CANNON TELLS DRUNKS GO, SIN NO MORE

Police Court Has Busy Session—Man Who Interfered With Policeman Is Fined.

Police Judge Canon released the drunks gathered in by the police Monday night, four in number, with the admonition to go—and keep on going—and sin no more. They went. One who had interfered with an officer was fined.

Jack Cannon was brought before the mayor this morning, accused of fighting on the streets, and was fined $20. Cannon stated that he was in the rear of one of the saloons when three fellows came in and started to go through him. Cannon, who is something of a scrapper, waited until the proper time and then proceeded to do business with his assailants. He punished two of them severely, but the other, a cripple, made his getaway and was sitting down, apparently innocent, on Front street when Cannon, coming through from the rear of the saloon, saw him and landed a short-arm blow that put the cripple out of business for a while. Cannon was arrested and pleaded guilty to the charge of hitting the cripple.

The deal was negotiated by the real estate firm of Gillette & Campbell.

Mr. Bly purchased the property comparatively recently at about $300 per acre, and has been putting it in fine shape, adding a neat residence. He contemplates a trip with his family to New York to attend to some business affairs in his old home state but expects to return to this section in due course of time.

SHOT FROM WARDEN'S GUN.

Using Emory's body as a shield, Brophy unlocked his fellow conspirators' cells and they all dashed for the window of the cell house. Williams dropped through the window to the prison yard. He was followed by Brophy. By this time the guards were aroused. One of them saw Brophy and shot him through the head, killing him instantly.

As Johnson followed Brophy into the yard the guard shot him. The bullet penetrated the skull and Johnson dropped dead in his tracks.

Bradley Wounded.

As Bradley dropped from the window the guard shot him through the abdomen, inflicting a probably fatal wound.

Meanwhile Warden Tyman found Williams lighting the fuse to the dynamite hidden in the north wall. Tyman shot him in the leg. He was placed in the prison and kept under guard.

For several months building operations have been retarded in Medford owing to the difficulty of securing proper building material. Brick was hard, in fact, almost impossible, to get. The local supply was altogether inadequate to fill the bill.

Local manufacturers have been hindered by unfavorable weather conditions, but now that settled weather has come, the Medford Brick company has commenced operations on a large scale at their yards on West Jackson street, and are now prepared to sell any kind of brick, common, pressed or repressed, in any quantity desired.

The company assures its patrons that from now on they can get the brick, and get it "now."
