LADIES PLAN TO BEAUTIFY STREETS OF CITY

A serious mistake to attempt the planting of any species or variety of which there may be any possible doubt. It seems that the best plan to follow will be to select only a few species and then plant them so as to conform to a general plan. The two offices above mentioned would, therefore, suggest that for this locality the following shade trees be planted, since it is presupposed that shade is of primary importance during the hot summer weather: The cork bark elm, Linden, Oregon maple and black locust. These trees are known to be hardy and will grow with the least number of failures. As to the distances between trees, it will depend somewhat upon the size of the city blocks, but a good average distance would be about 40 feet, which would give the trees plenty of room for spread. It is a mistake to plant trees too close, so as to produce too much shade. Dwelling houses constantly enveloped in a dense shade are not sanitary, we need sunshine as well as shade, since we know that sunlight is one of the best germicides known and costs nothing. It must further be understood that the subsequent care of a city's trees or parks should be under the supervision of a park commission or association. If each individual, having frontage upon which a tree might be placed, should attempt to prune or trim, lack of uniformity would soon result.

This move on the part of the Greater Medford club is timely. It will solve the problem of the back

NEW RESIDENCE IS DESTROYED

House of Henry Davis on East Side Goes Up in Smoke—Incendiarism Is Suspected.

The new residence of Henry Davis, on the east side, was burned Sunday night. The house was unfinished and no fire had been used there. The alarm was turned in at about 11:30 Sunday night, but the fire department was unable to reach the scene with the hose from the nearest hydrant. Indications point strongly toward the fire being of incendiary origin, and it is supposed might have been started by hoboes occupying the premises temporarily.

lot orchard and the planting of fruit trees within the city limits. Fruit trees are beautiful in their place, but being subject to so many diseases and pests which do not affect shade trees, they are simply out of place in a city. The stranger or visitor coming into this city often remarks on the scrubby condition of many of our city streets, which could be beautified by the removal of the half dead, Heben-covered fruit trees and the planting of beautiful shade trees.
