The Peoples' Party is some "shucks" in the South. A strip of corn shuck in the button hole is the new badge at the political revival meetings there.

If the cholera expects to create any fear down in Texas, it has made a grand mistake. The Peoples' Party occupies the entire attention of the Democrats, and they have no time for trifles.

The Democratic National Committee says in the N. Y. World that it had every reason to expect the same encouragement in Georgia that it has received in Arkansas and Alabama. The committee ought to know what it expects. Its campaign fund, contributed by its corporation representatives, is large enough to warrant the realization of its expectations.

WHAT has Cleveland been doing since he was discharged as president of the United States? Employed by a firm of corporation attorneys at a salary of $50,000 a year. Its members are interested in various syndicates, and this is where Whitney comes in. The expenses incurred in nominating Cleveland at Chicago are nominal compared with the benefits they will derive if he is elected.

FIGURING on the electoral college is a favorite theme for the old party papers. Each one requires about two columns of space to prove that the other fellow isn't in it, while possibly their favorite is winner. In the meantime the Peoples' Party will take at least 100 out of the 444, and if either of the other parties get 223 out of the 344 that is left, it will be because Alabama and Arkansas methods are adopted.

U. S. SENATOR MILLS has been campaigning in Texas a few weeks and the sights he has seen and the sounds he has heard has aged him beyond the point of recuperation. He now declines to be a candidate for senator in the legislature which Texas will elect this fall. He knows what the complexion of that legislature will be. What better evidence can we have that there is a great political revolution in the South?

A CORRESPONDENT asks, "Where are they at, in Alabama, on election figures by the last return?" The latest we have seen was the "true results" published in the Herald of Montgomery in that state. It there appeared that Kolb carried 57 out of 66 counties, with majorities ranging from 46 to 3000, or a total of 51,012. In the other nine counties, Jones figures out a total that gives him a majority, and claims the state went Democratic.

The Peoples' Party is the only party which champions the rights of the people. It is pledged to their interests and is in opposition to corporate monopoly in every form. Its platform has no uncertain sound and has the same meaning in every part of the union. Its candidates are men of high character, fully qualified to conduct an administration that shall result in national prosperity. It is entitled to the vote of every American citizen who wants to see the government administered in an economical, fearless and impartial manner.

"The Republican party is the party of plutocracy. It champions the few and oppresses the many, who in return for favors rendered are only too glad to give every financial assistance to a party that, retained in power, will enable them to still further augment their dishonestly gained millions." So says the N. Y. World in its issue of September 19th. A Republican paper would substitute the word "Democratic" for the word "Republican" in the first line and then it would be good Republican doctrine. Both are correct as judged by the Peoples' Party.

Weaver Rally. There will be a grand Weaver Rally at Missouri Flat on October 22, with basket dinner, given under the auspices of Missouri Flat Alliance No. 211. S. H. Holt and other prominent speakers will be present. All are invited. J. F. WISNER, Sec'y.

Very Probable. CHICAGO, Oct. 10.—A morning paper says the attempt was made by the local democratic executive committee to bribe a messenger of the Peoples' party not to take his party's nomination papers in this state to Springfield, and so prevent their being printed in the official ballots. The sum alleged to be agreed upon was $3000. At the last moment the messenger was changed and the plan fell through.

Minnesota Fusion. ST. PAUL, Minn., Oct. 10.—The democratic state central committee this afternoon withdrew the names of D. R. Hibbs, A. L. Sackett and James Brown from the electoral ticket, and endorsed in their respective places William Meighen, James Dillon and A. L. Stromberg, the populists' candidates. They also endorsed A. H. Hallway, of the Peoples' party. In place of John C. Oswald, who resigned some time ago.

Club Picnic. The Peoples' party club gave a picnic at Soda Springs school house near Shepard's place, Sunday week. Quite a large number went up from Ashland and Talent, and about 200 were reported present, all told. Jas. G. Clark was present and recited some entertaining poems. Ira Wakefield was there and delivered a fine speech, and W. H. Breese of Talent and Miss Colby, of Ashland, helped to entertain the crowd. A dinner, free for all, was served and a general good time is reported.

WEAVER AT PULASKI. He Denies the Charges Against His Conduct During the War. NASHVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 8.—General James B. Weaver spoke at Pulaski today, despite the rumor he would be badly treated for his alleged tyrannies in that section during the war. The men who made affidavits of his cruelty remained away from the fairground, where General Weaver spoke, and it is thought by some that they started the trouble. About 1000 people met the train on which Weaver arrived. A procession was formed of 1,370 people, led by a band. General Weaver rode in a carriage with Mrs. Lense and John H. McDowell, a Peoples' party elector. By actual count 3,250 people passed in the gates. Perfect order prevailed during the entire day and during the speaking. General Weaver, in the course of his speech, referred to the charges made against him as commander at Pulaski during the war. He declared nothing done by him here was other than in accordance with the duty of a military commander in such times. He never did one single thing charged, except the levying of $2000, which was for caring for the negro refugees. In conclusion he said: "I pronounce the charges unqualifiedly false. The war is over. I come on a mission of fraternity. They said I dare not come; I knew I dared come, and would have come had the threats been a thousand times stronger."

Good Looks. Good looks are more than skin deep depending upon a healthy condition of the vital organs. If the liver be inactive you have a bilious look, if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look, and if your kidneys be affected you have a pitted look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and Tonic acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils and gives a good complexion. Sold at G. H. Haskin's drug store, 50c. per bottle.

Royal Baking Powder ABSOLUTELY PURE

Is It Forgery? ENNA, OR., Oct. 8th, 92. Editor Southern Oregon Mail: Recorder Holmes informed me that some one has changed the heading of some of these petitions asking the County Board to place the school Superintendent's salary to where it was when elected—by interlining and marking out so as to make them ask the board to increase his salary to $1,000 per annum. I don't think Mr. Price would approve of such a method, which, to say the least, looks like forgery; for who knows whether those petitions were changed before or after they were signed. However, I think it is more than probable that they were changed after they were signed. I DEMAND that the names of those on petitions so changed, be published, so that if there has been forgery committed, it may come to light. I hope Mr. Price, or some of his friends, will look after this matter at once. If it is forgery, the public should know it. HARVEY RICHARDSON.

Ira Wakefield's Dates. At present Ira Wakefield is east of the mountains, but will return about the 18th, when he will take the stump at the following places: Grant's Pass, Oct. 20 1 p. m. Gen. Applegate. Gen. Applegate was greeted by a large audience of three or four hundred in this city Tuesday night, most of whom were of the Peoples' party faith. He spoke entertainingly on the finances and carried conviction with his arguments. The general has escaped from the corruption of the g. o. p. and will lead many of the republicans out of the old republican hulk before she dashes to pieces against the plutocratic rocks of destruction. A few of the bitter ones will of course refuse to listen to the Gen. who was at one time their leader in the days of republican purity and to whom they pointed with pride. The people at last see that the Peoples' party is true to the interests of the people, and against robbers in places high and low.

THE MORTGAGE. He thought in 1860 a farm of stumps and stones. His name was "God Be Glorified," his son was "God Be Glorified." He put a mortgage on the farm and then in course of time he died. "In twenty years I'll pay it up," said God Be Glorified. The mortgage had a hungry maw and swallowed corn and wheat, and day to day he grew bigger. He slowly worked himself to death, and on the calm hill-side they laid beyond the monster's reach, good God Be Glorified. And the farm with all its incumbrances, of stumps and stones, it fell to young Melchizedek Paul Godwin Jones. Melchizedek was a likely youth, a holy, Godly man. And he vowed to raise the mortgage like a noble puritan. And he went forth every morning to the rugged mountain side. And day after day before him, poor old God Be Glorified. He raised pumpkins and potatoes, down the monster's throat to pour. Who snatched them down, and smacked his jaws all calmly asked for more. He worked until his back was bent, until his hair was grey. On the hill-side through a snow-drift, they dug his grave one day. His first-born son, Eliphazet, had no time to creep and brood. For the monster by his door-step, growled for ever for his food. He fed him on the garden truck, he stuffed his ribs with fat. And he fed him eggs and butter, but he would not get away. And Eliphazet was staggered with the burden and then he died. And sleep with old Melchizedek and God Be Glorified. Then the farm it fell to Thomas, and from Thomas fell to John. Then from John to Eleazar and the mortgage still lived on. Then it fell to Ralph and Peter, Eli, Absolom and Paul. Down through all the generations, but the mortgage killed them all. About a score of years ago the farm came down to Jim. And Jim called in the mortgage and gave the farm to him. There's no human heart so empty that it has no ray of hope. So Jim gave up the ancient farm and went to making soap. He grew a fifty millionaire, a bloated, pampered nature. He owned ten railroads, twenty mines, and the whole state legislature. And thousands did his great command, and lived upon his bounty. And he came home, bought back the farm and the entire county. (Copied by J. F. Wisner from old poems and things in a scrap book.)

Pronounced Hopeless, Yet Saved. From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Green, S. D. we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, cough set in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to my Saviour, determined I could not stay with my friends on earth. I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it has cured me, and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at G. H. Haskin's drug store, regular size 50c. and $1.00.

THE GOVERNOR'S PROCLAMATION. Columbus Day Designated as a Legal Holiday. SALEM, OR., Oct. 10.—The following proclamation was issued today by Governor Penney: "I do hereby designate Friday, the 21st day of October, 1892, the 40th anniversary of the discovery of America, by Christopher Columbus, one of the most momentous events in the world's history, as a legal holiday, and do recommend its fitting observance."

The World Enriched. The facilities of the present day for the production of everything that will conduce to the material welfare and comfort of mankind are almost unlimited and when Syrup of Figs was first produced the world was enriched with the only perfect laxative known, as it is the only remedy which is truly pleasing and refreshing to the taste and prompt and effectual to cleanse the system gently in the Spring time or, in fact, at any time and the better it is known the more popular it becomes.

WEAVER IN CONGRESS.

The Champion of the People Stands Now Where He Then Stood. About June 1, 1880, Hon. James B. Weaver, then in congress from Iowa, offered the following resolution: Resolved, That in the sense of this house that currency, whether metallic or paper, necessary for the use and convenience of the people should be issued and its volume controlled by the government, and not by or through the bank corporations of the country, and when so issued should be a full legal tender for all debts, public and private. Resolved, That in the judgment of this house, that portion of the interest-bearing debt of the United States which shall become payable in the year 1891, or prior thereto, be in amount $20,000,000, should not be refunded beyond the power of the government to call in and pay them at any time, but should be paid as rapidly as possible and in full to the holders of the same. The United States should be operated to its full capacity in the output of standard silver dollars and such other coinage as the business interests may require. These resolutions were tabled subject to be called up at any time for discussion by permission of the house. Once they were brought up, Mr. Weaver arose in his place and asked for their consideration, only to be refused recognition by the speaker or choked off by the chairman of some committee claiming priority under the rules of the house. The old party leaders were so determined that every possible obstacle was thrown in the way of their consideration by the members of the house. And the party organs, the tools of the banks, worked vigorously night and day manufacturing public sentiment against the resolutions and their author. They caricatured Mr. Weaver as a jackass and denounced him as an adroit brained lunatic endeavoring to ruin the credit of the nation. In this they went so far that they aroused the people on the subject, and they demanded action. At last, on the 24th day of April, 1880, the resolution was taken up for discussion. The discussion disclosed the fact that the sentiment of the people of the nation was fast crystallizing in favor of the resolutions. The monopolists saw the inevitable, and to distract the attention of the people the subject of using "troops at the polls" to "protect voters in a free ballot" was hatched up. The leaders of both the Republican and Democratic parties became so thoroughly convinced that the eyes of the people were opening to the financial legislation that they allowed no measure that had a tendency to elicit sectional bitterness between the north and the south to be discussed, but did all in their power to rekindle every smoldering ember into a flame, so as to make the heated more intense and thus draw the mind of the people from the discussion of this most living issue of the time. Every national campaign year from that time until the present this same class of Wall street money devils have endeavored to renew sectional bitterness to hide the issues, that they might continue their plunder of the people. The people have at last learned their lesson and will play into their hands no longer. The people are with Weaver in this struggle, they endorse these resolutions and see that billions of the people's money would have been saved to them had they been adopted into the law at the time and no abuse, slander or vilification of Weaver will stop the people now.

Theresa Jefferson said to Mr. Kercheval: "I am among those who favor no dependence for continued freedom. And to preserve this independence we must not let our rulers lead us with perpetual debt." He said to Mr. John Taylor, "I sincerely believe that banking establishments are more dangerous than standing armies."—Progressive Farmer.

A Strong Stomach. Stump Ashby, of Texas, is the champion story teller of the third party. He has another name, several others in fact, but nobody ever calls him anything but Stump. "Once there was a man," said Mr. Ashby, "who was paid twenty-five cents to bite off the head of a big worm. Biting it off, he turned to the crowd and said, 'Gentlemen, I didn't bite off that worm's head for the twenty-five cents, nor because I had anything against the worm, but just to show you what a strong stomach I've got.' That must be the reason some men vote for Cleveland—just to show what a strong 'stomach' they've got. "The Mills bill," continued Mr. Ashby, "put a whole drug store, from boric acid to quinine, on the free list. We are not sick, but our finances are sick unto death. The Mills bill only reduced the tariff 4 1/2 per cent. lower than the Republican rate anyway. Free wool and free hides, with protected woolen goods and leather! I was down at Lovewell the other day when a man brought in two big hides and a little one to sell. He got $1.25 for the lot and then paid fifty cents for a little piece of sole leather about a foot square. Free hides and protected leather! That's a blessed state of affairs, to be sure."

Frightened in Virginia. The Democrats are receiving alarming reports as to the strength of the third party movement in the south side, which includes Halifax, Pittsylvania, Mecklenburg, Charlotte, Henry, Patrick, Prince Edward, Nettoway, Amelia and several others. Some of these counties have been noted in the past for their strong allegiance to the Democratic party. Halifax has been known as the banner county of Democracy, and here seems to be the hotbed of Weaverman.—Richmond Special to Washington Star.

Claytrap and Reality. I am glad to see on all sides the evidences of general prosperity, and am glad to belong to a party that professes to believe in the prosperity. If there is any party in this country that thrives upon calamities, it is not the Democrats, but the White-Lie party. The same day press dispatches reported troops called out in four states to keep the peace between workmen and capitalist corporations.—Iowa Tribune.
