Colonel J. E. Ross, Thomas Beall, F. M. and T. P. Plymouth and Isaac Constant were among those who held stock in the old road.

MEDFORD SPORTS MUST BE "SHOWN"

Wrestling Match Last Night Fails to Draw—The Box Receipts of 75 Cents Returned.

The opera-house wrestling match at the opera house drew a 75-cent house, and the money was returned to the ticket purchasers. They were the only people who came out even. The Medford people go strong when they are reasonably certain of a good show, dramatic, fistie or otherwise, but there is much of the original Missouri blood in the average Medfordite yet, and they must be shown, otherwise they stay away. They stayed away from the wrestling match last night in large flocks. The sports hadn't been "shown" that they were going to see a real match, and most of them had a recollection of some of the wrestling (?) bouts they had been regaled with last year.

NEW BOOKS FOR THE PUBLIC LIBRARY

The library patrons are rejoicing in the beautiful series of Charles Scribner's Sons' of James Barrie, last week. Lovers of publication, Rudyard Kipling and Thomas Nelson Page may revel to their hearts' content, for the complete works of each of the above authors is now in the library. The editions are unusually handsome and convenient as to binding, print and illustrations. Those fond of old plantation stories and sketches of Virginia "before the war" will delight in the Page writings, the popularity of whose books by Medford readers was demonstrated by the fact that 12 of his books were drawn the first afternoon they were placed on the general circulation.

A new set of the traveling library series has been received and is also ready for circulation. All the state libraries hitherto loaned to Medford have been thoroughly enjoyed and much is expected of the last one.

OFFICER COMES FOR ALLEGED FORGER

Marshal of Lebanon Arrives and Takes Earl Blair Back to Face Charge of Forging Checks.

Frank Richards, marshal of Lebanon, Or., arrived on No. 15 Saturday morning and left on No. 16, having in custody Earl Blair (Mallory), who was arrested Thursday by Chief Shearer on a charge of having uttered forged checks.

The specific complaint upon which Blair is taken to Lebanon is that he "raised" a check of $5 issued to him for work done there to $50. The alleged crime was committed several months ago, but the officers have been following Blair, owing to several similar tricks he had turned in the east.

DOCTOR OLIVER'S ASSISTANT HERE

Dr. Frank E. Oliver's assistant in the great campaign, "Medford for Christ," arrived on the ground Friday, and after looking over the location selected for the site of the big tabernacle, is greatly pleased.

Lumber will be placed on the ground immediately and the building will commence in earnest on Monday.

The tabernacle is to seat 3000 people and the choir loft will seat 400. Evidently large audiences are expected. The committee on music, consisting of 15 from each church, will meet Mr. Beeler on Monday evening at 8 o'clock at the M. E. church for the purpose of making all necessary arrangements for music during the meetings. It is proposed to furnish exceptionally fine music for each service, and Medford will certainly be able to supply a chorus that will meet every exaction. If you can sing, don't wait to be asked, but volunteer at once.

Up to the present time about 250 conversions have taken place at Ashland. Dr. Oliver is doing a great work in the good town of Ashland—evidently he is getting loyal support from the Christian people of that place.

Dr. Oliver must be a very powerful speaker, if all reports are true—at least Medford will soon have a chance to find him out.

NEW CENTRAL OINT BOOKLET IS OUT

The booklet issued by the Central Point Commercial club has been issued, and it is a credit to the town and to the club. The illustrations are first-class, the subject matter up to the standard and the designs and work on the book far above the average.

Central Point is to be congratulated for having issued such an attractive piece of advertising.

GREATER MEDFORD BLOCK DAY

At the last meeting of the Greater Medford club the novel scheme of "Block day" was adopted to raise the much-needed funds for the library. In this plan will be found none of the offensive elements of soliciting, so that the long-suffering philanthropic business men of Medford may rejoice to know that they will not be attacked and invaded for donations to another worthy cause.

Again, the people of Medford will be glad that nothing on the order of a nerve-racking, wildly active "Tag day" is to be revived.

Also, Block day is not at all related to the programs of song and dance with which the ladies of the club have been delighting their friends of late—though the Block day will not be without its entertaining features—and, yea, even musical ones.

Block day is absolutely unique. It is such a big undertaking, too, that any weak-kneed organization would be staggered. Not so the intrepid members of the Greater Medford club, who are all eager for the plan, as attested by the unanimity of its adoption. At a later date the modus operandi will be explained in detail.

The chairman-in-chief is Mrs. F. E. Merrick, whose energy and success in former undertakings inspires confidence and insures huge success in the present project.

The whole of the Greater Medford club has been divided into five committees, each of which will be duly informed of its functions. The committees are as follows:

1—Mesdames Merrick (chairman), Ed Andrews, W. H. Brown, Canon Daniels, Fabric, Kent, Nye, L. H. Porter, Ed Trowbridge, Welch, Williams, Fielder.

2—Mesdames Vawter, Bliton, Wes Green, Garnet, Hutehason, McGowan, Hollis, Miles, McIntosh, Perry, Ray, Wolverton, Worthington, Anderson, Aldenhagen, Weissner, Wakeman, Gluck, Getchell, Lounsberry, Kirby, Miller, Goff, Lay, Townsend.

3—Mesdames A. H. Miller (chairman), Alfred, Bundy, Conrad, Emerick, Elwood, Morrison, M. J. Miller, McKain, Nicholson, Newman, Palm, Reagan, Shirley, Stoddard, Allen, William Andrews, L. B. Brown, Davis, E. E. Gore, W. N. Harmon, Orth, Patten, Shields, Wright.

4—Mesdames Neff (chairman), Ritter, Boggs, Erdmann, Hazelrigg, Kentner, Luke, Lucas, McCray, Page, Reddy, Root, Streets, Smith, Suediger, Tuttle, Wortman, Worrell, Warner, York, Antle, Gale, Isaacs, Mundy, Mears, McNeally, Seely, Spink, Osborne.
