"Undoubtedly. When he went away we agreed that if I could get away we agreed that if I could get He has frequently reminded me of that agreement since. I probably shall meet him in Paris."

FIRE BUGS DO DEADLY WORK

One Dead From Burns—Property Loss Estimated at $125,000—Several Fires Started All of Incendiary Origin—Aged Lady Dead.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., March 19.—Mrs. James Miller is dead from burns, the First Methodist church, two planing mills, several residences are in ruins and two men are in jail today, charged with arson, as a result of a series of destructive fires yesterday.

There is no doubt but that each fire was of incendiary origin. They were started almost simultaneously in various sections of the city, making it impossible for the fire department to cope with the situation.

Mrs. James Miller was an invalid. She was unable to leave her burning home and she was only rescued after she had sustained burns which caused her death later.

Shortly after the fires were discovered the police arrested Adel Reed and John Earlon on suspicion of being implicated in starting the wholesale conflagrations.

The property damage is estimated at $125,000.

Public feeling against the men under arrest is intense, although it is not known whether they are responsible for the fires.

EDWARD, REX, SERIOUSLY ILL

Reports Current That King of the Britains Is Seriously Ill at Biarritz—He Is Confined to His Room With Bronchial Attack.

LONDON, March 19.—That King Edward is seriously ill at Biarritz today from bronchial trouble is generally believed here. The king's physicians have reported that he is in a better condition, though still confined to his room.

Ordinarily such a report would be reassuring, but in the case of the king it is recalled that whenever his doctors have insisted that he is recovering, the contrary has been the case.

The king has contracted a heavy cold which aggravated his chronic bronchial trouble.

NO MORE SHEEP GRAZING IN WESTERN FORESTS

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 19.—That herders will not be allowed to graze sheep in California forests in defiance to the regulations of the agricultural department and the forest service, indicates today the stand that the government will take in regard to the same question in Oregon and Washington.

According to an announcement by the agricultural department the grazing rules are to be enforced to the letter and foresters have been instructed to report all violations and to prosecute promptly.

The announcement was made after the supreme court decision was made upholding Judge Wallborn of the federal court of California, who acquitted three herders charged with originally grazing sheep in the national forests.

NEW LEADER FOR MEDFORD BAND

Charles D. Hazelrigg Resigns and E. G. Bradley, Who is a Leader of Same Repute, Will Take Charge of the Band.

The Medford concert band has started with regular rehearsals following a quiet winter and will soon be in trim to fill any engagements that may arise.

Charles D. Hazelrigg, who so successfully conducted the band the past two summers, lately tendered his resignation and the band has engaged the services of E. G. Bradley as leader.

Mr. Bradley is not a stranger in Medford, as he has made this his home for almost a year and has many warm friends in our city, both in its musical circles and also among the lovers of art, where he is accepted as a fine nature painter. His long experience in teaching and directing military bands well fits him to take charge of Medford's pet musical organization.

Among the bands Mr. Bradley has conducted is the City Guard band of San Diego, Cal. It was while under Mr. Bradley's leadership that this band in 1887 was sent on a tour through the east by the boosters of San Diego and gained a national reputation for their excellent work, and were the direct means of bringing many easterners over to the Pacific coast.

Later, Mr. Bradley was chief musician of the Seventh California Infantry band, during their enlistment in the Spanish-American war.

The band has engaged Smith's hall for rehearsal room and meet on Tuesday and Friday evenings each week. At their last meeting William Warner, the business manager, reported several good engagements in the near future.

The band is to hold its annual election of officers on Friday evening, March 25.

There is a good, substantial sum in the band treasury and the boys hope this season to realize a few dollars in cash for their services, for, while all bandmen know that a brass band is no place to make money, still a few dollars at times helps keep up the interest, and also assists in paying for instruments, music, rent and other expenses which cost more than a "thank you."
