Notary Public for Oregon. MEDFORD, OREGON. Metropolis of Southern Oregon and Northern California and fastest-growing city in Oregon.

Halley's comet appeared in an all-star cast. Woodville is also going to celebrate the Fourth. Ever seen an airship? Got a change to now.

News is dull today—none of Balinger's employes has played traitor. The Ananias club is rapidly growing in membership since the fishing season began.

Cleveland's golden rule chief of police has been suspended from office. Another idol shattered.

A Hood River woman refused to tell her age to the census man. Medford women were not so modest.

Jacksonville is going to celebrate the Fourth of July in the good old fashioned way. The eyes have it.

"Opportunity knocks but once," says an old proverb. But some Ashland people have old opportunity beat a mile.

Natural gas has been discovered at the mouth of the Chetco river in Curry county. It was discovered long ago in Medford.

Eugene fears she will show less than 10,000 population, according to the Guard, which it claims shows what a farce the census is.

They are actually shooting at each other in Nicaragua and the noise is scaring both armies—no fatalities, except from fright, yet reported.

Cherries have been ripe in the Rogue River valley for a week past, and sweet peas are in bloom, which shows how far advanced the season is.

Senator Bourne has had a carload of lobsters shipped from the Atlantic coast for transplanting on the Pacific—just as if we didn't have lobsters enough already.

After all the attempt to harmonize the G. O. P. at tonight's caucus proves a failure. There is an irreconcilable breach between the regulars and insurgents as there was between the gold and silver democrats.

"The Girl With the Whooping Cough," a play on the smutty order, has been suppressed by Mayor Gaylor in New York by cancellation of the license of the theater. It is evident that indecent plays have had their day.

IT IS UP TO ASHLAND.

THE granting of a franchise in Ashland for an interurban trolley line is of as great importance to the valley as it is to Ashland itself.

No electric line in any of the cities of the valley would pay for many years. In fact such a franchise would be valueless except as a basis for holding up some interurban line in the future.

An electric line in the Rogue River valley must depend upon its freight business for profit. This business can only be secured by an interurban line, and every town in the valley must be served to make it profitable.

It will be some years yet before even an interurban line would be profitable in this valley. There must be a great increase in the bearing orchard area to furnish the necessary tonnage as well as a greater development before returns would be received justifying the investment.

A counter proposition is talked of in Ashland for an electric line to Klamath Falls. The promoters talk of a 30-year franchise, Ashland to take over the interests in 15 years if wanted, and the line to be built up to the summit of Mt. Ashland.

Such a proposition is absurd on the face of it, for capital will not back such a visionary enterprise. It is apparent that the sole object is to head off the Allen franchise in the interest of the Southern Pacific. The promoters have shown no evidences of financial backing.

John R. Allen has "made good" on all his propositions in the Rogue River valley. Whether Hill interests are behind him or not cuts no figure, as long as he builds and operates the line, which he says he will as soon as the Ashland franchise is granted. He states that the interurban line is already financed—he is amply able to build it himself if he wants to—and he estimates the investment at several millions and has financed a $5,000,000 company for the purpose.

Mr. Allen promised the building and extension of the Pacific & Eastern, and the line is being built. People did not care what interests were behind him as long as it was built. The same with the trolley line—so long as it is built, people are indifferent as to who furnishes the money.

The conditions in the franchise asked for at Ashland are the same granted at Medford and Grants Pass—the same granted by Portland and by Willamette valley towns for the Oregon electric. No subsidy, no favors are asked—yet the people in most places are willing to grant subsidies to secure such an investment.

It is up to the people of Ashland to say whether or not the Rogue River valley will have an interurban line—and the people of the valley think Ashland progressive enough to see the advantages of such a line, both to Ashland and the valley, and confidently expect she will not block the enterprise.

PAPERS ON FRUIT PESTS.

Today the Mail Tribune publishes the final installment of Professor O'Gara's article on blight. It is the most complete article on the subject ever written and is most valuable to every orchardist.

Every orchardist in the valley should take the Mail Tribune, because it prints articles that are invaluable to him and worth thousands of dollars. He cannot afford to be without it.

The Mail Tribune is printing in pamphlet form this treatise on blight, written especially for it. It will be mailed to any subscriber on receipt of postage or can be had on request at the office. But you must be an old or new subscriber to the paper to secure it.

Tomorrow the Mail Tribune begins the publication of a series of articles on "Pear Thrips," a disease that is struggling for a foothold in the valley and must be vigorously fought to keep in subjection. The articles are written by Dudley Moulton, investigator of the United States department of agriculture, and form the most complete and authoritative treatise on the subject yet issued.

A MAUSOLEUM IS BEING PLANNED

Handsome Twenty Thousand Structure for Cemetery is Contemplated—Hygienic Burial Will Be Made Possible.

Logan Blizzard, a special representative of the International Mausoleum company of Chicago, is in Medford interesting local people in the erection of a huge mausoleum in this city. The building the company is planning to build is to cost $20,000 and will be a handsome structure.

Many cities over the country are adopting mausoleums, which are far more sanitary than a cemetery. They are constructed so that bodies are placed in airtight compartments built of solid masonry. A person can buy a compartment or a series of them in which to dispose of remains and can rest assured that always the last resting place of departed loved ones will be taken care of, for the company provides an endowment fund for this purpose.

Mr. Blizzard states that he is receiving much encouragement here.

The Ladies of the Greater Medford club wish to extend their thanks to George Putnam, publisher of the Mail Tribune, for his donation of the issue of Sunday, May 15. By vote of all members of the club. MRS. W. C. REAGAN, Secretary.

YOU ARE GROWING YOUNGER MOTHER

Thousands of mothers are looking younger. Their gray hairs are gone. The natural color has come back, and with it a new growth of soft, glossy, luxuriant hair. Why should you look old before your time, when you can look years younger by using

Dandruff Cured

Three applications removed all the dandruff and left my scalp clean, white and smooth. Wm. Croak, Rochester, N. Y.

It is Positively Guaranteed to Restore Faded and Gray Hair to Natural Color

If other "so-called" Restorers have failed, don't give up hope, but give WYETH'S SAGE AND SULPHUR HAIR REMEDY a trial. You run no risk. If it is not exactly as represented, your money will be refunded.

PROFIT BY OTHERS' EXPERIENCE

Gray Hair Restored

My hair was getting quite gray and falling out rapidly and I was troubled with a terrible itching of the scalp. My head was full of dandruff, which fell upon my clothes and kept me continually brushing it off. While on a visit to Rochester I heard of your Sage and Sulphur for the hair. I got a bottle and used it. A few applications relieved the itching, my hair stopped falling out and gradually came back to its natural color. It is now a nice dark brown color, soft, glossy and pliable. Several of my friends want to use it, and I want to know what you will charge me for six bottles of it.

MISS E. A. ROSS, Sharon, Mercer Co., Pa.

Grew Hair on a Bald Head

For two or three years my hair had been falling out and getting quite thin until the top of my head was entirely bald. About four months ago I commenced using Sage and Sulphur. The first thing I noticed seemed to do some good and I kept using it regularly until now I have used four bottles. The whole top of my head is fairly covered and keeps coming in thicker. I shall keep on using it a while longer, as I notice a constant improvement.
