Seven Rules of Life.

Live upstairs if you wish to be in good health; "Up how many flights?" Only one flight of seven steps. I will describe them.

First Step—Eat wheat, oats, corn, fruits, beef, mutton, poultry cooked, in moderate quantity and but two meals a day.

Second Step—Breathe good air day and night.

Third Step—Exercise freely in the open air.

Fourth Step—Retire early and rise early.

Fifth Step—Wear flannel next your skin every day of the year and so dispose your dress that your limbs may be kept warm. Bathe frequently.

Sixth Step—Live in the sunshine. Let your bedroom be one which receives a flood of light and spend your days either out in the sunlight or in a room which is well lighted.

Seventh Step—Cultivate a cheerful temper. Seek the society of jolly people. Absolutely refuse to worry and, above all, don't be afraid to laugh. Live above. Sickness cannot crawl up there. Disease grows about in the basement. Rarely does it get upstairs.—Dr. F. G. Butler in Chicago Journal.

The Shade He Wanted.

Delacroix, the painter, was walking out one day in Paris with a friend of his when he fell into a brown study.

"What is up with you now?" said the friend.

"I can't get a certain shade of yellow," replied the artist.

"What sort of yellow?"

"Just then a cab drove past. 'The very thing!' the painter gasped out. 'Stop, stop!'"

"I am engaged," the cabbie replied without stopping.

Delacroix started in pursuit and at a steep pace in the Rue des Martyrs overtook the cab. Opening the door, he said in tones of entreaty to the passenger inside:

"Do please tell your driver to stop. I want your complexion for a painting on which I am at work. There is a color merchant close at hand. I shall not detain you above five minutes, and in acknowledgment of the service you render me I will present you with a sketch of my picture."

The bargain was struck. Delacroix got his yellow, and a few months later the "fare" received a sketch of his "Assassination of the Archbishop of Liege."

Self Possessed.

Mrs. Manykids—There is one thing about our girls—they are always self possessed. Papa Manykids (grimly)—Yes, they're too self possessed. I wish they'd get some one else to possess them.

Liszt's Advice.

Being asked one day what one should do in order to become an efficient piano player. Liszt replied laconically. "One must eat well and walk much."

HENEY NEARS END.

Question His Actions. This in addition to other evidence which is expected to bring the actions of Hermann still closer to the Blue Mountain reserve, will close the government's case and open the way for the defense. It is believed that Mr. Heney will be able to close the prosecution's evidence tomorrow, perhaps by noon. If that should prove true the court will rest for half a day in order that the defense may shape up its evidence for presentation and map out its case.

RECALL OUT FOR SNELL.

Meanwhile the real friends of Snell and of Eggleston deprecate the wild talk of the calamity howlers. Both men are above suspicion and the unfortunate situation is merely the result of the proneness of human nature to criticize men in authority.

A recall election would undoubtedly fail of its purpose, and an investigation of the city's books would probably disclose nothing more serious than clerical errors and possibly a few errors of judgment on the part of the light plant committee.

This, at any rate, is the opinion of the thinking public. But because of the clamor that has arisen many think that, in justice to both parties, the books should be expeted and a complete statement of the lighting plant account be made public, and from present indications it is more than probable that the taxpayers will be called upon to pay an "expert" to tell us "that which we already know."

Costs one cent for 5 continuous hours Burning

Think of it! In addition to the brightest, purest and safest light that human brain has ever devised, the ALADDIN Lamp has a feature of still more vital importance. It saves oil. In spite of the fact that it gives a better light, it burns only one-third as much oil as any oil lamp manufactured of similar size.

That means that the ALADDIN really costs you nothing, for in a short time you have saved its cost—then goes on saving money in oil as long as you burn it and with ordinary care it lasts a lifetime.

A lamp is a real necessity. You must have light to work by—light to play by. Don't you owe it to yourself to have the best and brightest light when it offers you the means of saving?

BOX 826.

THE ROGUE RIVER LAND COMPANY
NO. 11 NORTH CENTRAL AVENUE

Offers an especially good foothill orchard for a low price and on good terms. In these days of advancing prices, it will pay to look into this.

It pays to deal with the "Man Who Knows." When the Rogue River Land Company sold the Tronson & Guthrie orchard at Eagle Point to the prize winning owners, four years ago, the salesman, W. M. Holmes, assured the purchasers those Spitzenberg trees would produce the world's best apples, and subsequent events prove the soundness of his judgment. By the way: Did it ever occur to you that most of the men who have won out in the Rogue River Valley, bought their winning orchards through the Rogue River Land Company?

W. M. Holmes, Manager, is always at your service for a good buy.
