

WHAT IF JOHNSON SHOULD GO TO JAIL?

That is Question Which is Worrying Gleason and Rickard—Would Mean Loss Thousands of Dollars.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., March 26.—What if Jack Johnson should go to jail?

Maybe this question isn't running through the minds of Jack Gleason and Tex Rickard day and night. The promoters of the great heavyweight battle affect to be unperturbed, but low down they are doing a lot of worrying, for in Judge Malqueen the negro champion faces a jurist who sets the law above everything else. "Pull" and sympathy have no place in his legal action. In New York he is known as the "iron judge," and it has ever been said of him that where conclusive guilt of a culprit brought before him has been shown, the limit of the law was handed out, without regard to race, creed or previous condition of servitude.

Therefore, if Norman Pinder, the victim of Johnson's wrath, comes into court, testifies against his assailant and makes that testimony stick, things will go hard with Johnson. Six months on Blackwell's island might be his fate.

On the other hand, if Pinder fails to appear Judge Murqueen undoubtedly will carry out his threat to turn the grand jury loose on the case, and if it can be shown that Johnson is in any way responsible for Pinder's disappearance, the black giant would be in a fair way to do a shuffle in the line at Sing Sing.

That Johnson is in a bad hole is fully realized by Rickard and Gleason. If the negro should be given the butt end of the law it will mean the loss of thousands of dollars, for even should they pull the fight off six months or even four months after July 4, much interest in the contest will have been lost, and in the meantime the money expended in the arena and in promoting the affair will have lost, temporarily, its coinage power.

How Johnson can get out of the predicament is something the pessimist is trying hard to figure out.

If Johnson succeeds in getting out of this scrape, Gleason and Rickard should at once see to it that he is constantly guarded by a corps of huskies capable of keeping the black out of trouble. It not only will save them a lot of money, but their peace of mind as well.

A HOLLOW VICTORY SAYS LA FOLLETTE

Fire-Eater of Wisconsin Says Cannonism Without Cannon is as Bad as Cannonism With Cannon.

MADISON, Wis., March 26.—"Cannonism without Cannon is just as hurtful as Cannonism with Cannon" is the comment of Senator La Follette in this week's issue of his magazine.

In the leading editorial in the current issue he declares the victory of the insurgents in the rules fight is a hollow victory. The ousting of the speaker from the rules committee does not change "the plane of the organization of the house at the beginning of each congress or deprive the speaker of the absolute power of appointing a member on all standing committees on all legislation."

The editorial says the real battle must be fought out at the primaries and election between now and November.
