MODERN CORPORATIONS NOT SOULLESS

Affairs in some of the war-torn nations today would hardly warrant the general statement that the world is growing better, and yet normally there is evidence that it is. Two hundred and fifty thousand workmen employed in American industries have had their lives insured by their employers. This represents insurance policies to the total amount of about $250,000,000. The premiums on these insurance policies are paid by the companies for which the men work. This system of insurance for employees, paid for and maintained by the employers, has been growing over a period of about five years, but has attracted little public attention. The whole subject was forced to the front the first of the year by the action of the board of directors of the Union Pacific system, which took out insurance policies covering every one of its employees from 16 to 70 years of age who have been in service one year or longer and who are not receiving more than $4,000 a year in salary.

This one instance means an insurance policy of $30,000,000 and includes some 30,000 employees at work on 8,000 miles of railway. Men and women are included, the office boy as well as the unskilled laborer. There was no explanation, notwithstanding the fact that on the first of the year the Union Pacific system had more than two hundred men in its employ who were 65 years of age and over. No distinction was made between the clerk in the general office and the men employed in hazardous occupations, nor between union and non-union employees.

I Didn't Raise My Boy to Be a Piker

Oh, I didn't raise my boy to be a piker, The kind who waits for dad to till the dirt, And lets the other fellow do the fighting, And hides himself behind his mammy's skirt. ### Communication

Editor Bulletin: In last week's issue of the Bulletin a copy of my complaint to the Public Service Commission against the Mosier Valley Telephone Co. was published; also an item followed stating that E. A. Race would defend the interests of the company, a commendable thing to do, for had that policy been pursued, this action would not have been necessary. It should be thoroughly understood that the signers of said complaint are all stockholders in the company, who have bought and paid for their stock, and for that one reason, if for no other, wish to see the company prosper.

The complaint was filed for the sole purpose of having the rates equitably adjusted and it is hard to understand why anyone should object to an investigation insuring justice and fairness to all parties concerned. Equality is one of the strongest principals upon which our government is founded and all good American citizens demand it. C. J. Littlepage.
