MR. AND MRS. CHAS. NUNAN SERENADED AT HOME

Although Charles Nunan, son of the pioneer Jacksonville merchant, had been married for nearly a year, upon his first appearance at his home after his wedding, the charivari club got busy.

One of the traditions of the old town is that no native son, whatever his age or whatever the number of years have elapsed since his departure, can return with a bride without being given one of those receptions.

The usual ceremonies were observed and Charlie, realizing that the charivari was more in the nature of a welcome to his old home than anything else, entered into the spirit of the crowd and was finally returned safe and sound.

planning, locating, etc., a comprehensive system of roads and trails within the Crater Lake national park, and for other necessary improvements within the said park. In reply, I beg to say that I have taken this matter up with the proper departments and have conferred with Senator Bourne in respect thereto, and I will be glad to co-operate with the other members of the Oregon delegation in every effort to secure the appropriation requested. It may be necessary for us to secure an amendment to the sundry civil appropriation bill making an appropriation for this work, and if so we will endeavor to obtain the adoption of such an amendment when that bill is being considered in congress. You may rest assured that every effort will be made to obtain this appropriation at the earliest practicable date. Yours very truly,

"GEO. E. CHAMBERLAIN."
"Washington, D. C., May 7.—Wm. Colvig, Medford, Or.: Have talked with departments of agriculture and interior regarding Crater Lake park survey. Both express willingness that Heidle be sent to make reasonably comprehensive survey in park after completion of work in forest. Will this afford such basis as you desire for appropriation for construction work?"

NEW THEATER IS SOON TO OPEN

Vaudeville and Motion Pictures With Splendid Music Will Be the Policy of New Playhouse on Main Street Now Being Arranged.

Saturday night will mark an epoch in Medford's advancement when the doors of the new Isis theater on Main street will be thrown open to the public.

Vaudeville and advanced motion pictures, with splendid music and effects, will be the policy of the new Isis, and Manager Williams, who is fitting up the place, is sparing no pains or expense in equipping the cozy playhouse with all the comforts and conveniences possible. It will be spacious and comfortable, especial attention being given to the installation of an electric system of ventilation that will insure a cool temperature during the weather. The stage, while not as large as some, will be equipped with modern scenery and conveniences, and, all in all, the Isis will be a creditable addition to growing Medford.

Manager Williams has secured for his opening attraction the great Marshall Road Show, a company of classy vaudevillians who are spoken of in the highest terms by the press of other cities where they have recently appeared. The company is headed by Edward C. Marshall, the well-known handoff wizard, who has a variety of comedy mysteries that have created quite a furore between here and Portland within the last few weeks. Associated with Marshall are a number of vaudeville artists of exceptional quality.

The Marshall company was especially engaged to open the elegant new Folly theater in Eugene the first of the month, and the Eugene Guard gave them a great sendoff.

In addition to the Marshall com-

Master Fish Warden Has Praise for Invention of Southern Oregon Man and Urges Their Adoption by Irrigation Companies.

Master Fish Warden H. C. McAllister and Deputy Edward Clanton were Tuesday given a demonstration of an automatic revolving fish wheel, designed to keep fish out of irrigation ditches and conduits, by the inventors and patentees, J. C. Aitken of Woodville and R. C. F. Astbury of Gold Hill. Mr. McAllister pronounced it the most perfect device yet made for keeping fish out of conduits, and will urge its use throughout the state and its adoption by the state board of fisheries.

The demonstration took place in Bear creek and was a complete success. The mechanism is extremely simple. A paddle wheel, turned by the water, turns two gears, which revolve the screen with the current. The screen picks up and carries over all debris, thus preventing it from accumulating behind and damming the flow of water, the principal fault in most screens.

All the mechanism is contained within the screen, leaving nothing to get out of order. It can be made to fit any size conduit and can be manufactured cheaply.

pany, Miss Kennedy, recently of Pentage's, Portland, will sing illustrated songs and the Stephens orchestra will dispense music. Two thousand feet of selected moving pictures will be shown. Two performances will be given each night. The prices will be 15 and 25 cents.

CENTRAL POINT NEWSLETTER

Stuart McKlasick and Frank Blade of Medford registered at the Central Point hotel on Monday.

T. M. Jones received a carload of furniture from Portland this week.

Cottage prayer meetings are being held at various homes all over the city this week in preparation for the tabernacle meetings to begin on Thursday.

R. H. Cornelius, the depot agent, reports business in his line improving fast. Monday's freight business amounted to $1,713, which is not an uncommon amount of business for one day and he says that one has only to go back over the books for a few months to realize how much more important a freight business is carried on here than formerly.

Rev. J. D. Hacker returned from Sacramento on Monday evening.

A report was current for several days last week that two of the churches had refused to unite in the evangelistic movement now being inaugurated in Central Point. This was a mistake as all denominations are equally interested and are doing an equal share toward making the movement a success.

Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Pankey leaves on the 23rd for a month's visit among relatives in Klamath county. They will spend some time with Silas Obenchain of Klamath Falls, who is a brother of Mrs. Pankey, other relatives being Mrs. Nannie Pankey, Mrs. Jennie Wilson and Mrs. James Lindsey, living in various parts of the county.

Mr. Chas. E. Grey, musical director of the Johnson evangelistic meetings, arrived with his wife a day or two ago and is busy training the chorus choir for work in these meetings. He has secured about fifty excellent voices and hopes to have at least twice that number by the time the meetings commence.

The tabernacle is being built entirely by volunteer labor and a good share of the work is being done by men who are more experienced in the way of hammering the gospel into the minds of the careless and irreligious churchgoers than in pounding nails into boards. Among those who are taking an active part in the building we notice Rev. K. H. Stekafocse, Rev. J. D. Hacker, Rev. J. T. Hazleton, Mr. Warner,

Mr. Hesselgrair and Frank Thompkins.

On Friday evening the commencement exercises of the Central Point High School will be held in the opera house. A very fine program is under preparation, the details of which will be given later.

When the small blaze occurred at the home of J. W. Sage last Sunday morning the town bell was rung with such energy that the rope broke, and a new one is being substituted today.

Mrs. A. C. Chittenden drove into town today with several cases of fine strawberries grown by herself on her place near Bear Creek.

The demand for local berries in Central Point is far greater than the supply. People are willing to pay good prices for strawberries and some one should go into the business on a large scale. It would pay.

The Ladies Improvement Club meeting in the Commercial Club rooms on Friday afternoon. Plans for the coming flower carnival are nearly complete and, although the ladies realize that in this effort they are going to meet with some obstacles and discouragements, they rely with confidence on the hearty cooperation of the people of Central Point and especially upon their own membership. To work with an unselfish desire for the common good, and with a generous recognition of the rights and abilities of others is to accomplish the very best results in this as in every other effort for the betterment of our city.
