WHAT IS WORN.

Elaborate Trimmings on Dressy Gowns—The New Veils.

Dressy gowns this season show a good deal of jet and crystal bead trimming as well as the brilliant beetle wing embroidery and spangled trimmings.

Double breasted coats are always comfortable for cold weather, and this style is seen among the best models in long coat lengths.

Wide meshed veils are modish. This veiling is heavy and does not injure the eyes, as the dotted variety is apt to do. Women like the heavy wide meshes because of their becomingness and the fascinating mystery of the half concealed face under the beautifier.

Dotted swiss is used for the cutest little baby dresses. It is of the softest and finest variety. These dresses are simply made, being trimmed with a few insertions of valenciennes.

The vogue for bracelets has brought about a return of the engraved and enameled bands about an inch wide that were worn half a century or more ago.

For little girls box plaited dresses worn with a shield in sailor style are much in vogue, and the frock illustrated of this character is exceptionally attractive. Cashmere is a favorite material from which to develop them this season.

GIRL'S BOX PLAITED DRESS.

MODISH MATTERS.

All Kinds of Pelts From Skunk to Ermine Are Popular For Hats.

The girl who can wear fur on her head is in luck, for no matter what kind of pelt it is, she will be in fashion. It is a far cry from raccoon to ermine, yet all the furs in between are worn with assurance.

Among the smart coats is a model shown with only one revers. This is extra broad and runs from the collar to a point at the waist. It is only possible on coats that fasten straight over the chest from waist to neckband.

A smart coat for a girl of fourteen is made in moyen age style of heavy-weight navy blue cheviot. The fronts are cut in panel effect, which start at the armhole seams in the front instead of on the shoulder. Below the waist line at the sides and back the material is plaited and headed by a strapped band, which buttons to the panel. The closing is double breasted, with a revers that can be turned back or over. There is a high turnover collar trimmed with black braid, and there are deep turnover cuffs.

Chantilly lace net is a novelty fabric for lace gowns and blouses. It is dainty and effective and costs the very moderate sum of 93 cents a yard for a forty-two inch width.

The illustration shows four charming aprons, each one of which is very simple and easy to make. Dotted and plain swiss muslins are the materials used.

CAPTAIN DENIES HE FOLLOWED COMET

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 25.—That the steamer J. B. Stetson of San Pedro was taken from her course through following a comet appearing above the southern horizon while she was bound for this port, is denied today by Captain Bonfield.

The skipper declares that the tailed star or comet was sighted while the Stetson was in latitude 35:20 north January 23. The vessel sailed northward in its light for some time, but the captain declares that the comet did not cause him to alter his course a jot.

Captain Bonfield, who is something of an astronomer, took observations of the comet, and has data backing up his observations. While the phenomenon may not have been Halley's comet, the skipper and his crew declare that a comet was seen by them in the south-southwest quarter of the sky.

The Change.

"Now, confess, McBride, do you hold your wife on your lap as much now as when you were first married?" asked Barlow.

"Well, Barlow," replied McBride, "to tell the truth, I believe she sits on me more now than then."

Cause For Thanks.

"Alas," sighed the tramp dramatically. "No matter where I turn, there's a hand raised against me."

"Which shows you ought to be thankful for one thing," said the farmer.

"What's that?"

"That it ain't a foot that's raised."

NAVAL MAN CHARGED WITH AWFUL CRIME

PORTSMOUTH, N. H., Jan. 25.—The naval authorities here today said to have confessed to the murder of Anna Schumacher at Rochester, N. Y., to Sheriff Gillette, who will take him back there for trial.

The little girl was brutally attacked and killed while she was in the act of placing flowers upon her mother's grave in the Rochester cemetery.

Hall attempted to enlist in the navy and his actions aroused suspicions. After a severe course of the "third degree" he is said to have told the naval officials that he committed the Rochester crime.

WIRELESS LEAPS THROUGH SPACE AS NEMESIS

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 25.—The wireless, leaping through 2000 miles of space from Panama, today caused the arrest of three men wanted there as the alleged murderers of a Panama policeman.

The wireless just beat the steamship Abanagarez, on which R. M. Campbell of New Orleans, H. A. Rosenthal and F. G. Ringle, both of Tiffin, the men wanted, were passengers.

A second wireless was sent to the minister from Panama at Washington, who wired the consul at New Orleans to have the men held pending an investigation.

The prisoners deny any connection with the crime.

HOW THE AMERICAN MARITIME LAW WORKS

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Jan. 25.—Local merchants are awaiting with interest the arrival in port of the Hamburg-American liner Cleveland, due here February 3 with 650 "round-the-world" tourists aboard. They believe that the composition upon her owners of a fine of $1000 may result in litigation that will fix for all time the status of the law compelling foreign vessels plying between American ports to pay $200 for each passenger landed.

The Cleveland is completing a world tour, the starting point having been New York. The intention of the company was to land the tourists in San Francisco and transport them overland to New York.

Collector of the Port Stratton, upon learning of this plan, immediately asked the department of commerce and labor whether the ruling would be enforced in this case, and fines aggregating $137,000 be collected. He was advised that the government will reduce the fine to $1000 on condition that the Hamburg-American company carry the case to the courts for a decision of the law.

No reply to the government's proposal has been made.

SOLD KEYS TO HEAVEN: POLICE ARRESTED THEM

BUTLER, Pa., Jan. 25.—After they are said to have disposed of over three hundred "keys to heaven" in the Russian district yesterday and today, John Nanchik, George Sokos and Nicholas Tenick, garbed as the "Three Wise Men of the East," came to grief. John Shink took exception to a request for a 10-cent contribution and demanded that he be given the "key to Heaven" for 5 cents. The wise men refused and a free-for-all fight followed.

The trio caused the arrest of Shink and others before Justice Jacob Criswell on an assault and battery charge, and warrants were issued before Justice James N. McNally for the arrest of the dispensers of the "keys to Heaven" on a similar charge. The "wise men" is alleged, collected over two hundred dollars in the foreign quarter.

CHAMBERLAIN WOULD REOPEN OLD CASES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 25.—A concurrent resolution introduced in the senate today by Senator Chamberlain of Oregon was adopted directing the attorney general to report to congress what action has been taken relative to the resolution approved April 30, 1908, instructing that an investigation be made of the possibility of action concerning the various Oregon railroad and land grants by the government.

This action by Chamberlain today indicates that he will endeavor to reopen some of the Oregon cases which have been smoldering for a long time.
