

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Robert Breeding, Jr., of Woodville, came up Wednesday to have some photo work done.

1910, the banner year. Watch Medford's population double, values in city property triple and streets run to the Queen Anne addition.

Mr. Waterhouse and son-in-law, Mr. Jones, and family, late of Chicago, now occupy the Van Antwerp residence on North Beatty street. They are delighted with the city of Medford and with Rogue River Valley with her rolling hills.

John H. Carlin, attorney at law, over Jackson County Bank.

Mr. Farrell, the pioneer miner of Willow Springs, although 85 years old, walked up to the city and back Tuesday.

All styles of legal blanks at the Mail Tribune office. Over a hundred forms.

Messrs. De Roboam, Holbrook and Summerville have each bought 50-foot lots of Mr. Kennedy in the rear of their residence property on the west side of North C. This will give them an outlet and enhance the value of their present property.

Mrs. L. W. Day of San Francisco will be at the Spirilla Corset Parlors for six days with a complete line of hair switches (gray switches a specialty). Comings bought. 40*

A. D. S. Kidney Pills at West Side Pharmacy and Eagle Pharmacy 37* James Owings returned from Gold Hill Monday where he had been employed for ten days with a surveying party.

The Hawaiian Orchestra and Quartette will play at the Louvre Cafe every evening this week from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. 41*

Will sell a 5-passenger Mitchell touring car in first-class condition for almost your own price. Benson Investment Co. 39*

Mr. Smith of North Beatty street, received word Monday to return at once to his wife who is ill in San Francisco, where she went a few weeks ago for medical treatment.

Business in the east of an urgent nature calls us away for an indefinite period and in order that we may be free of all holdings here we are closing out everything at very low sacrifice prices.—Benson Investment Co. 39*

Col. T. L. Tou Velle this morning unloaded for his personal use a Model "19" Buick. This is the third car of its kind in the Northwest. The car is a beauty. It is the car which won the Cobb trophy in Indianapolis last year.

See the hair switches at the Spirilla Corset Parlors: Popular prices—$2.50 to $10.

S. W. McClendon, of Gold Hill, was in Medford on business Tuesday. Bart Carter of Gold Hill spent Monday in Medford.

Freepass notices for sale at Mail Tribune office.

Mr. and Mrs. O. T. Austin of Seattle, Wash., are in Medford on a business trip.

Can you afford to miss one of those beautiful homesites in the Queen Anne addition at price and terms offered, with improvements and street railway service assured? A special exhibition and demonstration of hair switches, etc., at the Spirilla Corset Parlors.

1,000 Acres of timber, one of the best lots in the entire state, if taken in next three days, you can secure at a big sacrifice. 39*

A. D. S. Blood Mixture at West Side Pharmacy and Eagle Pharmacy. 37*

If you are desirous of obtaining the best values in high class hair goods come to the Spirilla Corset Parlors this week.

A. D. S. Hair Reviver at West Side Pharmacy and Eagle Pharmacy. 37*

William Rume, of Yreka, Cal., was in Medford on business Tuesday.

Want a nice bungalow? Benson has one for you and at the lowest price you ever heard of. 39*

William Byhre was in Medford from Jacksonville Tuesday.

Here is without doubt the best real estate buy in southern Oregon: 160 acres, near railroad, on two good country roads; 40 acres set to commercial fruit; one mile from school. Will close out at a very low price if taken in a few days. Benson Investment Co. 39*

C. I. Hutchison has returned from a business trip to Portland.

A. D. S. Cold and Grippe Tablets at West Side Pharmacy and Eagle Pharmacy. 37*

Fred H. Hopkins and family left Tuesday morning for Seaside, Oregon, to spend the summer.

Will dispose of almost brand new office furniture for any reasonable offer. Benson Investment Co. 39*

Arthur Brown returned Tuesday morning from a business trip to Ashland.

Within one week we will dispose of all of our holdings in this section at the most unusual sacrifice prices. Benson Investment Co. 39*

A. D. S. Poison Oak Lotion at West Side Pharmacy and Eagle Pharmacy. 37*

Mrs. W. H. Humphrey and aunt leave today for an extended visit to Minnesota. They will also remain several days in Portland, Salt Lake and Denver, returning by way of Canadian Pacific.

If you want a good residence lot, almost any part of the city we can supply you and at the same time save you big money. All holdings being closed out on account of having to go east on business within a few days. Benson Investment Co. 39*

H. J. Knox of Lake Crystal, Minnesota, who has been visiting the Humphries, returned yesterday to dispose of his holdings in Minnesota and will move to Medford soon to be one of our satisfied residences.

A. D. S. Digestive Tablets at West Side Pharmacy and Eagle Pharmacy. 37*

Lizzie Ferguson went to Central Point today to visit relatives and look after her realty interests in the flourishing little city.

Have you considered an investment in city property, where the electric car line is sure to go. Investigate the Queen Anne addition. 18 North Front street.

H. L. Herzinger, Grants Pass, hustling real estate man, spent Monday in Medford. He was heard to ask Will Humphrey if there was a circus in town. Will says no, it's our regular buzz.

Mrs. C. Carey will have on hand throughout the planting season all leading varieties of tomato plants at Star Garden, above Phoenix. 41*

Porter J. Neff was at Jacksonville Tuesday on business.

J. M. Duro, Charles Dumford, D. H. Bagshaw, Jason Hartman, and other citizens of Jacksonville, are Medford visitors this afternoon, looking after the matter of that railway to the Blue Lead.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS SOON TO HOLD MEMORIAL.

A rousing meeting was held by the local lodge of Knights of Pythias last night in the castle hall.

Much interest is being aroused in the contest now waging between the two sides.

S. I. Brown on one side is arrayed against H. Haswell and already the fun is growing and the attendance increasing.

Next Monday night the team will put on all three degrees and a rousing time is anticipated. Every K. of P. should plan to attend.

The annual memorial services are planned for June 5th at 3:30 p. m.

Committees on music, program, decoration and arrangements have been appointed and are already at work getting the plans materialized. Ashland, Grants Pass, Klamath Falls and some California lodges are to be invited.

A speaker will be brought here from Salem and a splendid program will be put on.

GREAT STRIKE REPORTED.

its real value was discovered. He told the miners the ores contained platinum and tin, and advised them to have them assayed for those metals. The results were so astounding that they are almost beyond belief. Assays running as high as 69 ounces of platinum and 56 per cent tin were obtained. A company here took hold of the matter and at least a dozen Salem men have been over the ground, among them Professor Boyer of the Oregon Technical Laboratory, a fine chemist, and J. H. Cradlebaugh, a mining man known all over the coast. They all say the dike is more than three miles long and 700 feet wide, and it is the backbone of a sharp mountain ridge more than 1,000 feet high. Nine assays out of ten will show a value varying but little from 12 per cent tin and five ounces of platinum, of a value of $175 a ton.

The nearest point to the mines is Merlin, a small town on the Southern Pacific, nine miles north of Grants Pass, in Southern Oregon. The mine is six miles distant, on the west side of Rogue River, and travel by automobile is possible to the base of the hill.

Grants Pass Doubtful. GRANTS PASS, May 3.—It has been currently reported in this city for some time that platinum has been found in large quantities near Merlin, but mining men in this city have been doubtful of its truth. At present there are two men here endeavoring to sell stock but the tale of wealth has not been enthusiastically received.

INSURGENTS FORCE CHANGES.

will lose most of its provisions as it now seems very probable according to Republican leaders that the senate bill and the house bill will be very different.

The senate regulars, in order to avert complete surrender to the insurgents, have agreed to give up the sections permitting traffic agreements and the section allowing mergers. The insurgents have fought both these sections and the regulars decided to eliminate them entirely rather than permit the bill to be killed or the provisions so changed that they would incorporate the ideas of the insurgents.

The section providing for the supervision of railroad stocks and bonds by the interstate commerce commission may be also dropped by the regulars.

Many republican leaders are predicting that the bill, when finally passed, will contain only the sections providing for the court of commerce the provision authorizing the interstate commerce commission to initiate investigations on its own complaints, the clause compelling railroads to quote rates correctly to shippers and the provision for sixty days suspension of a rate pending its investigation by the commission.

EMPIRE BUILDER GOOD FATHER TO OREGON

build this railroad, the rights of way were turned over to him. It is impossible to build two roads down the Malheur, and Hill has the only practical route.

"There are going to be a great many lines of railroad built in Oregon. The state will be gridironed with them. The Hill system will cover the state and a remarkable era of development will follow. Oregon will be settled rapidly and its resources developed as if by magic. As Washington was peopled a decade or two ago, so will Oregon be in the coming few years.

"I do not look for trunk line extensions to terminals in the immediate present," continued Mr. Hanley, who is probably as close to Mr. Hill as any Oregon man. "These will follow as a matter of course when the territory is developed and they become a necessity. They are not needed now, but branch lines and feeders are. Probably in time the Oregon Trunk may be extended south to San Francisco, but the development of Oregon is the present object.

"Medford has made a remarkable growth since my last visit. The future of the city is assured, providing that no internal dissensions arise and the citizens continue to pull together. This is the only thing that can check its growth. Help your Commercial club. Keep it the biggest and most progressive in the state. Do not let up in your campaign of publicity. You have got things moving your way—keep the ball rolling."

Mr. Hanley is a Jackson county product. He was born and raised here, but a quarter of a century ago he moved to central Oregon, where he now reigns as the greatest of cattle kings, owning the Lord only knows how many townships of lands. For years he has striven to secure a railroad, and was the father of the state-aided railroad plan, which resulted in inducing Hill to invade the state and develop it. His latest achievement was the sale of the Central Oregon military road grant extending through the state to an eastern syndicate, supposed to be financed by J. J. Hill, for $7,000,000. He purchased recently the old Hanley homestead on Little Butte owned by M. F. Hanley, and his visit to Medford was to end the litigation with the city over Wasson canyon and reach an agreement with the Fish Lake company regarding water rights.

Speaking of central Oregon, Mr. Hanley said: "It is the only primitive part of the country left. We still follow the methods followed 50 years ago. We have our roundups, brand our calves and turn them loose and drive our cattle 300 miles to a shipping point. But the old ways must soon give way to modern methods, and all Oregon is going to be proud of its table—for that is what all central Oregon is—a great table."

EIGHT HOURS FOR TEDDY.

Later the colonel went to the National art gallery and this afternoon visited El Sincore, 25 miles distant, the reputed scene of Shakespeare's "Hamlet."

The municipality tonight entertained the colonel at dinner. The Roosevelt party plans to leave tonight for Christiania, arriving here tomorrow.

Will Meet Edward.

LONDON, May 3.—Lord Knollys, private secretary to King Edward, today denied a current rumor that the king is trying to avoid a meeting with former President Roosevelt.

Lord Knollys said that the king will meet Colonel Roosevelt either at a luncheon or at a dinner. The king has not yet decided which it will be.

RESOLUTION MAKES TROUBLE.

Should the resolution come up it will mean a fight on the floor, it is expected. The resolution being made as a resolution of inquiry is privileged and can be called up within seven days, provided it has not been reported in the meantime by the rules committee to which it was referred.

There is only one way in which the rules committee can kill the resolution. It may recommend that it lay on the table, but to make the action effective the house would have to adopt the committee's report.

To adopt the report would require practically the solid republican vote, and it is believed by the leaders of the regulars that the insurgents would vote with the democrats against the report.

Shielding Wickersham?

The result will be that the matter will come before the house for discussion and the democrats will have a chance to indulge in a lot of oratory, which, boiled down, will declare that the investigating committee has been trying to shield the attorney general. The oratory is the thing the republican leaders would like to dodge.

It will have to be answered.

The republicans will have to assure their constituents through the medium of oratory and the government printing office that they are not trying to shield anyone, that the investigating committee is probing every possible phase of the Ballinger-Pinchot row and the republican leaders are anxious that no person be shielded.

The leaders would not object to any measure of debate on the subject were it not for the fact that the congressional elections are coming. The whole matter, they believe, is intended for material for the democratic campaign, and the answers will have to be made now by the republicans to get an even start with the democrats.
