Heating Very Essential

PEOPLE WHO ARE BUILDING HOMES SHOULD STUDY HEATING.

E. J. Harrington, a practical man, having had years of experience in the heating business, has decided to locate in Medford and engage in the business of installing steam and hot water heating plants. Mr. Harrington has just fitted up an office in the Postoffice block, room 14, and is prepared to give estimates on any kind of a heating plant that any one may desire.

If you are building a home you should install a heating plant, thereby avoiding the dirt and annoyance of a stove, besides making your home up-to-date and modern to the highest degree and adding those most necessary conveniences, namely, hot water and evenly distributed, healthful heat.

The public is invited to call or write for estimates. I will be glad to talk with you about your heating. Room 14, Postoffice block. Phone Main 2331, Medford, Or.
