To The Guarantors. Every person who has signed his name to the subscription guarantor should not lose a moment in securing every subscriber possible as the time is now ripe for this work and every day lost is so much time lost in the cause, and subscriptions will be only that much more difficult to secure.

To Old Subscribers.

Persons wishing to discontinue their subscription to this paper may do so by paying up all arrears, but until that is done we must comply with the law, which says: "No paper shall be stopped with subscription unpaid."

Subscription Price.

The subscription price to this paper has been reduced to $3.00 per year if paid in advance; otherwise it will be charged. The price being so low we must do this to protect ourselves, of course this does not pertain to those having to do with our guarantors.

NATIONAL PLATFORM.

PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Declaration of Principles.

While our sympathies are for a party of reform we are naturally upon the side of every proposition which will tend to make men intelligent, virtuous and temperate. We are not interested in these questions, important as they are, as a party to the great issues now pressing for solution, and upon which our individual and corporate interests are so vitally affected.

Platform Planks.

First—We demand a national currency, safe, sound and flexible, issued by the general government only, a full legal tender for all debts, public and private, and that without the use of banking corporations, a just, equitable and efficient means of distribution direct to the people, at a tax not exceeding 2 per cent on the value of the currency.

Supplement to the Platform.

First—Resolved, That we demand a free ballot and a fair count in all elections and pledge ourselves to secure an every legal vote without federal intervention, through the adoption of the plan by the station of the unperjured Austroriparian secret ballot.

THE ALLIANCE AND POLITICS.

It is always a difficult matter to keep any organization quiet during a campaign. No matter what its nature some of the members feel that because they happen to think a certain way or favor a certain party that all the members should think and act just as he does.

DEFEATED.

WASHINGTON, July 13.—The free coinage bill has been defeated.

The names Weaver and Field are music to the ears of labor.

Does protection protect the laboring classes? Ask the locked-out iron workers of Pennsylvania.

Do this first—study the People's Party platform—and then vote for Weaver and Field, the standard bearers.

Don't miss "S. D.'s" communication this week. He does "J. D. W." to a turn and gives our local millers a pointer on corners and tariffs.

Here's a problem for you: Add together our $12,350,575,000 farm mortgages and the boasted prosperity of the country and give us the result. "Lay on Macduff."

We deery bloodshed at all times, but when capital hires Pinkerton thugs to shoot down the laborer, we think it is time something was done to change the existing state of affairs.

Within the week the militia of two states, Pennsylvania and Idaho, have been called out to maintain peace between labor and capital. It will ever be thus until the just demands of labor are accorded a speedy hearing.

Supplement to the People's Party national platform. "Resolved—That we pledge our support to fair and liberal pensions to ex-union soldiers and sailors."

That is a good resolution and will receive a liberal support.

We read that in America the average size of families is steadily decreasing. The average in now 4.94 while in 1850 it was 5.50.

This is as it should be and the decrease should be more apparent until such time as a new state of things can be brought about by reform. One way to have less tramps is to shut on the kids.

In another column we give extracts from an account of the People's Party convention for the state of Kansas, held at Wichita on the 15th 16th and 17 of June. Read it; read it and tell us the war is not ended. What a sight it must have been to see 274 old ex-union soldiers bound to their feet with right hands raised ("or in the absence of right hands, the left one was drafted into service,") eagerly leaning forward to second the nomination of an ex-confederate soldier, for congressman at large. Col. W. A. Harris, of Leavenworth county an ex-confederate officer and once a member of Gen. R. E. Lee's staff, was thus nominated by acclamation.

THE ALLIANCE AND POLITICS.

It is always a difficult matter to keep any organization quiet during a campaign. No matter what its nature some of the members feel that because they happen to think a certain way or favor a certain party that all the members should think and act just as he does.

Politics are even carried into churches, and the members of a church think all the male members should vote for a certain party or candidate. All this is more or less unfortunate. Everybody cannot think alike. We should not expect it. This paper has repeatedly made suggestions along this line, and as the approaching campaign warns up, a good deal of caution will be necessary.

The number of people who think the Alliance should become a political party is small. But there are quite a number who think it should vote solidly with the People's Party. Still another large crowd think every Allianceman should vote the democratic ticket. Not a few think the same in regard to the republican ticket. This feeling is not confined to Alliance membership.

We will not attempt to indicate how any man shall vote, but taking the constitution as a guide, will try to define its meaning; Alliance membership should not interfere with your political or religious views. That is plain to all. The constitution says that partisan politics must not be discussed in Alliance meetings. That should be sufficient to keep out all partisanship, and every president should see to it that partisan stuff is not brought in a meeting. No president who does his duty will permit it.

As an educational organization alliance speakers and organs have urged its members to stand by their principles and vote only for men and parties that agree to carry out the same. This is the only way they can do and there can be no reasonable objection to such a course.

The only safe course to pursue is to educate the people, keep them informed, and then they are likely to vote intelligently. Above all things keep partisanship out of the order. Presidents can do this if they will. They must if they mean to do right. The enemies of the order would be glad to see it disrupted by partisanship. Above all things they would like to see the alliance emerge into a party. They would then have a picnic. It would lose all that has been gained and would have no further influence as an educational organization. Be cool, be conservative. Keep your eyes open and be ready to act the best way at the proper time. Don't let partisanship drown out everything else. Let the organization be first, parties second. Don't let party or neighborhood differences estrange you.

With continued cool, partly cloudy weather, and no rain falling, the wheat crop, while not an average, will be fair; with good rains the yield will be very good.

Master vs. Man.

WALLACE, Idaho, July 11.—The labor trouble in Coeur d'Alene continued early this morning in a fight at Gem between the union and non-union miners, when a number on both sides were killed. The ill-feeling existing between the two parties has been increased, when, Saturday night, non-union men came to Gem, became intoxicated and got into a fight with union men and were badly hurt. A friend of a non-union miner, who took up the fight, and his tools, were quite seriously injured. From this affair open hostilities began between the union and non-union men. About 100 union miners from Mullan and about 400 from Burke went down to Gem and surrounded the town. They were nearly all armed. The excitement was intense. Most of the women and children were sent to Burke and Wallace last night. Both the Gem and Frisco mines were guarded by men behind barricades, armed with Winchester, and as the cañon is narrow where the mines are located, the men behind the barricades could sweep the two railroad tracks and the town of Gem with their rifles. The mine is within 300 feet of the center of the town of Gem. This morning after 5 o'clock a miner from Gem started for Burke, and when opposite the Frisco mine he was fired upon. He ran back to Gem, several hundred yards, where the shot was heard, and soon the miners in town gathered with arms. They marched in a body toward the Frisco mill, located directly in front of the mine. When they were within 100 yards a volley from the Frisco mill greeted the miners and led whistled all about them. They scattered and a regular battle ensued.

DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder. Used in Millions of Homes—40 Years the Standard.

People of Homestead Satisfied.

NEW YORK, July 12.—The World this morning prints a dispatch from Hugh O'Donnell, leader of the strikers at Homestead, Pa., in which he says: "The advent of the troops of the National Guard is received by the people of Homestead in the light of a vindication of our attitude in the struggle between master and man. The fact that Governor Pattison chose as the time to call out the troops when Homestead has never been quieter, when the struggle of Wednesday had left no impression upon the town save in desolated homes and houses where physicians and nurses are caring for our wounded companions, shows that it was not considered needful to keep Homestead citizens from breaking the law by force of arms, but rather that the state feels called upon to protect us in our rights. We believe that the militia of the great Commonwealth is here to prevent a repetition of last Wednesday's cowardly attack upon honest workmen by hired assassins. We welcome the troops, and we are content to await the outcome of our present trouble under the shield of Pennsylvania and the glorious stars and stripes, as we awaited it before. Our citizens are thoroughly organized, our police force is strengthened, and every man in Homestead is a self-conscious preserver of order and of the rights of person and property in our town."
