

EAGLE POINT EAGLETS
By A. C. Howlett

On Saturday of last week your Eagle Point correspondent went to Butte Falls. While there he preached on Saturday night and on Sunday both morning and evening. Sunday was quite a noted day, being the first day of May. The boys, or rather the people of the town had a dance on Saturday night before, and on Sunday there were two games of ball, one in the fore noon and one in the afternoon. Sunday school in the morning and preaching in the evening, and notwithstanding the ball games and other amusements going on at the same time, was a very good congregation, both Saturday night and both times on Sunday. The people of that place seem to appreciate religious services and take an interest in trying to keep them up. I can see that the town has improved since I was there last. Ira Tungate and another man have bought a frame of a building that was put up some time ago and left without being finished owing to the shutting down of the mill and general suspension of business, and now the people of the place have to go to the Iowa mill for their lumber, as the Butte Falls mill is being remodeled, but they expect to start up again very soon. The business men say that business is becoming more lively and they are looking for a good time this summer.

On my way home (for I went on horseback so that I could go where a pleased), I spent a while at the Iowa mill and the accommodating manager of the mill—I have forgotten his name—took pains to show me all that he could around the mill. They are doing some fine work and turning out a fine lot of lumber. He informed me that they had on hand about 600,000 feet of lumber and were cutting right along, but are handicapped on account of scarcity of help. The best run was last Saturday. They cut 20,000 feet in a half a day. They are about through sawing the old logs that were cut two years ago and will soon begin on the standing timber.

On Friday last our school closed and the closing exercises was held in the upper story of the school house on account of the rain on Friday night. The Eagle Point band turned out and took part in the exercises by rendering some fine music. The children did themselves credit and showed clearly that their teachers had not neglected to do their part. After the exercises were over supper was served in one of the lower rooms that had been provided by the good ladies of the town, and at 10 o'clock the crowd, for it was a crowd, began to disperse. Some went to their homes and some went to a dance that was in progress. The school has been one of the best, if not the best, that we have had here for several years, and I am glad to be able to say that the school board have acted wisely and secured the services of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Daily for our next fall and winter school. Who they will employ for the third teacher is not yet decided, but it is generally conceded that we will have to have three teachers from now on, as our school is increasing in size and there is so many of them that will go into the higher grades.

Mrs. Howlett reports that there was quite a number of the citizens of Medford came out in their autos for dinner last Sunday and among them was the editor of the Mail Tribune, but she was too busy to take their names, so that I am not able to make mention of them in particular. I am sorry that I was away from home, but trust that the next time I will be more fortunate and have the pleasure of meeting them at my home. It is hardly necessary for me to mention that Dr. Reddy, John R. Allen were here, for that has already gone to the world; also that Dr. Keene, William and Mike Hanley passed through here the last of last week on their way to the Hanley ranch on Little Butte; in fact, there are so many people visiting our thriving little town that it keeps me guessing to keep track and decide what to write for the Mail Tribune.

Charles Bacon, our new depot agent for the P. & E. railroad has taken a room at the Sunnyside and gone to work in earnest, and the people, not only of this town but of the surrounding neighborhood, are glad to have an agent who can devote all his time to that branch of the business. While Mr. Zimmerman, the former agent, was well liked and gave general satisfaction, he could not devote all of his time to that work, and often parties who had to go a long distance had to wait until a late hour or else go and get him to go expressly to wait on them at the depot.

The mail route agent, who looks over the different routes the mail carriers travel, was here a day or two ago trying to get someone to put in bids for carrying the mail over the different routes, as the bids that have been put in have been turned down on account of them being so much higher than they have been heretofore; but the authorities at headquarters don't take into account that hay and grain have raised in price from 100 to 200 per cent in the last few years.

As soon as it was announced in the Mail Tribune that the town of Eagle Point was to be moved there was a party rushed into our quiet little village and wanted to engage to move houses to the new townsite, but could not get one job, as there is but one man that wants to move, and he has a stone house and can't move it.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Peyton passed through our town last Tuesday on their way to Medford, while his cousin, Alvin Peyton, and family, spent the night at the Sunnyside.

Elmer Spencer, who has been in Medford under the care of a doctor, came out to the Sunnyside last Monday to board, as he says that he can get board enough cheaper to justify his going to Medford twice a week to see the doctor and then save money. His brother, Jesse Spencer, came out from Dudley last Tuesday and spent the night with Elmer.

I. J. Purkeshire and Pat Stidham of Central Point are here at this writing, Wednesday forenoon, wiring the new houses, getting them ready so as to have electric lights as soon as the electricity can be obtained. They have just finished wiring William von der Hellen's new house and are working on P. H. Daley's today. James McClanahan and James Miller of Elk Creek were sojourners here Tuesday night. Mr. McC. has a sawmill on Elk creek and says that he has now about 200,000 feet of lumber on hand but that there is a big demand for lumber and that the people come to the mill and haul it way right along.

Dr. Holt had a man with his vacuum house cleaner out a day or two ago cleaning his house.

Deter & Daley are planning to make some substantial improvements on the lots they bought of A. J. Florey.

Iowa, registered at the Central Point Hotel yesterday.

Harry Young, who recently sold out his interest in the Hinsley tract, west of town, left Thursday morning for his old home in New York where he will remain for a time.

H. M. Akers of Lewiston, Idaho, was in town on Wednesday and expressed himself as greatly pleased with this part of the Rogue River Valley. He admits that it is far and away ahead of Idaho in the matter of climate.

The Knights and Ladies of Security held an open meeting in their hall last night and entertained themselves with music, recitations and good things to eat until long after the curfew bell had warned all sober people that bedtime was at hand.

STATE PRESIDENT W. C. T. U. WILL BE HERE SUNDAY

Mrs. Lulu Loveland Sheppard, the W. C. T. U. state president of Utah, will lecture at the Baptist church Sunday at 8 o'clock p. m.

By those who have heard Frances Willard, Lady Somerset and other noted woman orators, Mrs. Sheppard is said to be even more eloquent than they. She has gained the title of "silver-tongued orator of the Rocky Mountains," on account of her exceptional power as a platform orator. She will lecture at the Baptist Church Sunday, May 8, at 8 p. m.

RESOLUTION.

Be it resolved, by the city council of the city of Medford, Oregon:

That it is the intention of the council to lay a 4-inch water main on Portland avenue from East Main to East Eleventh street, and to assess the cost thereof upon the property fronting on said portion of said street in proportion to the frontage of said property.

The council will meet at the council chamber in the city hall in said city on May 17th, 1910, at 7:30 p. m., at which time all protests against the laying of said water main on said portion of said street and the assessment of the cost thereof upon the property fronting thereon will be heard.

The foregoing resolution was passed by the city council of the city of Medford, Oregon, on the 2d day of May, 1910, by the following vote:

Welch aye, Merrick aye, Emerick aye, Wortman aye, Elfert aye and Demmer aye.

Approved May 4th, 1910.

Little Ruhland Anderson mourns the loss of his pet "Fannie," the ragged, picturesque little donkey of which he was the envied possessor for some months. Fannie had begun to exhibit an uncertain temper and was considered not quite a safe companion, therefore was disposed of.

Mrs. George Fox has been confined to her home by illness for the past ten days, but is now somewhat improved.

Mesdames W. E. Darling and E. Sutton of Gold Hill are guests at the home of Mrs. Fred Peninger. They came on Tuesday to attend the Rebekah installation meeting and remained to visit with personal friends for a day or two.

Mrs. Mary Cryderman has a niece from Quebec, Canada, visiting her for a short time.

Salesman Welch of the Medford Grocery Co., was in town yesterday transacting business with our local grocery men.

J. H. Cochran and wife, C. S. Sanderson and wife, J. D. Haeker and wife, and T. J. Hazelton and wife drove to Medford on Thursday evening to attend the Oliver meeting.

Raymond spent a few hours in Medford's shopping district on Thursday.

Mr. Henry, the painter injured so severely by falling from a buggy last Sunday morning, has shown no signs of improvement, being still completely paralyzed from neck to feet and but slight hope is entertained for his recovery.

William Hammett is the latest good looking and eligible bachelor to locate in Central Point and of course the young ladies are naturally making inquiries about him. The Central Point girls are somewhat dangerous we will admit and more than one young man has lost his head because of them, but we are sure that loaded shot guns will not be needed on this score.

Mrs. Byrd Caster of Agate was shopping in town on Wednesday afternoon.

Henry Mossman, wife and daughter, of Terre Haute, Ind., are stopping in town, with a view of locating somewhere in this section. They visited Medford and Ashland this week and were charmed with both towns, but did not decide to locate in either, and returned today for another look at Central Point. Mr. Mossman is a retired railway engineer.
