

HORTICULTURISTS ELECT OFFICERS

Annual Election of Officers of Rogue River Horticultural Society Held Saturday—C. M. Potter Elected President.

The annual meeting of the Rogue River Horticultural society was held Saturday afternoon, at which time officers for the ensuing year were elected.

C. M. Potter was elected president; J. A. Westerlund, vice-president; H. H. Tuttle, secretary; J. A. Perry, treasurer.

The following executive committee was elected: G. A. Hover, chairman; A. C. Allen, F. E. Merriek, C. E. Whisler, A. J. Dunlap.

Professor O'Gara made a short talk on timely spraying. He recommended that spraying for green aphids should commence soon, and promised to publish in the Mail Tribune instructions as to best and most timely methods.

In the matter of frost protection, the question of the relative cost and value of crude oil and distillate was discussed at some length, but no definite conclusion was reached. It was finally agreed to leave the matter open.

Crude oil last season proved unsatisfactory. Distillate has not been used to much extent as yet, and the most successful of the orchardists in the line of avoiding frosts used a smudge rather than a flame.

WANT MORE LIGHT ON JOHN D.'S PLANS

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The senate committee on the District of Columbia will demand more light on the plans of the John D. Rockefeller fortune before it will take action on the bill for incorporation of the philanthropic organization.

The committee invited Starr J. Murphy this afternoon, one of the Rockefeller's chief aides in his distribution of money for philanthropic purposes, to appear before the committee next Friday.

Murphy will be questioned regarding the definite purposes and plans of the foundation's purposed work.

LEWIS SELLS HIS PANTHERS

Advertisement in Mail Tribune Helps to Dispose of Fine Pair of Panther Kittens—Management of Portland Park Acquires Them.

George N. Lewis of Jacksonville has been advertising a pair of panther kittens for sale in the columns of the Mail Tribune for several weeks, and he has sold them, indirectly through the advertisement, as it led to inquiry on the part of the managers of the Portland park, and a little missionary work helped on the sale. The kittens were shipped to Portland a few days ago and are now comfortably domiciled in their new home.

Those kittens are not the kind that you would take up in your lap and stroke. On the contrary, they weigh about 40 pounds apiece and have claws that one wouldn't like to have make experiments with his epidermis. But they were a beautiful pair of cats and if they mature will be one of the sights of the park.

INTER-RACIAL FIGHT ON BETWEEN INDIANS

HOQUIAM, Wash., March 5.—With scores of Indians armed and prepared for an inter-racial feud, as well as a three-sided conflict with federal and state officers, no definite word has come out from Taholah, the little Indian hamlet where Fred Pope shot and killed Adam Hawk and Hoh William Monday.

United States Deputy Marshal Statter has secured the aid of two other deputies and is still at the scene of the crimes. Statter's absence lends strength to the opinion that the conditions among the Indians are more serious than at first thought. Rumors are rife that Pope will never be taken alive and that he means to sell his life as dearly as possible. The Indian is hiding in the woods and food and clothing are being supplied by friends and relatives.

Never before have the Indians been so worked up over any affair. Even the women are said to be filled with the thirst for blood.

NO FREIGHT TRAINS RUNNING

Until Ogden Route Is Open Again Freights on Shasta Route Will Be Few—No Crews Available.

"It's off ag'in, on ag'in, g one ag'in" with the trainmen of the Shasta division nowadays, owing to the tieup of the Central Pacific east from Sacramento.

Freights are stalled for want of crews, while the freight crews, oftentimes without an opportunity to change from the overalls and jumper which constitutes their usual uniform as freight handlers, are compelled to take out a train of Pullmans filled with the bon-ton.

"The togs don't cut no ice with me," growled an extra brakie, as his train was waiting at the Medford station for another to pass, "but I would like to know when I'm going to get a chance to sleep."

Carnegie to Mt. Wilson.

PASADENA, Cal., March 5.—Andrew Carnegie will visit the Mount Wilson observatory on March 15, according to an announcement today by President Sheerer of Troop Institute. The steel king now is in Santa Barbara. He expects shortly to visit Del Monte and San Francisco.

The narrow trail to the summit of Mount Wilson is being widened to permit the passage of the coach and four that will carry Carnegie to the observatory.

STATEHOOD BILL STRIKES A SNAG

Senate Committee Worries Over the Question of Suffrage in New States—If Limited States Will Be Democratic.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 5.—The statehood measure for New Mexico and Arizona is stuck on another snag today. This time the senate committee on territories is worrying over the question of whether suffrage in the proposed states shall be limited to those who speak and write the English language.

According to the majority of witnesses who have been examined by the committee, it is practically certain both states would be Democratic should such a limitation be made.

It is therefore probable that no statehood legislation will pass during the present congressional session unless some provision to prevent disfranchisement of many voters in the two states is devised.

Senators argue that if the Arizona election law would be allowed to stand one party would be able to gain control of the election machinery and forever jeopardize the chances of another party by disfranchising its voting members.

One reason why the most desirable houses, apartments and rooms are always advertised is that the most desirable tenants never take the trouble to hunt up places that are not advertised.
