

HEAVIER TRAVEL THAN LAST YEAR

Northwest Begins to Stride Ahead of California in Number of Colonists and Tourists—This Year Is Banner One for Hotels.

SPOKANE, Wash., April 19.—"Colonist and tourist travel to Montana, Idaho, Washington and Oregon has been, as at present and will continue to be greater this season than to the southwest and California, as a result of the effective campaigns carried on by the various commercial organizations in the northwest and the railroads operating in this part of the country."

Frank D. Brundage of New York, assistant manager of the firm of Knuth, Nechel & Kuhne, operating the largest international banking house in the world, said this in the course of an interview in Spokane yesterday on the way home, completing a tour of 13,000 miles in the western part of the United States.

"One of the best indications of the healthy condition of the country as a whole is the extensive travel," he added. "On every train there are many travelers, some of whom are looking for places to settle permanently, to make investments, and others who are traveling for pleasure. Both are good indications."

"All over the east we hear the most favorable reports of the northwestern states, and the town and country districts are attracting the attention not only of prospective homeseekers, but capitalists as well. Much interest has been aroused in the fruit industry in the irrigated belts as well as in mining, lumbering, stock raising and other forms of agriculture, and there is every indication that the four states will receive hundreds of thousands of new settlers during the next two or three years."

"The possibility of logged-off lands in the northwestern states cannot be overestimated after one has seen the country, and I am told there are thousands of acres of other lands that could be brought under irrigation or cultivated by dry farming methods, which have been highly successful in the semi-arid districts. As soon as these facts become known there will be a great influx."

PORTLAND PAPER BOOMS REAMES FOR GOVERNOR

The Portland Spectator booms A. E. Reames for governor in the following:

"Among the notables in the city this week was E. A. Reames of Jacksonville, who came to Portland to see that some of his friends had a chance to buy orchard land in the garden of Oregon before it was all taken by the wise men of the east. Mr. Reames is one of the big lawyers in the southern part of the state. The fact that he is a Democrat is nothing against him personally, for his popularity matches with that of any man in Oregon; but it is against him politically. Were it not for his politics, he could have any political office he desired. He may be the Democratic candidate for governor, and if he is, the Republican nominee will know that there has been a contest. Mr. Reames married one of the late Congressman Tongue's daughters, and is related to many of the prominent people in the state."

TERRIBLE CROUP.

One Who Knows Recommends a Remedy to Anxious Mothers.

My little boy, who is four years old, has suffered a lot with croup. On several occasions we thought he was gone.

After trying all the old time remedies and most of the new, I came home one night at midnight, and my wife said: "The boy has the croup again—suppose you get a bottle of Hyomei." "More junk," I said, "but we will circulate our money so they all will get some."

I hastened to an all night drug store, brought it home. In five minutes he was breathing easier. In fifteen minutes he was sound asleep. It broke the croup so quickly it scared me.

Anyone wishing to cure the croup of a child I hope will give Hyomei a trial.

Wishing you the best of success, which you surely deserve, I remain, Jos. E. Clark, 204 6th St., S. E. Washington, D. C., Oct. 7, 1909.

Hyomei is a remarkably effective remedy in case of croup and it should be in every home where there is a croupy child. Full instructions how to cure croup comes with each outfit. Complete Hyomei outfit including inhaler costs $1.00 at druggists everywhere and at Chas. Strang's. It is guaranteed to cure catarrh, coughs, colds and sore throat.

OLIVER AND CONVERSION

Pastor's Statement of Evangelist's Religious Work at Eugene, Or.

(Portland Oregonian, March 18.) Eugene, Or., March 16.—(To the Editor.)—Considerable interest has been aroused throughout the state by the revival meeting, held in Eugene, Or., by Rev. French E. Oliver, D. D., of Kansas City, Mo. Owing to the reported gross misrepresentations of the evangelist mentioned, the meetings, and the result of the work, it seems wise to offer a statement in behalf of several thousand of the representative people of Eugene, who were directly engaged in this work.

The Eugene newspapers gave liberal space to the reports of the work and the Register submitted several editorials which set before its readers a just opinion of the questions involved. Had these been copied as extensively as some other reports, there would have been no necessity for this statement. The following editorial is here quoted, because it expresses the sentiment of most of our people: "Thursday night (March 10) brought to close one of the most remarkable religious revivals ever held in Eugene, if not in all Oregon, when Evangelist Oliver of Kansas City, Mo., closed a six weeks' meeting at the big Tabernacle, with a record of over 1000 conversions as a result. The revival was far-reaching in its effect, creating an interest and discussion on religious questions not only all over Oregon, but beyond its borders, reaching out into adjoining states. Dr. Oliver can be put down as one of the greatest evangelists that has ever visited the Pacific coast, regardless of the fact that his methods have not been fully indorsed by all classes, a condition hardly to be expected."

"It is much easier to be good than it is to be good for something, and Dr. Oliver believes his methods are legitimate, and wide experience has convinced him that they are the best for him. At least, this is his judgment. It must be admitted that for nearly six weeks this meeting was the biggest thing in Eugene. The Tabernacle, seating 3000 people, was filled at nearly every service, and frequently crowded, and at times hundreds could not gain admittance. A choir which numbered 600 voices at times was directed most ably by Professor W. A. Maltbie, the singer, who assisted also as a soloist. No little credit for the results is due to this great choir. But Dr. Oliver was the campaigner who directed the work and whose utterances stirred the people. No meeting has so successfully reached the representative citizens, business men, professional students, university students, high school students and mature young people in great numbers."

"The possibility of logged-off lands in the northwestern states cannot be overestimated after one has seen the country, and I am told there are thousands of acres of other lands that could be brought under irrigation or cultivated by dry farming methods, which have been highly successful in the semi-arid districts. As soon as these facts become known there will be a great influx."

CENTRAL POINT NEWSLETTER

Professor Hanby, principal of the Gold Hill public school, spent Sunday in town. Mr. Hanby was at the head of our school some years ago and has hosts of friends here.

Masters Elmer and Floyd Kyle spent Sunday in Ashland, guests of Miss Agnes Story.

Frank Rogers and family of Beagle are spending a few days at the home of A. D. Huston. Mrs. Rogers is a sister of Mrs. Huston.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. English of Medford came up Sunday for a little visit with Mr. and Mrs. L. Hatfield.

T. M. Jones sold six fine building lots to W. H. Norcross last Saturday. These lots lie close in the southwest portion of the city and four of them will be immediately placed upon the market by Mr. Norcross.

It is reported this morning that W. E. Kahl sold his orchard east of town last Saturday afternoon.

Dr. Ray goes to San Francisco this week to purchase furniture for the Central Point hotel, which is about to receive a complete renovating. The hotel will be completely remodeled and fitted up with baths, toilets, hot and cold water on both floors, and in other ways made much more comfortable and convenient for the use of its patrons.

William Welch and his cousin, Miss Alice Gregory, both of Central Point, came near losing their lives in a runaway accident last Sunday. It appears that they were driving home from Medford about noon. Miss Gregory having attended church in Medford. The horse took alarm at the raising of the buggy top and broke into a frenzied run. Mr. Welch did all in his power to check the maddened animal without any effect, and the buggy was dashed from one side of the road to the other at the heels of the frightened horse until it finally struck a telephone post and was overturned, the occupants being thrown many feet away and dashed senseless against the fence. The buggy was wrecked. The horse found his way to Medford and the crowd which gathered hastily revived

"Dr. Oliver preaches the evangelical doctrines, makes no apologies for his beliefs, hits sin in all its forms and among all classes and holds convictions so strongly that some of his seemingly extravagant statements are but natural to one of his temperament and zeal. Dr. Oliver is a born fighter and would be a marked personality in any profession. The leading evangelists of the country honor him for his work's sake. The widow of the Rev. Sam Jones selected Dr. Oliver to deliver the funeral oration of her honored husband in the state capitol building of Georgia. He has traveled extensively at home and abroad, is a fellow in the American Geographical society, an author-lecturer of high standing, a composer of some of our best hymns and has reached this acknowledged place at the early age of 31.

"To have carved his career unaided from the age of 14, challenges the admiration of earnest men. Dr. Oliver has not sought the money of Eugene people. The only remuneration he asked was a free-will offering based upon work accomplished. Through a great campaign, including the expensive Tabernacle building, was financed, the people readily gave the evangelist $2000 for his services. Almost another week was added, without cost, because the interest of the work demanded the extra effort. Last Sunday the various church people met in their own buildings and some test of the work was made. These buildings were generally crowded, hundreds were added to their membership, and the greatest day in their history witnessed. Every church in the city has received members, and churches in the surrounding towns and country districts report additions. The ingathering, however, is not ended. Dr. Oliver's work elsewhere has endured, and it will endure in Eugene. He preaches civic righteousness, business honesty, honor for law, purity of the home, cleanliness of life, temperance reform. He has not striven for numbers. He is a Puritan in his teaching as compared with the emotional evangelist. His demands for the Christian life are sternly exacting."

This statement is not a defense of Dr. Oliver, for he does not ask anyone to agree with or endorse all he says and does, but it is sent in the belief that it voices the conviction of thousands of Eugene, Or., people.

Chairman of executive committee of churches united in the meeting.

Secretary.

TEMPORARY LULL CHINESE RIOTING

Newspapers, However, Take Pessimistic Views of Situation and Say That an Outbreak Is Sure to Follow.

LONDON, April 19.—Advice received by the British foreign office today declare that rioting in Chang Sha has ceased. The reports, however, indicate that the lull is only temporary, and, according to the advice, further rioting against foreigners is feared.

Another out break, which may include other cities in the interior, is feared.

The newspapers here today still take a pessimistic view of the situation and predict that further outbreaks are bound to come. The Leader today says after predicting further disturbances: "China is about to pay dearly for the reaction which swept such men as Yuan Shi Kai from her councils."

The want ad, that's "personal"—practically so—in its interest to you, is pretty certain to be in this issue.

PERU IS NOT TO FIGHT ECUADOR

Differences Will Be Settled by Peaceful Means—War Spirit Is Dying Down Rapidly in Both of the Southern Countries.

VALPARAISO, Chile, April 19.—It is now almost a certainty that war between Ecuador and Peru is not to be.

It is believed in diplomatic circles that the differences existing between the two countries will soon be settled by peaceful means.

The Chilean government has offered its services as mediator between the countries and officers of the foreign office have announced that the offer will be accepted by both Peru and Ecuador.

Dispatches from Peru and Ecuador today indicate that the war spirit is dying down rapidly and that cooler heads are in control of the situation.

There is every expectation of a harmonious settlement within a very short time.
