To the Guarantors. Every person who has affixed his name to the subscription guarantee should not lose a moment in securing every subscriber possible as the time is now ripe for this work and every day lost is so much time lost in the cause, and subscriptions will be only that much more difficult to secure. Organization has been effected and a president, secretary and treasurer elected, so send in names to them as fast as they are secured, accompanied by the money in every possible instance.

To Old Subscribers. Persons wishing to discontinue their subscription to this paper may do so by paying up all arrears, but with that in case we must comply with the law, which says: "No paper shall be stopped with subscription unpaid."

Subscription Price. The subscription price to this paper has been reduced to $1.50 per year if paid in advance; otherwise it will be charged. The price being so low we must do this to protect ourselves. Observe this does not extend to those having to do with our guarantors.

MEDFORD, FRIDAY, JUNE 17, 1932.

At the election in Jackson county the republicans elected the clerk, one representative and the surveyor and the republican congressman and member of board of equalization and district judge received pluralities; the democrats got the rest of the ticket. The People's party didn't elect any of their candidates, but they are in it just the same and will come out in next time.

The national convention of the People's Party will be held in the city of Omaha, Neb., on July 4. Each congressional district in the United States is entitled to send four delegates and each state to send eight delegates at large, making a total delegate body of 1776. Among the prominent People's Party men mentioned for president are Gen. Jas. B. Weaver of Iowa; and Mr. Ignatius Donnelly, of Minnesota.

BLAINE wasn't in it at the republican convention at Minneapolis. President Harrison was renominated for president on the first ballot and White-law Reid for vice president. The platform is the same old rehash about the country's prosperity, owing to protection, etc. The silver plank knocks free silver in the head as far as the republicans are concerned, and the prospects are that the democrats will do the same thing.

It is the death of the 11th inst. at Washington of Col. L. L. Polk, president of the National Farmers' Alliance and prominent in People's party circles, these organizations are losers beyond calculation, and the sorrow felt at the sudden demise of this great and good man was deep and universal. The Colonel would more than likely have been the nominee for president by the People's party at Omaha, but as the grim destroyer has claimed him, the people must look to another as their standard bearer.

The following is clipped from the Portland Telegram: "We fear that the Chicago convention will be a struggle over the financial question, the same as the Minneapolis convention has done. And in the meantime the third party is getting votes, tens, hundreds, thousands. In a few years it will be millions, unless the democratic party plucks up the courage of its convictions and quits worshipping at the shrine of the Goolds, the Vanderbilts and the Carnegies. The democratic party needs no more Paynes or Bryces. They do it more harm than good."

THE dispatches have it that since the death of Col. L. L. Polk a new plan has developed in Omaha which seems to meet with favor among the third party in that section. It is proposed to nominate United States Senator Stewart, of Nevada, for president, and Watson, representative in congress from, for vice president. We opine that Stewart will never be nominated, as in our opinion he is by no means the man for the place. His silver views may coincide with those of the People's party, but he is purely selfish in that respect, as his whole interests are in silver mines in Nevada, and as a natural result he is fighting for free silver otherwise Senator Stewart has nothing in common with the Alliance or People's party.

As the Oregonian has estimated the People's party vote in the state at 15,000, we are safe in saying it will reach 18,000, only 3,000 less than one-third of the entire state vote, putting that at 63,000, which is correct, we believe. At this rate it is certainly not unreasonable to say that the People's party have a very good show to carry the state this fall, if it gains in strength in the next three months as much as it has in the last three. At least Oregon is now a doubtful state instead of a sure republican as heretofore.

EVEN in the far south there is a demand for municipal reform. The officials of Atlanta recently borrowed at 4 1/2 per cent $100,000 more than they needed. They loaned this sum to a local bank at 3 per cent. A little later they borrowed it back from the bank at 5 per cent. This system of financing was too loose to escape notice, and now the officials are busy making explanations that do not explain. It was a newspaper that exposed the job, and though several of the men implicated have quit taking the paper, it is coming out right along.

In another column will be found the tabulating official count for Jackson county, with the total vote received by each candidate and the plurality received by the candidates elected. Also we publish the precinct officers elected. The official returns are worth preserving, that comparisons may be made at the next election, although we here predict that at the county election two years hence, the People's party will certainly carry everything. As it is, the People's party polled 75 votes, at this election in the county, out of a total of 2,700 votes. That this is a marvelously good showing is conceded by everybody, and as the party becomes settled to business, fully one-third more votes will be drawn to it and that means a sweeping victory.

ALMOST daily the Oregonian devotes considerable editorial space to suggesting who the People's party should nominate for president, and on that line it has boomed Governor Pennoyer for that place ever since he declared in favor of the third party. Some other papers in the east have taken up the refrain from the Oregonian and are suggesting who the People's party shall name. These papers might as well save their space, for their suggestions fall flat, and far from being heeded, the convention at Omaha will steer clear of any material so far put up by the monopoly press for presidential timber on the People's party ticket. The third party understands its business, and Pennoyer or Stewart have no more show of being nominated for president than Harvey Scott himself.

WHAT THEY SAY. The People's Party cast over 15,000 votes in Oregon last Monday. As the West Side said of Mrs. Lasso's speech here, "she made the old parties wince," so those votes last Monday have caused a deep concern to congressmen of the republicans and democrats. The Oregonian said editorially yesterday: "Altogether the result is one of which, if not forestalling the dissolution of parties, shows that the foundations of parties are profoundly shaken." Just what we have believed for some time.—Independence West Side.

The People's Party has developed a surprising amount of strength in this election, and shows the effect of the campaign of education that has been carried on by them for the last few years. That party has been forced into existence by the defects of other parties, and is composed in the main of honest, hard-working people, and they stand upon a platform of principles that their opponents may ridicule, but severely dare to meet in open debate, and the more these principles become known the greater the strength of the party will be.—Gervais Star.

The politicians who were ridiculing the People's Party are surprised at the size of its vote. The Telegram insisted all along that the third-party vote would be an important factor. It got its strength from the failure of the democratic convention to incorporate a silver plank in the platform. Otherwise the bulk of that vote would have gone for the democratic ticket, and we would have been 10,000 votes ahead.—Portland Telegram.

L. L. Polk Resolution. At the last regular meeting of L. L. Polk Alliance in Medford, a committee was appointed and ordered to draft a resolution taking proper notice of the death of President L. L. Polk and condoling with the bereaved widow and children. The following is the result of the committee's work:

WHEREAS, It has pleased the All Wise God, the dispenser of all good, to call home our beloved brother, L. L. Polk, to that higher realm where mortals never dwell, where there is no more weeping, no sorrow or pain; he has crossed the line to the bourne upon whose borders he may exultantly stand and bid the world, war and strife, happy and eternal adieu. But remaining here we deplore the loss of one whose pleasure it was to direct the unhappy to that exit gate to the higher kingdom; Therefore be it

Reunion to be Held at Ashland. The committee, consisting of Jas. Norris, C. R. LaValley and T. E. Hills, Ashland; J. H. Hyzer, Abe Axile and J. E. Peterson, Grants Pass; J. M. Gibson, Central Point; J. H. Paris and J. R. Erford, Medford, appointed to select a place to hold a reunion of the colored and sailors, met in this city Wednesday and organized by electing J. H. Paris president, and J. E. Peterson secretary. It was decided to hold the reunion at Ashland, commencing September 13 and continuing for three days, that place offering the best inducement and agreeing to furnish tents, wood and straw for the beds, etc. The fine grove and the excellent has been secured for the encampment purposes, and the brave old boys can't help but have a good jolly time, for the whole soul, big hearted people of Ashland know how to make it pleasant for visitors and have them feel at home.

Startling News. For bargains in boots and shoes and footwear of all kinds, apply at NEW YORK CHEAP CASH STORE, Cooper Block.

Our Constituency. We take this occasion to thank our constituency for their loyalty and devotion to our cause of reform. You are worthy sons of worthy sires. You have fought and won many victories. We have fought the battle for principle. The offices were only a secondary consideration. We have failed to reach the offices, through which the needed reforms could be brought about, but we have shown our colors and maintained our principles by standing by our colors. Deserters could be counted on the fingers of one hand.

Parasols! Parasols! Parasols! A fine variety and latest styles and handles. On account of the late arrival of parasols, I am offering them at a great reduction. NEW YORK CHEAP CASH STORE, Cooper Block.

Palo Alto Stock Farm. Home of Super. 2,081; Palo Alto, 2,081; Arica, 2,074; Bell Bird, 2,074. Chas. Marvin writes under date of January 24, 1931, he found by feeding the Red Bull Brand Manhattan Food to the horses under his charge, that it proved to be as represented. Also Mr. Wm. Corbett of the San Mateo Stock Farm, San Gabriel, J. A. Goldsmith, B. C. Holly and others speak in the highest terms of it. This food is just the thing to prepare colts for circuit; they mature more rapidly and it keeps them in splendid spirits. For a horse of his feed, or one run down, it is highly beneficial. This is the only stock food which ever received medals at Sacramento State Fair 1891, Stockton Fair 1891, San Francisco 1892. The foremost veterinary surgeons of California feed and recommend it, viz: C. Masoro, E. J. Creely, P. Burns, W. F. Egan. This food contains no antimony or any other mineral or poisonous herbs. The Red Bull Brand Manhattan Food is likewise reliable; the largest poultry raisers on the coast prefer it to all others.

Practical Savings. If the oven should be too hot at any time, place a pan filled with water in it, and the heat will be lessened. To test the freshness of eggs, drop them into a dish of water, and if the small end comes to the top they are fresh. To make pies or biscuit a nice color, moisten the top of them with a little sweet milk before they are put into the oven, and they will be lovelier.

For iron rust, lay in kerosene oil and let it remain covered for some time. The oil will loosen the rust so that it will come off. A tablespoonful of powdered borax dissolved in the bath will prove very invigorating, as it will soften the water so that it will feel like velvet.

To take oil out of carpets or woodens, put on buckwheat flour, and brush it off very carefully into a dustpan. Keep on applying till all the grease has been absorbed.

Marion Harland's Opinion. Readers of the MAIL are familiar not only with the sprightly writings of Marion Harland, but also with her sound common sense upon matters of every day life and action. Her name, indeed, is a household word, and is equally well known in parlor and kitchen. Her celebrated cook book "Common Sense in the Household," is without a peer and shows that she has made a careful study of how to prepare good, wholesome food in the best manner by the best materials. In this issue we produce a fac simile letter from Marion Harland that speaks from her experience in the highest terms of the unequalled qualities of the Royal Baking Powder. Housewives everywhere should read the opinion of such an expert and act accordingly. All good cooks, who have used the Royal, are of the same opinion also.

Listen to a Tale of Woe. Some busy bees in a garden flew, Listen to a tale of woe, Till spied by Grove, and Benjamin, From the flowers honey drew, And grew, and grew, Listen to a tale of woe.

Chorus—Hard trials for them two, Harrison and Cleveland too, Over the bees who the honey drew, Listen to a tale of woe.

These little bees who honey stored, Listen to a tale of woe, Were robbed by drones of their juicy hoard, And right aloud in anger roared, Ignored, ignored, Listen to a tale of woe.

For bees, like men who money make, Listen to a tale of woe, Object when drones the honey take, And raise a row for justice' sake, And shake, and shake, Listen to a tale of woe.

When Ben and Grove to the bees appeal, Listen to a tale of woe, A stinging answer both will feel, And in despair will gently kneel, And squeal, and squeal, Listen to a tale of woe.

Under the sod where the daisies blow, Listen to a tale of woe, We'll plant our Ben and Grove so, That neither one will longer grow, You know, you know, Listen to a tale of woe.

And you who these opinions vote, Listen to a tale of woe, Don't stop when they you sing or quote, And on the tide of leisure float, But vote, but vote, Listen to a tale of woe.
