

GOLD HILL RAILROAD AND LUMBER CO. MILL

Is Rapidly Nearing Completion—Machinery Arriving Every Day—Fifty Men Employed on Railroad.

GOLD HILL, April 22.—The mill of the Gold Hill Railroad and Lumber company is rapidly approaching completion under the direction of John McKee. Machinery for the mill is arriving every day and when in running order the mill will employ 200 men.

Fifty men are at work on the railroad and it is also being pushed. The ties are all laid as far as the Hughes lime quarry and steel and rolling stock are expected any day now.

BASEBALL NOTES.

It will be many days before Charley Graham will be able to play the part of the receiver, which is unfortunate for the senators. His new pitcher, Hollis, late of the San Raphael club, reported yesterday and Graham thought he would give him a tryout. He sent him into the box before the game and had some of his best stickers face him. Charley himself going behind the plate. Hollis had thrown but a few balls when a foul tip struck Graham on the tip of the exposed thumb and made a gash which required two stitches to close. The bone of the thumb protruded through the flesh when Graham left the field to call a surgeon. Six or seven years ago, when Charley was playing with the seals he met with the same sort of an accident. The same thumb was smashed and Graham was out of the game a long time. With his team going so miserably yesterday's accident was a tough piece of luck.

The Medford baseball team will play Grants Pass at the latter place next Sunday. The team will leave Medford on the 2:03 motor and the game will commence immediately after their arrival on the grounds. This arrangement will give the fans an opportunity to see the game and only be away a half day from that dear Medford.

If Court Hall would include Josephine county in that $500 challenge he might get a taker.

It wouldn't be a bad game with Cooper in the box, Curly Wilson as receiver and Bowers on first, and the balance of the team made up from Jacksonville, Central Point and Grants Pass. Even leaving Cooper out Ferguson and Osborne can do some flinging and young Murray can hand a few over himself.

MANY CHANGES ARE TO BE MADE IN POLICE FORCE

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—After a conference between Harry Flannery, chairman of the police commission, and Chief of Police Martin, which lasted to an early hour today, announcement was made that many sweeping changes in the police department are imminent.

The final movement to reorganize the department will be the transfer of eight police captains, nine sergeants to other districts.

The announcements were made after an investigation by Mayor McCarthy.

For some time the McCarthy administration has been subject to newspaper attacks and open charges have been made to the effect that the administration was responsible for an open town.

The first horse power spraying machine brought to Ashland is that of H. A. Warren, who bought the Brooks 20-acre orchard and vineyard in West Ashland. A single horse furnishes the motive power for hauling the equipment from tree to tree through the orchard and as the equipment moves air is compressed in a tank which serves to furnish the pressure for expelling the spray through hose or pipe, and nozzle upon trees or plants.

ATTORNEY ASKS THAT WOMAN SHARPSHOOTER BE ARRESTED

RENO, Nev., April 22.—Attorney Warren of the town of Bishop, Cal., is today seeking the arrest of Mrs. Kate Wells, her brother and son, who are alleged to have fired upon him at Altair, a mining camp where the Wells and Warren have disputed claims.

Warren claims that when he attempted to enter the claim he was fired upon by Mrs. Wells, who was mounted on a cow pony and armed with a rifle. He alleges her relatives then took up the fight and injured a bystander. Warren attributes his escape from death to the poor marksmanship of the Wells.

HILL SUVEYORS HEAD FOR TIMBER

Oregon Trunk Engineers Operating West of Klamath Lake Headed for Weyerhaeuser's Belt of Timber.

KLAMATH FALLS, Or., April 22.—J. J. Whitcomb is in the city and states that the Oregon Trunk has several crews of surveyors at work on the west side of the lake. They are surveying a line along the west side of Aspe. lake and are heading toward the Klamath river. These operations would indicate that instead of coming to this city, it will turn eastward from the upper lake and head for the Klamath river, penetrating the immense body of timber in that locality owned by the Weyerhaeuser company.

"BLIND PIG" CRUSADE IS ON IN KLAMATH COUNTY CITY

MERRILL, Or., April 22.—The recently inaugurated crusade against the "blind pig" element here has resulted in the arrest of three proprietors of soft drink parlors, charging them with selling intoxicants. The men arrested were Frank Murphy, Frank Bloomingcamp and John Ratcliff.

Since Merrill, with the rest of Klamath county, went dry, several soft drink parlors have been established. Frequent charges of breaking the law have been made against them, but each time the accused have managed to win. Since the new town board went into office a concerted move has been started to stamp out the "blind pigs."
