MEMORIAL TRIBUTE PAID DECEASED JURIST

(From the Hood River Glacier)

"The shadow of a deep personal loss is resting on all of us," were the opening words Thursday afternoon of Judge Fred W. Wilson, of The Dalles, who presided at the memorial meeting of the local bar to the late W. L. Bradshaw, of The Dalles, who passed away suddenly in Portland week before last.

Continuing, Judge Wilson, who was appointed by Governor Whitcomb to succeed Judge Bradshaw, called the attention of the assembled members of the bar and the numerous citizens of town and valley to the historic significance of the passing of the beloved jurist.

"When Judge Bradshaw 25 years ago took his seat," said Judge Wilson, "it was necessary to reach the county seats of the different counties by stage coach. The court houses, now commodious structures, were then ill arranged and small. Today the court centers may be reached by train and the eastern Oregon country has developed wonderfully."

A memorial resolution, presented by District Attorney Derby, was adopted. A touching tribute was paid to the memory of Judge Bradshaw by E. L. Smith, who also eulogized the parents of Judge Bradshaw's successor, who he declared came from a noble parentage. Judge Wilson's father, Joseph G. Wilson, served as a member of congress and was also on the bench to which his son has succeeded. Judge Wilson's mother was a pioneer teacher of Oregon, having taught at Willamette valley points while Oregon was still a territory.

Brief talks were made by the following attorneys: John Baker, E. H. Hartwig, E. C. Smith and J. H. Hazlett. Mr. Baker was so overcome with grief that he broke down with weeping in the midst of his speech. Judge R. C. Glanville, formerly of the supreme court of Nebraska who has resided for the past several years on a local orchard, and Truman Butler, who was a jurist of The Dalles, paid a few brief words of tribute to Judge Bradshaw.

During the course of the memorial meeting the bell over the city hall was tolled. The chair that Judge Bradshaw occupied while holding court here was in the court room, a bow of crepe on its back.

The memorial resolution adopted follows: "The time has come when the attorney of this bar are called upon to express their deep sorrow at the death of our beloved friend and judge, William L. Bradshaw. We realize that at such a time words are of little avail in evidencing the emotions with which our hearts are filled. His life has closed untimely. His work and his wisdom are perpetuated in the written records of the law for more than 25 years, but written larger in the hearts of those who knew and loved him for his genial kindness and humanity. His rugged character, his innate honesty and ever present desire for justice made association with him a privilege and a pleasure which cannot be written except in terms of loving memory."

KNIGHTS OF THE FIERY CROSS EXPOSED

Nickel In Soapmaking. It will probably be news to the average abolitionist that the metal nickel is used in making his soap. And further, perhaps, he will be glad to learn that although the nickel, finely ground, is mixed with the other soap ingredients the finished product contains none of it. This is so because the nickel acts as a catalyst, that is, its presence causes certain desirable changes to occur, although it takes no part in the chemical reaction. Offensive oils and those too thin for satisfactory use when mixed with finely divided nickel and subjected to the action of a current of hydrogen become deodorized and harder and suitable for the soapmaker's use. Cottonseed oil, for example, after the nickel-hydrogen treatment, makes a satisfactory soap.—Pittsburgh Press.

Elephant Skin. Elephant skin is beautiful and durable, but it is very hard to get. The price of a live elephant is large, and a leather manufacturer who promised to provide a number of elephant skin bags at short order would find himself facing a big problem. Almost all elephants, after they die, fall into the hands of the leather manufacturers, or else they are stuffed and put in museums.

Office of Sheriff's Sale

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for Wasco County, Edward M. Strauss, plaintiff, vs. Henry C. Gordon and Mary A. Gordon, formerly husband and wife, Defendants.

By virtue of the execution, judgment, order and decree of sale issued out of the above entitled court in the above cause, to be directed and dated this 27th day of May, 1917, on a judgment rendered and entered in said cause, on the 31st day of May, 1917, in favor of the plaintiff, and against all of the above named defendants, enforcing the mortgage in the complaint described and against said defendant, Henry C. Gordon, for the sum of $1,000.00, with interest thereon at the rate of eight per cent per annum from May 29th, 1917, until paid, and the further sum of $20.00 as attorney's fees, and the further sum of $21.75 costs and disbursements, and the costs of and upon this writ, commanding me to make sale of the following described real property, to-wit: The Northwest quarter of the Southeast quarter of Section 34 (1) in Township One (1) North of Range Three (3) East of W. H. Meridian, in Wasco County, State of Oregon.

Now, therefore, by virtue of said execution, judgment, order, decree and order of sale, and in compliance with said writ, I will on the 28th day of July, 1917, at the hour of two o'clock p. m., at the front door of the court house in Dalles City, Wasco County, Oregon, sell at public auction to the highest bidder for cash in hand, all the right, title and interest of the above named defendants, and each of them, to satisfy said execution, judgment and decree.

Done this 27th day of June, 1917. LEVI CARLISMAN, Sheriff of Wasco County, Oregon. By Pearl Jarvis, Deputy.

C. B. Compton, of Dee, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Kuhn on a tour of the coast. He is a member of the Red Cross in my home. I send a letter to Japanese newspaper in Portland to give it the Japanese in Hood River. I tried to get $200 more money than which they are willing to pay Red Cross.

I think I will succeed for this, hope so anyway. My letter on the paper I send you under separate cover, a part is as follows:

I see the news that you each family one crate strawberries to pay to Red Cross with loyalty to U. S. A., and it will be about $1.00. I think that is too little. Just think, American soldier to the front now, they are fighting for you too. You got several hundreds to several thousands crates each family in one season. When soldier got hurt do you think you send only one when you got the crates? Do you think this is Japanese spirit? I certainly say not. I am a renter of farm and poor too, but I put my two little daughters for life member and my wife will join this month too. Now is first chance to work for U. S. A. that we owe very much. They paying their blood for the country. We can pay only one crate of berries? I want you not forget your name and your old country's name. Make it two crates and add two boxes apples which you get this fall. Hood River banker will be glad to loan money to you until apples harvest. Rise of sum $1000. Don't think you have done good things after you get $1,000 to Red Cross. You just did a part of which you ought to do for the country. I hope you think over again and make it right.

Emil Washington Straus, of Chicago, is a guest at Mayerdale. Mr. Straus says that he brought with him a ten pound box of chocolates for the children of Mrs. B. J. Weller, but that he left it on the train in the rack above his seat. Mr. Mayer, who telegraphed to The Dalles to locate the missing package, declares that he doubts the philanthropic spirit of his friend, when the toothsome articles could not be found.

The Union Pacific System has just issued a folder map of the United States, a copy of which arrived yesterday at the desk of The Mosier Bulletin, which on account of its convenient nature, is being distributed in this particular time of unusual value to the public. Families living in the Grandview district took their lunches and journeyed Wednesday to a spot in the woods on the place of Albert Medenwald where they enjoyed the Fourth with a good old-fashioned picnic. The tables and benches which were erected last year for the same occasion were still in place. Among the families who participated in the outing were Eastman, Parsley, Sheldon, Clement, Littlepage, Miss Hargreaves, Cummings and Simmons.

W. M. Terrill has been here for the past few days for a visit to his ranch and to take a short rest over the Fourth. He has been employed at Skamakawa in the logging camps of the Alger Logging company which he has been logging in that vicinity. Mr. Terrill expects to return the first of the week. He states that wages are good and the demand for lumber has never been so great. Spruce is being logged there, some of the trees being 11 feet thick at the base. The spruce is in high demand now for material for aeroplanes. Beams for ships and other timbers and lumber for the many ships under construction on this coast, is being logged, he says. Rain has been prevalent in that vicinity along the coast, about 15 miles from Astoria. During the winter months Mr. Terrill returns to his ranch south of town.
