SPITZER TO TELL OF FRAUDS

Jury and it is believed that his testimony will result in more indictments.

The drawback operations of the "sugar trust" is believed to have concealed a system of double dealing. The government allows a rebate or drawback amounting to a certain percentage of the duty paid on imported sugar when it is shipped out again after being refined. The "trust" gets raw sugar from Cuba and Java.

STOCK COMPANY FOR MEDFORD

Lyric Company of Portland to Appear Here During Summer—Only First-Class Productions Promised—Fine List of Plays.

This is the word that has suddenly gone forth to reward local theatergoers for the record they have made for the city as the best "show town" on the map of North America.

On the night of June 6 the Athlon Stock company, which has just closed a season of 42 weeks at the Lyric theater, Portland, will open in the Medford opera house for a summer run of dramatic stock. This company is conceded to be one of the best city stock organizations in the entire country. The mere fact that it has just finished a record run of nearly a year in one theater in capacious Portland is the very best attestation of its worth. The company has been engaged intact, including the entire organization of 14 people, and the complete original equipment necessary for a full production of each play. In addition to the acting cast, the Lyric theater scenic artist and stage carpenter have been engaged, and nire sets of new scenery will be built and painted for each production.

Zimmer as Manager.

The organization will be under the ownership and personal supervision of Forest V. Zimmer, who has recently located in Medford. Mr. Zimmer is a well-known theatrical manager, having controlled several metropolitan stocks in the east. He is familiar with all the details of stock productions and promises Medford patrons that every play put on will be equal to any of the road attractions that have appeared here during the past season. Seen this morning, Mr. Zimmer made the following statement regarding his plans:

"It is our purpose to spare no effort, and no item of expense, in the perfection of each production. Only one play will be given in Medford each week, probably for three nights. The remaining three performances will be given in neighboring towns and Portland. The opening play will be "The Powers That Be," conceded to be the crowning success in New York during the past season, and one of the best productions that the Athlon company has made in Portland. The royalty alone for the rights to use this play will cost us $100 for the week. I have been in this beautiful little city long enough to realize the fact that Medford, especially theatrical Medford, will not stand for anything mediocre. It is impossible to get the best plays without paying high royalties for them, and I expect to pay something like $100 every week for the plays we are to use.

First Class Plays.

"I have seen the Athlon company in action and I will put it against any similar organization in the country. We will produce such plays as "Paid in Full," "The Man of the Hour," "The Boss," "The Girl of the Golden West," "The Squaw Man," "A Fool There Was," "Old Heidelberg," "The Heir to the Hourah" and a number of first-class comedies. I consider myself very fortunate in securing this particular company. There is a decided advantage in the fact that the company is already up in the plays to be given here, and it is obvious that the productions will be better than when they were given in Portland. I find the stage of the Medford theater to be wider, deeper, higher and better in other respects than those of the large majority of theaters, and productions requiring a large number of people can be given on it. In this connection I want to say that for large casts the theatrical people who live in Medford have assured me that they will gladly supplement the casts whenever they may be needed. We will use several religious plays like "The Sign of the Cross," "Quo Vadis" and "The Holy City," where casts of 50 or more will be used. All I ask of the Medford public is that it will give this excellent company its patronage for the opening play, and if it does not compare with the best city companies in the United States, I will "quit" gracefully after the first production. I feel positive that this venture will be a success, for we will offer what Medford audiences demand—the best—the very best."

From a standpoint of commercial advertisement alone, a dramatic company of the caliber of the Lyric company, placed here for the summer, would doubtless be of great benefit to Medford, and the Mail Tribune bespeaks from the Medford theatergoers a rousing send-off for this company when it opens June 13 in "The Powers That Be."

about arms and body.

Mrs. L. Sharp, Oakland, cut about legs and head.

William Holmes, slightly hurt.

Aleva Lewis, slightly hurt.

Those whom physicians say may die are:

Robert McArthur, Mrs. and Miss Freyengahl, Axel Friegendahl, Maud Rothrock. All of them have internal injuries added to their other injuries, the physicians say.

The eastbound car had taken a siding for the other train to pass. The westbound car coming at a high rate of speed crashed into the switch and struck the standing car with terrific force.

Whether there was a misunderstanding of orders, whether the switch had been left open or whether the switch points gave way and allowed the oncoming car to leave the main track has not yet been determined by the officials who are investigating the accident.

On one car were a number of picnickers on their way to a German society outing. There were many women and children in this party.

The Oakland car, rounding the curve at terrific speed, was upon the standing car without warning. A few persons tried to jump and these were among the most seriously hurt.

HYDE CONVINCED OF HIS FREEDOM

KANSAS CITY, Mo., May 30.—Sitting in his cell in the jail here today, Dr. B. Clark Hyde told of his absolute confidence that he will be ultimately cleared of the charge of murdering Colonel Thomas H. Swope, his wife's millionaire uncle. Dr. Hyde is endeavoring to keep in good physical shape during his confinement and walks five miles in jail each day.

"I am going to get a new trial," the convicted physician said. "I feel absolutely sure that Judge Latshaw will grant it. Perhaps it is my absolute knowledge of my own innocence that makes me feel so confident."

Telling of his five-mile walk in the jail, Dr. Hyde said:

"Each iron plate in the corridor is three feet long. There are 19 of them in the corridor and I walk back and forth until I have covered five miles."

"But I don't worry over myself at all," the physician continued. "I feel sorry for Frances. The heavy blow falls on her."

"I read some late medical magazines every day."
