

DOG AWAKENS AN IMPERILED FAMILY

Mc Turner's Barking Awakens a Family of Five and Saves Them from Flames.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., April 2.—James McDermott, his wife and three-year-old daughter, Alice, were saved from immolation in the fire which destroyed their home at 735 Vermont street today by the barking of a pet terrier.

The family was sleeping when the flames broke out in the upper floor near the bedroom. The barking of the little animal aroused McDermott. His wife and baby were already overcome by the smoke. The man succeeded in carrying them both to safety before the fire had reached the room.

Arthur Jones, the high school student, went home Friday to pass his weekly vacation with his parents near Beagle.

DR. OLIVER

EVANGELIST TO MEDFORD APRIL 24TH.

The Tabernacle Being Built on North Street Near Jackson Street to Accommodate 1000 to 1500 People.

Dr. Oliver will be in Medford April 24th to start the union revival meeting. The church people are looking forward to the greatest revival ever held in this part of Oregon. Rev. H. Gordon, D. D. Litt. D., in his sketch of Dr. Oliver, says that he is the greatest evangelist of the present day. He has been holding phenomenally successful meetings all over the west for the past eight years.

Dr. Oliver is a man of most striking personality standing 6 feet 4 inches in height, broad shoulders and as straight as an Indian.

His body is well built and full of muscle, nerves and vitality, a classical face, firm nose, lips that close like a vice, a chin that denotes strength of will and firmness of character, a head that would answer for a Goliath's neck and eyes that are steel gray, piercing and searching the souls of his listeners through and through. As a lecturer Dr. Oliver has few peers in America.

Dr. Oliver is now conducting evangelistic services in Ashland and the first week shows a record of over 100 conversions.

HOLMES AND BUNDY PURCHASE NOB HILL

Five-Acre Tract on West Main Is Bought for Flattening Purposes—Wealth, Rankins and Other Citizens Speak in Advance for Lots.

The walk to the heights east of Medford, especially on Sunday afternoon is now the right thing. It is not only to see the city outspread below, already giving the idea of a metropolis, but to gaze upon the orchard fields, encroaching upon the distant heights, perhaps the most wonderful development in the northwest, that attracts all to the heights.

It is well to take this trip every Sunday, and to note the building activity, the new roofs rising from the sheltering shade of the native forest trees, green in their spring verdure, far to be seen by frequent observation that one can keep pace with the growth of Medford. Of late it is not only the distant view which impresses, for the needed thing is no longer lacking: the beautifying of the heights themselves, the city's fairest residence quarter, since the completion of the new reservoir. A great advance in value of the property in the Nob Hill neighborhood has been the result of the advent of water under pressure lines, and almost every hillside and knoll will be decorated with a new home before another year goes by.

Our own citizens are wide awake to the possibilities of this section, and it is extremely hard to secure desirable tracts even now. Much gratification is expressed over the fact that the original "Nob Hill" five acres has this week passed from the former owner into the hands of W. M.
