

ELOQUENT ADDRESS BY JUDGE D'ARCY

Salem Jurist Holds Attention of Great Concourse of Citizens in City Park—Speaks Kindly for Confederates.

Medford was favored with one of the finest addresses on Memorial day by Hon. P. H. D'Arcy that has ever been delivered in the city. In spite of the intense heat, a large concourse of people listened with wrapt attention. All the business houses were closed and old soldiers and the firemen, the Women's Relief Corps and school children formed a procession to the city park, whose grateful foliage afforded relief from the torrid heat.

After the usual ceremonies, the speaker, Judge D'Arcy, came forward and with his fervid eloquence swayed the great audience into living memories of the past. Old, battle-scarred veterans lived again the battles made famous in history, so realistic and vivid was the scenes of the past pictured that many of the old veterans found relief in tears. The judge spoke kindly for the Confederates, paying an eloquent tribute to their patriotism for a lost cause, and by his eloquent words he cemented still firmer the undying love between the blue and the gray. It was thoroughly enjoyed by the veteran and delighted the large concourse of people who, in spite of the intense heat, sat and listened to one of the most eloquent addresses on Memorial day ever given in Medford.

LORIMER'S DETECTIVES LOOKING UP RECORDS

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 31.—With the appearance here of two detectives said to be in the employ of United States Senator William Lorimer, the next chapter in the Lorimer alleged bribery scandal, it is expected, will have its setting here. The parents of Charles A. White, whose "confession" that he was paid to vote for Lorimer for senator started the present investigation, live here. White spent many years of his life in Knoxville, and it is generally believed that the detectives have been here to "look up his record."

MEDFORD DOWNS CENTRAL POINT

Local Team Plays Good Ball and Still Holds Her 1,000 Percentage at Top of League—Snappy Game of Ball Seen.

The game yesterday between Medford and Central Point was one of the fastest of the season. Although a hot day, the players played snappier and faster than ever. The game was marked by heavy hitting and good fielding, which kept the fans in a good humor at all times.

Medford made two runs in the first inning with two down when Isaacs placed a nice hit between first and second, scoring two runners. This looked like a canch for the Medford team, but Central Point kept fighting all the way and kept the Medford team busy at all times cutting off runs and hits.

The final score was 5 to 1 in favor of Medford. The Central Point team has given Medford its hardest games this season. The score:

R. H. E.
Medford	5 10 2
Central Point	1 7 2

Batteries—Coleman and Hill; Lux and Marshall.

Medford still has that 1,000 per cent.

Won't some team please break it?

Sunday's and Monday's games were both nice exhibitions of baseball.

For some reason the heavy sluggers of the Grants Pass team cannot hit Burgess as well as the weaker batters.

With the bases full and three runs needed to tie the score, Bowers tried to lay down a bunt in the ninth inning. It was poor headwork when a single would have scored two men or a fly to the outfield scored the runner from third.

Roper says he is going to beat Medford next Sunday at Grants Pass. Nothin' doin'. Fred. We have heard that same old story so long that we don't believe you.

Say, don't you know the Medford fans are sweet on the Central Point team? They received many rounds of applause in yesterday's game.

Clark, for Central Point, and Miles and Strain, for Medford, each made a beautiful pickup yesterday.

Central Point played a nice fielding game yesterday and hit the ball hard at times. Coleman would then tighten up in the pinches and prevent their scoring only once.

Manager Grieves has collected a good bunch of ball players and is entitled to much credit for doing so, under so many adverse circumstances this year.

Central Point has certainly some unreasonable fans. In the first game played Medford, the Medford team only got four hits off Lux, yet they claimed he was bought off. Wonder who bought Murray off last Sunday? Get wise, Central Point. The best games you have played this season were when Lux was in the box. He has pitched good, hard ball for you and his work should be appreciated more.

Medford plays at Grants Pass next Sunday and no doubt a good bunch of fans will accompany the team.

The Great Land Show In Chicago Will Be Held Again Next November

300,000 people last year fought to gain admission. It was the greatest Exposition ever held to promote the sale of land. The present "land hunger" of the Middle West is due largely to the last land show. The Land Show is held in Chicago's big Coliseum—a building built for Exposition purposes—70,000 square feet of exhibit and aisle space—within ten minutes' ride from the center of the business district of Chicago.

There is no other building within five miles of the business district of Chicago that contains more than 10,000 square feet of exhibit space. The Chicago Tribune spent $131,000 to produce the last land show. It will spend more this year. $47,000 was spent last year in advertising to interest people in land and to get sure visitors to the Exposition. More money will be spent this year in advertising the communities which come in the land show and co-operate in the advertising campaign. $44,000 was spent in decorations—the most lavish ever put in any Exposition building. This year, D. H. Burnham & Co., architects known all over the country, are in charge of the decorations and the Coliseum will be turned into a fairyland.

The Chicago Tribune invites community participation in the next land show. The price of space is $1.50 per square foot. A booth contains 120 square feet and is worth $180.00.

The next land show is now an assured success. It will be better and bigger than last year. No space was sold this year to any railroad or community before April 1st. Since April 1st more space has been sold—not reserved—than all last year. The Colorado State Board of Immigration has contracted for nineteen booths for all districts in Colorado. The Yakima Valley, the Bitter Root, and many other fruit growing districts have already engaged space. The Harriman Lines have $6,000 worth of space and will spend $20,000 at the next land show. The Santa Fe, Rock Island, Frisco, Missouri Pacific and Cotton Belt have over 1,000 square feet each. Louisiana, Arkansas, Oregon, Montana, Idaho, Colorado, Michigan and Texas are already in with exhibits covering over 1,000 square feet from each state. Negotiations are under way for exhibits from other Western States. Deals have been made in practically every case with commercial clubs for community exhibits. If you are interested in getting your community to advertise, ask for more particulars.
