

ASHLAND WINS FROM TALENT

Saturday Game Between Ashland and Talent Teams Close, But Score Is Large—Jacksonville-Central Point Summary.

(BY JAMES D. FAY.)

Coffman, the young pitcher dug up by Jacksonville from the wilds of Applegate, the erstwhile habit of Hoins Parnell, made his first appearance Sunday in fast company and made good with the county seat fans. In the first six innings he caused 16 of the Central Pointers to smite the score—and that Central Point bunch was stick some—and allowed but six hits.

Hopkins of Central Point hit the spaulding on the seam and sailed it over left field fence with one man on the bases. Summary follows:

SUMMARY.

Slain bases—Jacksonville 3, Central Point 5; two-base hits, Wilson, Melstyre, Peart; three-base hits, Gustin, Melstyre; home run, Hopkins; double play, Gustin to Donegan; bases on balls, off Coffman 4, off Murray 5; struck out, by Coffman 19, by Murray 8; passed balls, Wilson, Sams, C. Clark; wild pitch, Murray; left on bases, Jacksonville 12, Central Point 5.

The baseball season at the south end of the valley was ushered in last Saturday by a game between the Red Sox and White Sox of Ashland and Talent, respectively, on the grounds of the latter, the Granite City lads winning by the close score of 13 to 5. The playing was fast and furious on both sides, with rivalry keen, as may be judged from the result.

The redoubtable Red Sox local nine lined up as follows: C. Wagner, catcher; L. Mowat, pitcher; Fordney, first base; J. Mowat, second base; E. Moody, third base; McWilliams, left field; Enders, center field; R. Wagner, right field; Herriek, shortstop—all would be professionals who seek high standing in league circles.

There is rare sport ahead, for the brisk young team of the neighboring town promises to play a return engagement at an early date, in which event it is needless to add that they will exploit some surprising talent.

Neighbors down the valley turned out in force and welcomed the visitors. Enthusiasm ran high, and the boys returned from the trip evidently greatly encouraged over the prospects of a lively campaign for the forthcoming season.

Under the guise of holding an "Easter picnic," a levy of girls went along, and the presence of the young ladies proved an incentive to all the players. A feature of the outing was that the representatives from here, both boys and girls, walked the entire distance to and from the scene of the game, an athletic stunt of no slight proportions. Scoring railway trains, the new motor service, livery rigs and private conveyances, they simply "hiked." The one solitary exception was the case of a member of the team who went over in an auto as supercargo. He pleaded that subs were not available.

able and the fact of pedestrianship might have imperiled success on the diamond, a plea which the umpire entertained until the matter could be taken under advisement. Meanwhile a verdict is pending, the third baseman being released on his own recognizance until a decision is reached.

WILD WEST SHOW MONDAY AFTERNOON

Somebody brought a "bronch" to town from the Applegate section Monday, and getting around among the sports, intimated that he couldn't be ridden. There were several past and present "twisters" in the city and it wasn't long until one was found who had an idea that no pony like that could "run his boot heels." The pony was small and insignificant looking and the first rider didn't even take the trouble to adjust the stirrups. There's where he made the mistake, for the very first jump the horse made he loosened his rider and a side step completed the job. The crowd then began to look upon that horse with considerable respect. The word got out and a crowd gathered. The proposed meeting of the council to consider paving bids was late because the council was attending the show in a body.

The second rider, aided by two herders, managed to stick, but he was nearly as big as the horse, and he wouldn't have qualified in any bucking contest because he "climbed" with his spurs and was balanced once by his herders when the little horse had his going.

Next a young man about town concluded he could "bust that bronch," but after being thrown three times, he gave it up.

"He was game, though," said a spectator. "The last time he tried it he took the bridle off. I came away when he started going up. He hadn't started down when I turned the corner."

400 WALTONS AT LARGE IN COUNTY

County Clerk Busy With Annual Applications for Licenses to Fish—Hunting Licenses Are Also in Demand—List Growing Each Day.

Over 400 disciples of Isaak Walton are at large in the county of Jackson, according to the licenses to fish in the streams of the county which have been granted by County Clerk Coleman. Many of these licenses are combination for both hunting and fishing, while some 100 hunting licenses have been taken out.

Those who expect to get on the trail of the trout when the season opens will do well to first comply with the law and obtain a license at the office of the county clerk. The tax is $1 each. Those who fish without a license will be liable to a fine of from $25 to $150 and imprisonment. Combined angler and hunter's licenses are issued at $2 each.

COLONEL TOU VELLE BUYS THE SAVAGE TRACT

Colonel F. L. Tou Velle has purchased from Eugene Savage ten acres set to 5-year-old pears, part of the Ross tract west of Medford, for $4100.

Mr. Savage bought 20 acres in this tract five years ago, paying $2500 for it. He sold half of it two years ago for $2500 and now the balance for $4100.

"I might have made more by holding the other ten acres, but I haven't done so badly, after all," says Mr. Savage.

Jews Have No Meat.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., March 29.—Twenty thousand Jews of St. Louis, who eat only kosher meat, are practically without flesh foods today on account of the closing of the 42 shops.

The shops closed late yesterday. When it became known that they were to close, 5000 men and women stormed the shops and offered to pay any price for the meat.

The dealers declare that they cannot operate at a profit, as the meat is sold at an established price of 12 cents.

GRIEVE HERE NEXT WEEK TO ASSESS

County Assessor Completes Work in Jacksonville and Will Start Next on Medford—Will Do All of the Work in This City Personally.

County Assessor Grieve will next week start work on the assessment roll of Medford for 1910, attending to the matter personally. So many kicks were registered regarding last year's work that Mr. Grieve has decided to attend to Medford himself and then, if any kicks are made, he will know the reason why.

The work of assessing Jacksonville has been completed by the assessor and that of assessing Ashland has advanced considerably. Mr. Grieve as a preliminary step has completed a series of maps showing each present owner of each block and lot in the city as well as the additions. He will start with lot 1 in block 1 and work up. After next Monday he will be found daily in this city until the roll is completed.
