ANOTHER OPERA STAR BUYS HERE

Carrick Major, "Bogy Man" in "Gingerbread Man," Purchases Part of the Stewart Tract.

Another well known opera singer has become so impressed with the beauty and possibilities of the Rogue River valley that he has purchased a place, will plant an orchard and make a home where he can retire between seasons and enjoy life.

Carrick Major, one of the stars of the "Gingerbread Man," who plays the character of "Machavallus Fodge," a dealer in black art, second hand curses and evil omens, is the latest addition to Medford's operatic colony. When here a year ago he was charmed with the country and began negotiations for a tract. This visit he purchased, through Moss Barkdull, 15 3-4 acres of the Stewart tract, adjoining Bates brothers' orchard on the foothills west of the city.

Nearly every opera troupe that has stopped any time in Medford is delighted with both city and valley, and usually some one of the stars makes an investment.

BRANCH GOLD HILL CO. BUYS IN KLAMATH

Keno Railroad & Lumber Company Buys Up Much Property and Will Improve—Big Lumbering Planned.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., April 18.—J. King, manager of the Keno Railroad & Lumber company, arrived here last night in his automobile to take charge of the company's proposed work in this vicinity.

This company is a branch of the Gold Hill Railroad & Lumber company, which is operating extensively in that section. It recently organized and incorporated here and purchased the McCormick sawmill and light plant at Keno, 12 miles southwest of this city, to be operated under the name of the Pogeama Railroad & Lumber company. In addition to buying this mill and the property, which contains several hundred acres of fine timber, it has since purchased about 2500 acres of timber in the finest sugar and yellow pine belt in the Klamath country.

The Potter sawmill at Pogeama, 23 miles farther southwest of Keno, has also been purchased by this company. It is now being dismantled and the machinery is to be taken to Gold Hill to be installed in a mill there. New machinery has been ordered from the east to be brought to Keno within the next few weeks. This will be installed in a new mill at this place and will have a daily capacity of 250,000 feet of lumber.

The old steamer Canby, which has been used by the McCormick people for transportation on the Klamath river between here and Keno, is being remodeled and new machinery placed therein. This boat will be taken to the lower Klamath lake, where it will be used for towing logs and the transportation of lumber. Machinery and material has been ordered for a new boat to ply on the river in place of the Canby. This boat will be 25x100 feet. A smaller boat, 16x50, will also be built for the upper Klamath lake for the use of the company and general traffic purposes.

Work will commence within a few days on the three miles of logging railroad for the bringing of the sawlogs from the timber to the mill. Later this road will be extended to Pogeama to connect with the Weyerhaeuser lumber railroad for the transportation of the products of the mill to outside markets.

Cottage Prayermeetings Every Night This Week

Block Day Means Anonymos Gifts

The anonymous gift of $350,000 to Columbia university points to a solution, temporary, perhaps, but a solution still, of a rather urgent problem of practical philanthropy. In other words, in this age of million-dollar benefactions, what chance to jar the public has the well-meaning fellow who has only a trifling $350,000 to bestow. Now, by the expedient of anonymous gifts he may emerge from the 2-20 class in the running and do his part in philanthropies.

Of course, for the coming Block Day, none of the ladies anticipate such mammoth benefactions given even publicly; but it is felt that many people have withheld contributions to the worthy library cause, because they felt their possible gifts too small. Such reasons, however, need no longer deter donations, small or otherwise, from finding their way into the Block Day envelopes, since all the gifts are to be anonymous.

NOTICE.
There will be no meeting of the Wednesday Study club this week.

LOOKING UP OLD TERMINAL GROUNDS

Much Interest Displayed in Grants Pass Over Rumor That Southern Pacific Intends Building to Coast.

GRANTS PASS, April 18.—Several years ago, when the subject of a railroad south from this city was proposed by Gunn and Draper, they asked for land for a terminal in this city. The property was selected by them and a number of our citizens put up $1000 of the purchase price and the railroad people put up the balance, $1800, and according to agreement the deed was taken in the name of a committee representing those who paid the $1000. From time to time the road promoters had been in this city, since, having large mining interests in the southern part of this county. They kept their railroad franchise alive and protected their right of way, and consequently they were at all times in a position to do business.

On Friday morning their attorney, A. C. Hough, of this city, received a letter instructing him to secure, if possible, the terminal ground, they offering to pay back the $1000 and interest thereon, as they expect to need the property for railroad purposes in the near future.

Little is known in this city as to what is going on, but that the Southern Pacific is in the deal, as mentioned last week, is surmised. The next move will be watched by Grants Pass people with interest.

GETTING PLANS FOR DISTRICT FAIR READY

If Plans Do Not Miscarry, This Year's District Fair Will Be Best in History of the Valley.

The District Fair association met recently at the Grants Pass Commercial club rooms, E. T. Staples of Ashland and J. A. Perry of Medford coming down specially for the purpose, says the Courier. The Commercial club will now assist the commissioners in making the necessary arrangements for holding at Grants Pass next October the most attractive fair ever held in southern Oregon. Every farmer, gardener, fruit grower, stock raiser and miner should begin now to make preparations for exhibiting the best that skill can produce. Attractive premiums will be offered, Jackson county has promised to exhibit the most wonderful display of pears ever placed on exhibition. Josephine county should double her efforts of two years ago. We certainly can show fruit, vegetables, grains, grasses, lumber products and stock, cattle, hogs, horses and colts which would be hard to beat in any country. The fact that the Commercial club is going to manage the fair is a guarantee that it will be of a very pronounced success. Everybody get busy. From now on full particulars will be published in the county newspapers and every citizen of Josephine county should take a part. So come along, Williams Creek, Applegate, Illinois River, Sucker Creek, up the river, down the river and every section of the county.

The mining men of the county should make an ore exhibit which will do justice to the rich mineral districts of the two counties. Excursion trains will be run from Spokane, Seattle and Portland and all intermediate points, so that our exhibit will be seen by thousands of people. The Southern Pacific will make a special effort to bring in everybody to see the wonderful exposition of the products of the famous Rogue River valley. Let every hand in making the display worthy of the occasion. Let all pull together and see to it everything is done which may contribute to the success of the fourth annual exposition of the two great fruit counties of Oregon.
