order to bring the festival to this city. A movement is now on to use the building at the foot of Center Street as the place for holding the entertainment course.

HUTCHINS DISPLAYS FINE SCENIC VIEWS

C. C. Hutchins, secretary of the White Salmon Commercial club, here Tuesday to exhibit pictures made of the points of scenic attraction in Klickitat county, declares that the system of road markers adopted by Klickitat county will greatly stimulate automobile travel to Trout Lake, Glenwood and other scenic spots of the scenic Mount Adams country the coming summer.

"Heretofore," says Mr. Hutchins, "many travelers have ridden over our roads and have failed to see the finest scenery, although it was accessible. Our new markers, of neat appearance, will line the mainly traveled highways and will direct the tourist to hidden beauty spots a short distance from the chief thoroughfares."

SNOWSHOE CLUB ON ANNUAL OUTING

The following members of the Portland Snowshoe club, en route to their clubhouse near Cloud Creek, arrived at noon Sunday: J. Wesley Ladd, Horace Meeklin, Rodney L. Glisan, Dr. Herbert S. Nichols, Guy W. Talbot, J. H. Smith, R. P. Elinger, Chester H. Murphy, David T. Honeyman, Kurt H. Kooper and C. Hunt Lewis. The recreationists left at three o'clock for Parkdale aboard the rail auto. From Parkdale they traveled by rig to Mount Hood Lodge, going from there Monday to the West Side under the ditch of the Farmers' Irrigating Co. The mountain home of the Portland Snowshoe club has just been enlarged. A system of water works has been installed, and the log building, now almost covered with snow at the mile high altitude, has all the comforts of a well appointed city club.

SNOWSHOERS SEE MOUNTAIN GALE

Members of the Portland Snowshoe club, who traveled six miles Monday on ski and snowshoes from Mount Hood Lodge to the clubhouse at the foot of Elliot glacier, that night experienced one of the severest storms that has prevailed in the high altitudes this winter. A heavy snow fall, which is a heavy snow fall on the mountain.

The mountain home of the Snowshoe Club is built of heavy logs and strong enough to resist the most severe weather.

Western Union Plans to Train Operators

The Western Union Telegraph Company has offered a bonus to about 1,000 manager-operators in small cities and towns for extra junior operator examiners shall enlist and train. This unusual step arises out of the extraordinary growth in the use of the telegraph and the consequent need for complete operators to handle the company's business with the dispatch which its standards require.

Any person—man or woman—over the age of sixteen and with the requisite education and intelligence can become a junior operator. The company provides the necessary instruction free. When the junior grade is reached, employment is assured.

Mrs. Fitzsimmons and Bob May Preach

Bob Fitzsimmons, former heavy weight champion pugilist of the world, is strongly tempted to become an evangelist. As a preliminary he and Mrs. Fitzsimmons, who chanced to meet in Spokane last week after an estrangement of 20 months, reconciled their differences and have about decided to take up evangelistic work together. The ex-champion's wife, a former actress, has been engaged in welfare and rescue work for some time. Fitzsimmons, who is signed up for a theatrical engagement which has 13 weeks to run, exhibited a stack of letters from friends urging him to become an evangelist. One of the writers said that Fitzsimmons was the "kind of hero God could use to work His wonders."

Mrs. Fitzsimmons spent several weeks in Hood River last summer at Was Goin Guin place of Robert Hand.

Mad Coyotes Invald Cram Ranch

Several mad coyotes Monday attacked the dogs and stock on the James Cram ranch a few miles east of Prineville. The Cram's dogs were bitten and will have to be killed.

When the stock was attacked the family living on the ranch attempted to drive off the coyotes but were themselves forced to seek refuge in the house. The family was only temporarily on the ranch, having gone there Sunday after their house was burned on the Douglas Lawson ranch near by. James Cram, a brother of F. A. Cram, is in a Portland hospital under treatment for injuries received a week ago in which he lost an eye.

Notes from the Legislature

Senator Wilbur is chairman of the senate committee on military affairs. He has introduced a number of bills pertaining to Oregon's military organizations. S. B. 119, introduced by him, provides for a new military code, regulating and providing for more efficient organization and discipline of organized militia in the state of Oregon. Senator Wilbur is preparing a joint memorial to be presented to the senate and house, calling on congress for the immediate passage of a national law for universal military training.

Emerson Bill Alarms

The Emerson bill, now before congress, by its general provisions will limit the period of cold storage for food commodities to three months. Fruit growers of the Northwest, fearing that the regulations may be applied to apples, are protesting strongly against the proposed measure. The Hood River Fruit Growers' Exchange has sent protests to Oregon's congressional delegation.

Cooper's Spur Road IS IN LITIGATION

Although funds to a considerable extent have been spent in grading the new road planned to connect Upper Valley highways with the snowfields on Mount Hood at the foot of Cooper's Spur, completion of the new route may be delayed because of litigation over about a mile of right of way. A suit having been brought by E. H. Hartwig on behalf of L. B. Thomas and F. L. Rosenbrough, Circuit Judge Bradshaw has granted a writ of review in the matter of opening the new road.

The road was endorsed by the Upper Valley grants and funds for its construction were subscribed liberally by local business men. County Commissioner Hannum was one of the chief promoters of the mountain highway.

Hood River Farmers Donate Road Work

With a number of the orchardists of the East Side putting their wagons and teams at the disposal of county officials County Judge. Howlers is expecting that considerable road improvement will be accomplished in the thickly populated orchard district before the opening of spring weather, when the time of orchardists will be demanded in the application of spray.

The rock crusher of the East Side has been put to work to supply the public-spirited fruit growers with material for their work.

This Means You

The Church of Christ plans to dig down the embankment alongside the north side of the church building. The plan is to get as many volunteers as possible and complete the labor in one day. The day set aside for this purpose is Monday, January 29. Put on your old clothes and lend a hand. Come early.

Will Open Garage Soon

Donald Littlepage and Leo Nichol have formed a partnership and will enter into the garage business. They have rented the building belonging to J. K. McGregor which was formerly used as a real estate office and also occupied by the Mosier Bulletin. These two enterprising young men have been in Hood River at The Dalles making negotiations for supplies and have purchased a Ford automobile from the Walther-Fordams company. They are planning a trip to Portland soon to purchase the necessary garage equipment. A gasoline filling station will also be installed. The building will be altered somewhat and Messrs. Littlepage and Nichol expect to have a full equipment to turn out first class work, carrying also a good line of supplies, and will probably open their establishment in a month.
