CALIFORNIA SHIPS. CATTLE SUPPLY MANY CARLOADS

Thirty-two Cars of Cherries, Six of Market Breaks About Even in Port-Apricots and Over One of Peaches -Bartletts Continue to Develop Well, Confirming Estimates.

The California Fruit Distributors have issued the following market letter to the trade:

The following gives number of cars horses and mules 61. of deciduous fruit shipped from all May 27.

are now nearly done shipping this ence in quality as the cause. variety and the heavy shipments are coming from San Jose. Like the fruit already shipped, this continues to be fine. The auction markets are absorbing these shipments at fancy prices and the results of the cherry season have never been excelled. Fruit will continue to go forward from San Jose for the next two weeks or more.

Apricots, 5% cars-There is a fair movement of fruit of this variety now going forward from Winters and Vacaville and shipments may be expected to increase daily. Weather has been too cool to bring them forward as fast as we would like, but it has now changed and shipments after next week will be liberal.

Peaches, 11/4 cars - Alexander peaches have been going forward in a limited way during the past week. Shipment will increase from this time on, but the amount will not be heavy, as this variety is not produced in the quantity of former years. Quality of the fruit has been up to the usual standard. During the last week there has been a heavy dropping of Crawford peaches, so much so that in some localities the output will be principally to the early sections and there is no reason to expect that it will be extended to the later ones.

Plums-Plum shipments have not reached a sufficient magnitude to be worthy of quotation. The first variman plums, have been coming in in attle. a very limited way, but will be in more liberal receipt this coming week and after that time will be moving in large quantities. Fruit continues to look fine and will undoubtedly be satisfactory in quality. The heavy State Superintendent of Education north wind of one week since prob- Edward Hyatt this morning received ably damaged the plum erop more notice that Samuel T. Black has rethan anything else and some varieties signed as president of the San Diego in exposed places will be quite short normal school and has been sucin consequence. There will be plenty ceeded by Edward L. Hardy of the in other places, however, to make up San Diego schools. Mr. Black forfor the shortage.

Bartlett pears continue to develop very well. Previous predictions as to quality and percentage of crop are confirmed by present appearances.

Grapes are developing well. In the ++++++++++++++ later sections the bunches are showing unusual size and in the earlier sections the berries are now larger than average currents. There is no trace of mildew or other disease and the quality and condition of the fruit is very good.

Weather during the past week has been generally cool, but has now turned much warmer. This change is very acceptable and will hasten the development of fruit.

WAGON DRIVER TUMBLES AMONG SOME LIVE CRABS

BALTIMORE, May 30 .- The only good crobs are dead ones, according to William Jones, who feelingly expresses that opinion. He went to a wharf to get a barrel of crabs. The barrel was placed in the wagon and William started for home. All went well until the barrel turned over and William jumped into the wagon to gather up the crustaceans.

The crabs clung so tenaciously to William's fingers with their claws that he howled with agony. His foot slipped and down prone he went among the crawling, biting crabs. One bit a piece out of his ear, another preferred his cheek, still another attached itself to his nose. His cries for assistance brought volunteers, who rescued him. William is still nursing his wounds.

NEW WESTMINSTER, Wash., May 30,-When George West, a civil engineer of Seattle, concluded to take a wife he went to Paris, Ontario, and applied for a job with the Penman Woolen Company.

West worked for half a day, devoting most of his attention to the thousand girls engaged at the factory. Along about noon he saw Miss Florence McMillan, one of the company's importation of girls from England, and decided she'd do.

Having secured her address he left the mills, called upon her the next FOR SALE-A young 36-acre orsomewhat curtailed. This is confined evening and the following day Rev.
