

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

J. A. Robertson, of Table Rock, was in Medford Monday.

1910, the banner year. Watch Medford's population double. Values in city property triple and streetcars run to the Queen Anne addition.

M. Garland, U. S. S. Maryland, is registered at the Nash.

John H. Carkin, attorney at law, over Jackson County Bank.

R. K. Neill, of Spokane, is among the recent arrivals at the Nash.

All styles of legal blanks at the Mail Tribune office. Over a hundred forms.

George McClelland, one of the stand bys of the Gold Hill district, was in Medford on business the first of the week.

Mrs. L. W. Day of San Francisco will be at the Spirella Corset Parlors for six days with a complete line of hair switches (gray switches a specialty). Comings bought. 40*

County court will be in session on Wednesday for the April term. Many points will come up for adjustment at this term of court and it will likely extend more than the usual two days.

The Hawaiian Orchestra and Quartette will play at the Louvre Cafe every evening this week from 9 p. m. until 1 a. m. 41*

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dunford, of Jacksonville, left Tuesday evening for Grants Pass, to be with Mrs. Thrasher, the mother of the boy who was murdered at Ayers' Spur Monday night. Mrs. Thrasher is well along in years and her relatives fear that the shock of the tragic death of her son will have a serious effect on her health.

Will sell a 5-passenger Mitchell touring car in first-class condition for almost your own price. Benson Investment Co. 39*

W. L. Orr, who has been looking after business matters here, left for Eugene Tuesday night where he resides at present.

Business in the east of an urgent nature calls us away for an indefinite period and in order that we may be free of all holdings here we are closing out everything at very low sacrifice prices.—Benson Investment Co. 39*

John W. Pernoll, of Applegate, was in Medford Wednesday on business. He says he is receiving encouraging messages from his brother, Henry, who is pitching for the Detroit Americans. The weather in the east does not suit the southern Oregon south-paw, as it alternates between rain, snow and high winds, but he won the only full game he pitched, against St. Louis, and was in the fifteen-inning game with Chicago the other day.

See the hair switches at the Spirella Corset Parlors. Popular prices—$2.50 to $10.

District Attorney Mulkey was at Ashland Tuesday investigating the killing of Jesse Thrasher at Ayers' Spur Monday night.

Trespass notices for sale at Mail Tribune office.

Phil Holmes, of the Pacific States Telephone Co., was at Gold Hill on business Wednesday.

Can you afford to miss one of those beautiful homesites in the Queen Anne addition at price and terms offered, with improvements and street railway service assured? Write Herb Benson, of Talent, was at Jacksonville on business Wednesday.

Geo. M. Bordeaux returned from a visit to Eugene Wednesday.

A special exhibition and demonstration of hair switches, etc., at the Spirella Corset Parlors.

Sheriff W. A. Jones and wife left for Potland Tuesday evening in company with Mr. Jones' grandmother, who was on her return to Tennessee after a visit of several months in Southern Oregon.

1,000 Acres of timber, one of the best lots in the entire state, if taken in next three days, you can secure at a big sacrifice. 39*

T. B. Outman, of Talent, was a Medford visitor Wednesday.

If you are desirous of obtaining the best values in high class hair goods come to the Spirella Corset Parlors this week.

W. W. Harmon, of Eagle Point, was in Medford on business Wednesday.

James Morton of Talent, was in Medford Wednesday on a business trip.

Want a nice bungalow? Benson has one for you and at the lowest price you ever heard of. 39*

Will make it to the interest of any lady going east via Portland May 9 to communicate with Mrs. Dora A. Warren, 1209 West Main Street. 39*

Wm. Von der Hellen, of Eagle Point, was in Medford on business Wednesday.

Will dispose of almost brand new office furniture for any reasonable offer. Benson Investment Co. 39*

S. S. Pantz, of Butte Falls, was a Medford visitor on legal business on Wednesday.

Haskins for Health.

The census enumerators have about completed the census within the city limits of Medford and will complete the census of the outside districts within the next few days. The main part of the work has been inside of the city limits and the outside work will be easily accomplished, the only drawback being the extent of the territory to be covered. "The total will not be 8,500 so close you can hardly see the difference," said one enumerator, "and the rubbing is just as likely to be on the upper side as on the under side."

Have you considered an investment in city property, where the electric car line is sure to go. Investigate the Queen Anne addition. 18 North Front street.

Col. J. F. Mundy from a business Wednesday morning returned on business visit east.

Here is without doubt the best real estate buy in southern Oregon: 160 acres, near railroad, on two good country roads; 40 acres set to commercial fruit; one mile from school. Will close out at a very low price if taken in a few days. Benson Investment Co. 39*

The wedding of Miss Inez P. Hoyt and Vern Van Dyke will take place this evening at the residence of the bride. Miss Hoyt, is one of the popular young ladies of Medford and the groom is one of the rising young business men of Medford.

Mrs. C. Carey will have on hand throughout the planting season all leading varieties of tomato plants at Star Garden, above Phoenix. 41*

Within one week we will dispose of all our holdings in this section at the most unusual sacrifice prices. Benson Investment Co. 39*

—Don't fail to witness the pathetic drama, "Dolores," to be presented at St. Mary's Academy, Friday, May 6.

If you want a good residence—lot, almost any part of the city we can supply you and at the same time save you big money. All holdings being closed out on account of having to go east on business within a few days. Benson Investment Co. 39*

For wood of all kinds, see the Square Deal Woodyard. Phone 2601. Fir street, between Second and Third streets. Gould & Lindley, proprietors. 261*

The student body of St. Mary's Academy wish you to be present in their auditorium Friday, May 6, at 8 p. m.

Wm. M. Colvig returned from a professional visit north Wednesday.

Encourage the students of St. Mary's Academy by witnessing the beautiful program to be presented Friday, May 6, at 8 o'clock.

TOAST TO LITTLE WOMEN. PEPPER-CORN is very small, but seasons every dinner. More than all other condiments, although 'tis sprinkled thinner. Just so a little woman is if love will let you win her—

There's not a joy in all the world you will not find within her. And as within the little rose you find the richest dyes, And in the little grain of gold much price and value lies, As from a little balsam much odor doth arise, So in a little woman there's a taste of paradise. —From Spanish of De Hita.

HIS PRIDE. I WAS too proud to hazard all, Too prudent and too wise, I thought to wait till I could see Surrender in her eyes.

SO patiently I held my peace, And waited for the sign, Today—they told me her last words: Her mother's name—and mine. —Amelia Josephine Burr.

To Help the Housewife. Always line a cake pan with medium weight yellow paper. Grease the paper, not the pan, except the edges.

A clean cloth dipped in hot water and then placed in a saucer of bran will clean white paint and not injure it. The soft bran acts like a soap to the paint.

A crust of bread is best to clean a sticky bread or cake pan. Never use a knife or anything which will scratch the surface and invite more sticking thereafter.

Carrots should be cut in slices instead of cubes, because the outside part, which is the darkest, is the richest. If cut into slices it is more equally distributed.

The easiest way to clean a cereal cooker is to turn it upside down in a pan of boiling water and steam it until the mass is soft and loosened from the sides of the pan.

Celery can be kept for many days if it is placed in a glass jar, sealed and kept in a cold place. It should be soaked in ice water before being placed on the table.

HUGHES WILL NOT BE CHIEF JUSTICE

No Precedent Where President Has Power to Elevate From Associate to Chief Justiceship.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 4.—Unless President Taft breaks the precedents of nearly a century and a half Charles E. Hughes will remain on the supreme bench as an associate justice and not be elevated to the chief justiceship if that place becomes vacant.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

There have been rumors that Governor Hughes has accepted the associate justiceship on the understanding that he would succeed Chief Justice Fuller in the event of the latter's retirement or death. Perusal of the records of the supreme court today disclosed that there is only one precedent for the elevation of an associate justice and in this case it did not go into effect.

On September 24, 1789, President Washington sent to the senate the nominations of five men to compose the court of last resort. John Jay was named chief justice. Among the associate justices was William Cushing. On January 27, 1796, Jay having resigned, President Washington named Cushing for the chief justiceship. The nomination was confirmed on the same day. Cushing, however, declined the place, stating that he preferred to remain on the bench as an associate justice.

HAVE YOU ATTENDED THE UNION MEETINGS
COME OUT TONIGHT
Dr. French E. Oliver
IS DELIVERING SPLENDID ADDRESSES EVERY NIGHT, BEGINNING AT 7:30 P. M.

GUTHIRE BUYS PART OF OLD BYBEE PLACE
Pays $17,500 for 50-Acre Tract on Which Is 25 Acres of Bearing Orchard.
E. F. Guthire, one of the "Apple Kings of America," has purchased a 50-acre tract of the old Bybee place one mile from Jacksonville, paying $17,500. The sale was made by Walter McCallum.
The tract purchased by Mr. Guthire contains 25 acres of bearing fruit.

BLAME PUT ON TAFT.
(Continued from Page 1.)
had been here to exert pressure on the "near insurgents" the railroad bill might have been saved. Should Be Home.
If he had remained in Washington and fought for the measure, especially just at a time when he had received promises of insurgent support, the regulars feel that the sections which were thrown overboard might have been saved.
Taft's message from Cincinnati asking the leaders to pass any kind of a bill they could, the regulars declare were little more than an invitation to the insurgents to chop the bill to suit themselves and pass the haggled remains, secure in the belief that Taft would affix his signature.
Had he telephoned Aldrich from Pittsburg to fight, to the end, it is likely, they declare, that something might have been done to save the bill or at least postpone the fight until the president had returned to Washington to exert his personal influence in its favor.
Told to Blame Insurgents.
Just what the message was to Aldrich has not been given out, but it is intimated that the president told Aldrich to drop the clauses Aldrich decided to overthrow and then blame the insurgents.
The whole affair has created a controversy which is likely to be reflected in the action of both regulars and insurgents in dealing with the rest of the administration. Taft, it is declared, is likely to find that he will have hard work to get support from his former lieutenants when the other administration measures come up for passage.
Politicians are predicting today that the postal savings bank bill, another of the present measures of the program and one of the things Taft promised during his pre-election campaign, is likely to strike several snags that will make its passage through congress exceedingly difficult.

The regulars intimated that there is no reason why Taft should have made the present western trip just at this time. They feel that if he RARDON'S PEERLESS BREAD is the acme of perfection. For sale everywhere.

Send a Messenger that will meet with the approval of the recipient of your message. Any old kind of a messenger won't answer. The best should always be sent "if" you wish the recipient to pass a favorable verdict.

What you think about business stationery isn't quite so important as what your correspondent thinks. Don't buy OLD HAMPSHIRE BOND because it influences you, but because it influences the man you write in your favor.

A Furnished House---
AT A PRICE THAT IS SURPRISING AT A SMALL PAYMENT, THE BALANCE LIKE RENT.
8 Rooms, brand new house; bath, toilet, screen kitchen, swell electric fixtures, cement sidewalk on street and cement walk to and around the house; fully furnished in first class style. Parties leaving town and therefore will sacrifice this splendid home.

Beautiful Hillside Home---
53 Acres 1/4 miles east of Central Point; all bottom land, mostly free soil of the very best quality.
10 Acres 8-year-old Spitz and Newtowns apples; 26 acres 5 to 7-year-old Spitz and Newtowns Apples; 200 Jonathan apple trees; 200 Winter Nellis pear trees; 6 acres 3-year-old Comice Pears. Price $32,500; $15,000 cash, balance, three equal payments at 6 per cent.

A Fortne in This---
30.31 Acres of the very best soil in the valley; large nine-room house; good barn and outbuildings; three wells and plenty of water for all purposes. 1,844 trees on place, mostly pears. Price $16,000; half cash, bal. good terms.

Walter L. McCallum
HOTEL NASH LOBBY
38 SOUTH CENTRAL AVE

I CAN SHOW YOU A SUPERB COLLECTION OF RINGS.

YOU'LL FIND THE RING TO PLEASE YOUR FANCY NOW.
Diamonds a Specialty
The art of selecting high-grade diamonds comes only after years of careful, conscientious, painstaking study. My collection of diamonds are the most carefully selected high-grade stones you could ever wish to see.

FINE REPAIRING OF ALL KINDS OF JEWELRY
SELECTING FINE JEWELRY IS MY BUSINESS.
MARTIN J. REDDY
THE JEWELER Near the P. O.

HORTICULTURAL MEETING ON NEXT SATURDAY
The regular meeting of the Rogue River Horticultural Society for May will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the hall. The April subject, "Spraying for Codlin Moth," will be continued. The question box, which is a new feature at these meetings, will be used, and all members desiring information upon questions relating to fruit raising are invited to submit them in writing. Members are reminded that the meeting will be called to order at 2 and to be there promptly, permitting adjournment sufficiently early to enable out of town men to take care of their business after the meeting.
GOODFRIEND HOTEL
SAN FRANCISCO I. GOODFRIEND, Manager
Formerly Hotels Stanford and St. Deryl, Powell Street, near Geary, adjoining Hotel Blank. Take Hotel Blank Bus, or Market Street Cars, transfer to Powell. Ideal house and location for ladies visiting the city alone.
RATES, $1.00 PER DAY AND UP

99 ACRES
A SPLENDID BUY
If you are looking for a deal in orchard land that is sure to make you good money in a very short time, don't fail to get in touch with this: 99 acres in the tract; 45 acres in Ben; 25 acres now in Newtowns and planted to apples; 8 acres in Spitzburgs; 8 Ben Davis, and 9 in Newtowns; 5 cars shipped last year and double this amount will be shipped this season; 20 acres in pears, Anjou and Bartlett—1050 2-year-old trees; 15 acres of grain; 3 1/2 miles out; every acre can be cultivated; house of 3 rooms, fair barn; all fenced; all can be irrigated; WILL MAKE GOOD TERMS.
A Furnished House---
AT A PRICE THAT IS SURPRISING AT A SMALL PAYMENT, THE BALANCE LIKE RENT.
8 Rooms, brand new house; bath, toilet, screen kitchen, swell electric fixtures, cement sidewalk on street and cement walk to and around the house; fully furnished in first class style. Parties leaving town and therefore will sacrifice this splendid home.
Beautiful Hillside Home---
53 Acres 1/4 miles east of Central Point; all bottom land, mostly free soil of the very best quality.
10 Acres 8-year-old Spitz and Newtowns apples; 26 acres 5 to 7-year-old Spitz and Newtowns Apples; 200 Jonathan apple trees; 200 Winter Nellis pear trees; 6 acres 3-year-old Comice Pears. Price $32,500; $15,000 cash, balance, three equal payments at 6 per cent.
A Fortne in This---
30.31 Acres of the very best soil in the valley; large nine-room house; good barn and outbuildings; three wells and plenty of water for all purposes. 1,844 trees on place, mostly pears. Price $16,000; half cash, bal. good terms.