

A Car That Stands The Gaff

SIX YEARS' TRIAL IN THE ROGUE RIVER VALLEY PROVES THAT THE BUICK IS THE CAR ESPECIALLY DESIGNED TO STAND THE WEAR AND TEAR OF JACKSON COUNTY ROADS.

IT COMBINES LIGHTNESS, POWER, SPEED, DURABILITY AND ECONOMY IN OPERATION WITH MODEST PRICE.

149 FIRSTS—94 PER CENT OF ENTRIES, LONG DISTANCE AND ENDURANCE RACES, WERE WON THE PAST YEAR BY THE BUICK. OTHER CARS MAY EQUAL IT, BUT THEY COST $1000 MORE. ALL THIS WITH A STOCK CAR LIKE YOU WILL GET.

MODEL 17

Similar in power to No. 16, but heavier. The ideal car for valley touring. Not so heavy that it uses up tires, but steady, true and staunch, with wonderful speed and power.

This is the best car for the local real estate man that has to go out with a crowd in all sorts of weather over all sorts of roads.

John D. Oiwel has purchased one, and it is the best car he ever had, though he has tried many makes. J. A. Westlund has ordered another.

Get your orders in early, as the demand promises to be heavy and we want to take care of everyone desiring a first-class car at a moderate price.

WHITE STREAK

The Buick White Streak, the most popular car in America, needs no introduction in the Rogue River valley. Every owner swears by it.

The White Streak is sold in rumble, surrey or toy tonneau. H. C. Stoddard has purchased a toy tonneau, blue body—mighty handsome car for family use. See it and size it up.

Another carload of White Streaks is on the way here from the factory. One carload has already been sold. If you want the best car turned out for the money, place your order at once.

MODEL 16

A high-class, handsome car, 45 horse power, runs away from any auto in the valley. This is the car that won the Los Angeles-Phoenix desert race through piles of sand, defeating its nearest competitor four hours and lowering the record 12 hours.

Wilbur Jones, sheriff of Jackson county, this week purchased a car of this model. No guilty one can escape, no matter how high priced the car, when pursued by the sheriff in his Buick.

Sheriff Jones made no mistake—neither will you, if you purchase a model 16.

"The Red Mill" at the Opera House

The score of "The Red Mill," which comes to the Medford theater, Wednesday, March 30, is by Victor Herbert, who has long been accepted as the foremost American composer. He has written 19 light operas, among them "Babes in Toyland,"

"The Serenade," "The Fortune Teller," "The Wizard of the Nile," "The Idol's Eye," "Dream City," "The Singing Girl," "Dolly Dollars," et al., all of which have been big successes and many of which are still being played both in America and Europe. The score of "The Red Mill" is in Mr. Herbert's happiest vein and is replete with brilliant ensembles, tuneful numbers, every one of which has a different and distinct charm and appeal to the ear. Of the 29-odd numbers which Mr. Herbert wrote for "The Red Mill," nearly every one has scored an immense hit, the more successful being "Every Day Is Ladies' Day With Me,"

"You Never Can Tell About a Woman," "Go While the Goin's Good," "The Streets of New York," "Because You're You," "The Isle of Our Dreams" and "I Want You to Marry Me."

"The Red Mill" will be presented in this city soon with a very pretentious cast, including Bert O. Swor as Con Kidder, Franker Woods as Kid Connor, Otton Koerner, Alvin Laughlin, Carl Hartberg, S. W. Stott, Harry R. McClain, Cecil Summers and the Misses Agnes Majora, Vernice Martin, Adeline Stern, Georgia Harvey and a chorus of 50, including the six little Dutch Kiddies and an augmented orchestra.

IN MEMORIAM.

It is very painful to record the death of Mrs. Ollie Hearing Beeson. The deceased was one of the children of John and Laura Hearing, residents of Talent for the last four years. Just three months before her burial she was married to Carl Beeson, a member of one of Oregon's best families. The young couple had gone to reside in Medford, where, after six weeks' terrible suffering she passed to the real summerland—dear, patient, sweet-spirited Ollie! During her illness her numerous friends anxiously awaited, almost hourly, to hear of her condition, always longing and yearning that the next news would give their stricken feelings relief. At the funeral the tear-wet cheeks showed that the hearts of all, old and young, were pierced with the sharpest sorrow. There was one with ringlets of sunny gold, And eyes the reflections of heaven's own blue; She passed in the twilight gray and cold, And the pale mist hid her from mortal view. We saw not the angels that met her there, but over the river the boatman pale carried Talent's favorite child. She crossed on her bosom her dimpled hands And fearlessly entered the phantom bark; We felt it glide from the silver sands And all our sunshine grew strangely dark. The youngling husband was prostrated with grief. He seemed to think that some day he would stand by the waters cold and listen to the sound of the boatman's oar. I shall catch the gleam of the snowy sail; I shall hear the boat as it nears the strand; I shall pass with the boatman, cold and pale, To the better shore of the summerland. I shall know my love who has gone before, And joyfully sweet will the meeting be; When over the river, the peaceful river, The Angel of Death shall carry me. Born at Sweet Home, Or., 19 years ago, this amiable lady has left us for the eternal Sweet Home, where the dread monster can never come. On the morning of the 14th inst. the soul, like a caged bird, plumed its wings for a celestial flight. Her mortal remains lie in the Wagner creek cemetery. O. H. R.
