CANNOT SERVE PEOPLE LIKEWISE THE TRUSTS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—Legislation aimed at corporation lawyers in congress, particularly those representing railroads, is the subject of a bill introduced by Senator Borah of Idaho and referred to the senate judiciary committee.

Borah would prohibit senators, representatives and delegates in congress from representing as attorneys or otherwise corporations, companies or persons doing business over which the government exercises regulatory control.

The law would exact the same penalty as that imposed now for violation of the act prohibiting members of congress from representing concerns in suits in which the government is directly or indirectly interested—imprisonment not exceeding two years and a fine not exceeding $10,000.

RIDER IN SIX DAY RACE FALLS

Member of Team Collapses—Riders Ahead of the Schedule by Eleven Miles.

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Patrick Keegan, the team mate of Frank Galvin of this city in the six-day bicycle race at Madison Square garden, collapsed today and was removed from the track by order of the physicians.

This was the first team to be retired thus far in the contest.

At 8 o'clock this morning the leaders were 11 miles and 8 laps ahead of the record of last year by Hill and Demera, having covered 1575 miles.

As a result of the pace set last night by Clark, the Australian team-mate of Floyd McFarland of San Jose, Cal., Arnt and Stole were forced to retire today. Stole's legs had given out.

The sprint, which proved the mettle of the riders, was started by Clark. He rode to the top of the embankment and with the momentum given by the downward shoot landed himself a quarter of a lap ahead of the field before the other riders were aware of his intentions. This forced the other men to sprint for a long distance to overcome the lead.

CAPTAIN BRIEFLY WIRES NEWS OF SHIPWRECK

NEW YORK, Dec. 9.—Officials of the Anglo-American Oil company, a Standard Oil subsidiary organization, are making every effort today to establish communication with Captain Nickerson of the company's ship Johanna. Nickerson called last evening from Samana, Santa Domingo, that the ship had foundered. Requests for more details were unanswered.

In his brief message to the local office of the Anglo-American company Nickerson stated that the starboard watch had landed safely. He had landed safely. He made no mention of the other members of the crew and neglected to tell the locality of the wreck.

The Johanna was a British ship and was bound to New York from the Philippines, carrying a cargo of sugar valued at $125,000. She carried a crew of 21 men, besides the officers.

STILL TRYING TO HAVE KOREA ANNEXED

SEOUL, Korea, Dec. 9.—The Ilchinhol party which is trying to induce Japan to annex Korea as a part of the empire instead of pursuing its present policy, today presented a second petition to the Korean emperor. The party urges that the policy of "Japanizing Korea" is productive of but little benefit and at the same time causes bitterness and hatred between the peoples of the two countries. Though the suggestion has met with strong opposition in Tokyo, the leaders propose to use every means of promoting the proposition.

WOULD KILL MOTHER AND VARNISH REMAINS

GRASS VALLEY, Or., Dec. 9.—Edward Lawrey, who has been arrested so often that officers are tired of counting the times, now occupies a cell in the county jail and awaits examination as to his sanity. He was taken at this city yesterday after having threatened the life of his mother. He was intoxicated at the time, and made the wildest declarations, stating he had a number of friends outside who were waiting to see the murder committed and then aid in varnishing the remains.

SUPREME COURT IS RESEATED

Death of Justice Peckham Results in Reseating of the Entire Supreme Bench.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 9.—The recent death of Associate Justice Peckham, leaving one of the places on the supreme bench vacant, has resulted in a re-arrangement of the seating of the other justices of the highest tribunal of the nation.

With the exception of the chief justice, the members of the supreme court of the United States are seated in order of their seniority—the oldest member in point of service to the right of the chief justice, who occupies the center seat, and the next senior member to the left of the chief justice, and then alternately right and left.

For years Justice Harlan has had the honor of being the senior member of the court and sitting on the right hand of Chief Justice Fuller. He has had 32 years' service—more than the chief justice, who has only been on the bench 21 years. Justice Brewer has likewise held the next most coveted post, as the next senior member, seated on Chief Justice Fuller's left. He has served 29 years. Justice White, who has been on the bench 15 years, occupies the seat to the right of Justice Harlan.

Justice Peckham, who had served 14 years up to the time of his death, used to be seated to the left of Justice Brewer. Under the new seating arrangement his chair is now occupied by Justice McKenna, who formerly sat to the right of Justice White. Justice Holmes is moved from his old place to the left of Justice Peckham to the seat next on the right to Justice White, where Justice McKenna formerly sat. His old chair is now occupied by Justice Day, who formerly had the seat on the end furthest from the chief justice on the right. Justice Moody, when he returns to court, will find that his seat from now on will be in Justice Day's old place. Justice Moody was the junior member of the court, and formerly sat in the seat on the extreme left of the chief justice. This seat now is vacant. The new associate justice whom President will select will be seated there.

BODY OF PIONEER IS FOUND AFTER WRECK

TACOMA, Wash., Dec. 9.—The body of Robert J. Heal, an aged carpenter and pioneer resident of this city, was found today in the dooryard of the residence of Asbury Smith, at 522 South Forty-sixth street, where it had lain for more than a week. Investigation today shows that Heal, who called on the Smiths the evening of Wednesday, December 1, must have fallen in the yard, overcome by the cold. The snow which fell that night to a depth of several inches, completely covered his body. The snow has lain thick on the ground during the subsequent freezing weather and not until today did it thaw sufficiently for the body to be seen.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., Dec. 9.

The circuit court is in session. Judge Noland presiding. The following grand jury was drawn: A. J. Manning, G. K. Van Riper, O. A. Stearns, Frank Ward, John Hagelstein, G. Heitemper, Jr., and M. Gallarneau. Frank Ward was appointed foreman by Judge Noland. In instructing the grand jury Judge Noland laid particular stress on the violation of the local option law and intimated that it might be possible to prosecute the near-beer dealers under the general nuisance law of the state.

CALHOUN TRIAL ON JANUARY 19

Case is Continued—New District Attorney Will Have Full Charge of the Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Dec. 9.—The trial of Patrick Calhoun, millionaire traction magnate, on the charge of bribery, was continued today until January 19, when it will be resumed by the incoming district attorney, Charles M. Fickert. The six trialmen who had been temporarily retained, were dismissed. Fickert will have a clean sweep at the case. During the recent political campaign Francis J. Heney, the famous graft prosecutor, charged that Fickert was the personal candidate of Calhoun. Since election Fickert has declared his firm intention to prosecute the graft cases. The action of the court today leaves the matter in an interesting situation.

District Attorney Langdon made the motion for continuance, saying that it was clear that it would be impossible to obtain a jury before the first of the year. The court agreed that this was true, especially in view of the approaching holiday season.

The Young Oak.

Once as I was botanizing under an oak I found among a number of other plants of similar height one that was dark in color with tightly closed leaves and a stalk that was very straight and stiff. When I touched it, it said to me in firm tones: "Let me alone. I am not for your collection, like these plants to which nature has given only a single year of life. I am a little oak." So it is with a man whose influence is to last for hundreds of years. As a child, as a youth, often even as a full grown man—may, his whole life long—he goes about among his fellows, looking like them and seemingly as unimportant. But let him alone. He will not die. Time will come and bring those who know how to value him—Schopenhauer.

An Impostor.

"Have you any skeleton in your family closet?" the prospective father-in-law asked of the titled suitor at the family hearing. "None." "Then perhaps you have a past?" "I have not." The parents whispered together a moment.

"You, of course, have debts?" the millionaire resumed. "Not one." The mother faintly. The millionaire towered. "Sir," he thundered, "how dare you? This is no romance at all, but only a love match."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Enterprising.

An immigration official said recently of an immigrant: "He was a bad case. He was an ignorant of government as the two Polish policemen were. Two new policemen were once put on the Warsaw force. They did good work. They arrested a lot of people; then suddenly they resigned.

"Why are you resigning?" the superintendent asked. "The older of the two men answered respectfully: "We are going to start a police station of our own, sir. Boris here will make the arrests, and I will do the flogging."—Washington Star.

Two Kinds.

The spectators in a county courtroom were waxing very demonstrative over the testimony of one of the witnesses. The judge sternly admonished them to keep quiet, but to no effect. The offense was soon repeated. "Clear the courtroom!" called out the judge to the bailiff.

The latter stepped forth pompously and, striking a forensic attitude, said: "Them blackguards that ain't lawyers will have to get out. Them that is lawyers can stay."—Lippincott's.

DENVER, Col., Dec. 9.—Two men are dead and two others are supposed to be dying as the result of the cold wave that is sweeping Colorado.

The driver of a stage between Hanna and Lee, Wyo., and his only passenger were found dead near the latter place late yesterday, according to news received here. The bodies of both were frozen stiff.
