

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

In the preparation of this column the editors were assisted by Miss Mabel Ray, Miss Genevieve Wortman, Mrs. Artie Ray and others.

Mr. M. Price of O'Neill, Nebraska, accompanied by his wife and three children, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Lawton. Mr. Price is a cousin of Mrs. Lawton and has been engaged in mercantile business and is seeking a home. While in Spokane, and also in Seattle, Mr. Price was met at the train by industrious census enumerators who sought to add them to their city's enumeration. Mr. Price said: "No, thanks! I'll wait till I arrive in Medford."

Mr. Sam Richardson has the foundation laid and lumber on the ground for his new bungalow on the Southern California type to be erected on his lot in Bungalow place. Mr. William M. Miller has the contract for the building.

The Medford Book Store has just received an elegant assortment of Rookwood Pottery. In its wonderful beauty of design and exquisite blending of colors this pottery is unsurpassed by any other.

Mrs. Hoke and daughter, Miss May, were up from their orchard near Central Point Thursday. They were guests of Mrs. L. W. Berry.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Schermerhorn left Thursday morning for a visit with relatives in San Francisco. Mr. Schermerhorn expects to return in a week or ten days while Mrs. Schermerhorn plans to spend several weeks, touring the state in company with her sisters.

Dr. Helms has purchased a handsome new touring car, a Jackson, one of the first of this make to be used in Medford.

Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Lumsden, accompanied by their son, Treve, and Mrs. Eunice Lumsden, are expected to arrive in Medford about June 1. They will make the trip from Los Angeles to Medford in their touring car.

Miss Jennie Snodiceor, instructor in industrial drawing in the schools of Aberdeen, Wash., is expected home about the middle of June.

Mr. T. W. Osgood made a trip up Rogue River yesterday.

The mother of Mrs. A. A. Davis, who has been seriously ill at the home of her daughter for several weeks past, is reported much improved.

Mr. George Merritt, former instructor of science in the Medford high school, has accepted a similar position in San Rafael, California, for the ensuing year.

Mrs. T. B. Kinsman and son, Dr. J. L. Helms enjoyed a visit Thursday from Mesdames Barron, Patterson and Shook of Ashland, who are sisters of Mrs. Kinsman.

Mr. Naylor of Klamath Falls is a Medford visitor.

Mr. Fiero and daughter, Miss Emily of Chicago arrived Thursday. They expect to remain until fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurtz, who have been visiting W. J. Roberts and family, left this evening for Cottage Grove.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamill and Mrs. Harvey will entertain with a theatre party and afterwards a supper at The Louvre Monday evening.

Mrs. M. S. Keyes and daughter, Miss Ruth, from Pullman, Wash., who have been spending the winter in Tucson, Arizona, arrived Friday morning for a week's visit with M. J. Roberts and family.

W. J. Roberts went to Salem Friday evening for a few days' business trip.

Friday evening was the occasion of one of the most delightful parties which the sophomore class of the high school has had this year. Miss Lorraine Bliton entertained the class with a lawn party at his home on West Seventh Street. The yard was daintily decorated while Japanese lanterns cast a soft light over the whole. After an evening spent in playing several games, a light luncheon was served.

Mrs. Charles Davis gave a surprise party Thursday afternoon in honor of her daughter, Miss Eunice. A pleasant social hour was spent and light refreshments were served, consisting of strawberries and cream, ice cream and cake. Those present were Miss White Misses Margaret Roberts, Agnes Robinson, Edith Childer, Lorraine Lawton, Helen Lawton, Emma Malthy and Eunice Davis.

Mrs. E. J. Runyard left Friday for Iowa, where she expects to visit for two months. Mr. Runyard will build a new home in her absence.

Dr. Riddell of Minnesota, arrived Wednesday with Mrs. Riddell and their charming daughter, Miss Margaret. They are old friends of Mr. Al. Ware, and Mr. John M. Root, and intend to make this valley their home.

Mr. H. C. Kentner leaves today for Berkeley, California, to attend the exercises of commencement week. Miss Bess Kentner is among those receiving degrees.

Mrs. D. A. Forbes of Talent is reported as slowly convalescing from serious illness.

A. P. Talent and family have moved into their new ten-room residence on South Central and Ninth Streets. The building is well put up, the inside woodwork and tinting is done in an artistic manner, and is modern and up-to-date in all respects. Taken all together it is a fair example of Medford's many beautiful and substantial homes. Mr. Talent is a firm believer in a greater Medford and has built a large number of houses in this city, this one being the ninth on South Central Avenue.

Mr. Ford, the English landscape gardener, is parking the extensive grounds of John M. Roots' country home on King's Highway.

Mr. Al. Ware, a well known horseman from Northfield, Minn., who recently bought the Durlin orchard south of Medford, has his fine horses on the way to Medford. The coming of Mr. Ware is expected to foster an interest in breeding fine horses and lend an impetus to racing in this valley.

Mr. John E. Palmer of La Crosse, who owns a valuable tract of land south of Medford, and who is a friend of Mr. Ware's also expects to import some fine racing stock.

Herbert Kentner spent the greater part of the week visiting friends at Woodville.

Mr. Hutchason Helped. J. F. Hutchason, the genial advertising manager of the regular issue, has been buried for days beneath the avalanche of advertising matter which the ladies hurled into the office. His intention had been to help shape up the work at the last but when the office boys finally had time to dig him out the paper had gone to press, and though he still wore the smile that wouldn't come off, his hour of usefulness was over as far as the Greater Medford edition was concerned.
