COLORADO CROPS NEARLY ALL IN

Big Movement From Grand Valley Nearly at an End for Season.

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo., Nov. 19.—Five hundred cars of apples are all that remain of the Grand valley fruit movement and these are now going out at the rate of about 40 cars daily, 25 cars from Grand Junction and the rest from Fruita and the smaller points. The picking is over and most of the packing and had it not been for the car shortage of several weeks ago most of the shipping would now be over as well. The total shipments amount to close to 2800 cars. The midsummer estimates of the total movement placed it at 3500 cars.

Some apples sold on the tracks here this week for $2 a box. A few growers have some Stark's Delicious apples and $3 a box is quoted on these.

One of the leading topics at the Western Slope Development congress, which convened here this week, and which was attended by delegates from every city on the slope was the question of transportation facilities for the fruit crop, which, as the additional acreage already planted gradually comes into bearing, is bound to increase every year. There are only two railroads in this territory and Grand Junction is the only large point which has the advantage of both. Both roads together don't own 200 refrigerator cars and are consequently dependent on what they can rent. The situation was serious enough this year, but mild weather prevented loss to the growers. A few years hence it is no exaggeration to say that the western Colorado apple movement in particular will be double what it was this year and the question is how to prepare for it. Besides this, the Denver & Rio Grande will of necessity be called upon to handle all fruit shipments originating in Utah east of Salt Lake City.

One remedy, of course, will be the construction of cold storage warehouses and keeping the fruit here until it can be moved or the market is favorable. This season, however, the market was unusually good from the outset and there was a rush to get shipments out as quickly as possible to take advantage of it.

Representatives of the railroad were present at the congress and professed to be ready to do all possible to provide against future trouble. The real solution of it is still uncertain.

Local growers are preparing to make a big spread at the Chicago irrigation exposition and are sparing no expense to send a mammoth exhibit of fine fruit to be put on display. Agents have been collecting the exhibit for weeks and only the very choicest specimens will be sent. There is a lot of interest in the Denver apple show and the local association will have at least one entry in the car-lot class, and perhaps two entries. Moore & Sames of Cuero, Texas, wrote the local association this week that a few boxes of Grand valley apples, taken at random from one of the consignments from here and enjoyed by the firm in the Cuero fair, was awarded first prize against a large field.

IMMIGRATION LAWS CHEAT FRENCHMAN OF WAGES

(United Press Leased Wire.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Nov. 19.—Alphonse Vergonjeanne, the globe-trotting Frenchman, who, on a wager of 25,000 francs, is attempting to "beat" his way around the world without paying for his passage, and who arrived here as a stowaway on the Manchuria several days ago, probably will have to return to Japan.

When Vergonjeanne arrived here he was held up by the immigration officials because he did not have enough money to enter the United States. The Frenchman explained in vain, and likewise appealed to the French embassy without results. The ambassador refused to lend his influence toward getting his fellow-countryman past the portals of the immigration station. As a result Vergonjeanne will have to go back to Yokohama on the next outgoing steamer.

According to the provisions of his wager he must be in Paris by February 22.

APPLE MARKET MUCH WEAKER

New York Prices Not Holding Up as Was Expected Earlier in the Season.

(Special Correspondence.)
NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—Notwithstanding a falling off in receipts, the apple market this week was weaker and prices lower. The decline was attributed to a lack of steamship accommodation, which threw a large quantity of fruit intended for export on the market and thus prevented the demand from absorbing the supply.

The market on Hood River fruit was very stiff. Five cars of Spitzembergs arrived in fine condition and moved rapidly at $3 to $4 per box. Jonathans are almost cleaned up.

There was a splendid supply of western boxed apples, which sold all
