

BIG MEETING OF FRUIT MEN

One of Largest Meetings of Fruit-growers Ever Held in City Gathered Saturday Afternoon.

The meeting of the Horticultural society held Saturday afternoon was the largest ever held in the history of the society.

The address of Professor O'Gara on "Planting an Orchard" was a most comprehensive and instructive address, covering as it did every feature of successful fruit growing from the selection of the land to the harvesting of the crop.

C. E. Whisler made a short address explaining the features of the La Fenn bill in relation to size of apple and pear boxes, which bill, if it passes congress, will work to the detriment of the orchardists of Southern Oregon.

This bill will be discussed and arrangements made to have the fruit growers represented at the next meeting of congress, at the National Fruitgrowers' convention to be held at Spokane on November 16.

Delegates to the convention were elected. C. E. Whisler, J. A. Westerland and E. B. Waterman were selected. These gentlemen will attend in person and will co-operate with the other growers in any movement looking to defeat of this measure.

Petitions were presented by Chas. Meserve, addressed to the agricultural department, asking for a soil survey and for the establishment of a forecasting station at Medford, and were signed by every one present.

The matters embraced in these petitions are of vital interest to the people of the Rogue River valley, and the petitions, when finally sent in, should contain the name of practically every resident of Jackson county.

The executive committee of the Horticultural society is at work securing data, showing cause why these petitions should be acted upon favorably, which will be transmitted to the department along with the petitions. The reasons are many and forceful and petitions showing the unanimity of opinion of the people will help out a lot.

NEW YORK, Nov. 8.—Seven bodies have been taken from a burning celluloid factory at 153 Columbia street, Brooklyn, and it is feared that other victims may be in the doomed structure.

Dr. Charles McGougan arrived Sunday from Salt Lake City to become a permanent resident of the Rogue River valley. He became interested in this valley more than a year ago, when he invested in a tract of land, in association with his brother-in-law, A. B. Williams, two and a half miles east of Medford, and is more than satisfied with the investment.
