

GOOD ROADS GATHERINGS

Meetings Under Auspices of Good Roads Division, Department of Agriculture, Next Week at Medford, Jacksonville and Ashland.

A good roads meeting will be held at Ashland June 10, Jacksonville on June 9 and Medford June 11. These meetings will be addressed by Morris W. Eldredge, who has been sent out by the good roads division of the department of agriculture for the purpose of delivering a series of lectures in this state in connection with the good roads movement here. These series of lectures will begin at Ontario, and it is expected will include most of the principal towns and cities in the state.

As representing the Oregon Good Roads association, Judge Webster will accompany Mr. Eldredge on his trip, and will speak with him at most of the meetings, and it will be a part of their efforts to further the organization of a good roads association in Jackson county.

The occasion of this meeting affords a great opportunity for the county to get actively in line in this movement for the development of the state.

The fact that the government is giving this assistance to the work here ought of itself to afford great encouragement to the efforts for good roads.

A New Back for an Old One—How It Is Done in Medford.

The back aches at times with a dull, indescribable feeling, making you weary and restless; piercing pains shoot across the region of the kidneys, and again the loins are so lame to stoop is agony. No use to rub or apply a plaster to the back in this condition. You cannot reach the cause. Exchange the bad back for a new and stronger one. Follow the example of this Medford citizen.

Mrs. William Charley, Grape street, Medford, Or., says: "The public statement I gave in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills in 1907 still holds good. I occasionally take this remedy and I find that it keeps my kidneys in proper working order. A fall was the cause of kidney complaint in my case. The kidney secretions were unnatural and too frequent in passage and sometimes I had such acute pains in my back that I could hardly bend over. I did not sleep well, and, despite the use of plasters, liniments and remedies of various kinds, I continued to suffer. While in that condition, Doan's Kidney Pills were brought to my attention and, procuring a box at Haskins' drug store, I commenced taking them. In about two weeks I felt better and the contents of four boxes of this remedy made me well. I have recommended Doan's Kidney Pills to many other people."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

TALENT AND ITS FUTURE

(Paper read by Miss Alberta Seaman at Talent school entertainment, May 27.)

Talent is situated in the midst of a tract of undeveloped fruit land and young orchards, in a fertile valley just coming into fame for its apples, peaches and pears. When this undeveloped land is set to trees and the young orchards mature and bear fruit, this same town will become the business, educational and residence center for the fruitgrower and their employees in the vicinity. This prosperity is dependent in a way on the people who live here now, and they alone can decide whether this is to be a residence center for an industrious and live people or an unincorporated, uncared-for village, as it is today. It rests with the present inhabitants whether this community with wonderful yet undeveloped surroundings is to be a progressive city or a forlorn-looking village with a few dozen mossbacks living in dilapidated buildings and doing little business.

Taking an optimistic view of the case, let us hope for a possible awakening in the future of the people in this vicinity and imagine a flourishing city with substantial brick or stone buildings replacing the temporary wooden ones which disfigure our streets, a city with well-paved highways, where we now stumble on the broken board sidewalks and tramp through the dust and mud of the well-worn paths made by a former generation. Let us hope that in 20 years we may look down wide streets at night and see a city brilliantly lighted by electric lights; a city filled with streetcars and automobiles; a city crowded with progressive people doing a legitimate business and having beautiful homes in the suburbs built in the picturesque style that surround Talent on every side and only within a few minutes' car ride of the business center.

Perhaps we may ride through a beautiful park along Bear creek, through the business part of town and past Beeson's, Foss' and Holdridge's additions, where wonderful orchards once stood, or from North Talent's residence portion to Slingerman's orchard and never feel that one is truly out of Talent.

To imagine all the changes that will have taken place would be impossible. It is reasonable to suppose that some of the most prominent men will have gone into some other business, retired or sold out. Undoubtedly G. A. Gardner will be living on his beautiful old homestead in Eastern Oregon and when horses and carriages go out of use perhaps Jay Spitzer will erect a fine auto garage where his father's livery stable now stands. Where Wolter's grocery is located will be a large brick department store, several stories in height and employing many clerks. The Talent State bank, with increased capital and separate building, will become most popular. Where Tom Scott's house recently burned down, Miss Linnie Hanson will have a fashionable millinery parlor. The butcher shop will cover one whole lot, where it now occupies only a corner, and the proprietors, two burly butchers, one would not recognize as Frank and Bill Mason, for the fact that they will have grown unmistakably stout. It would be interesting to note that Kenneth Manning had added a department for repairing flying machines to the blacksmith shop he will then own; that Miss Alice Vandersluis had bought out the other partners in the grocery business which she had inherited from her father, and that Miss Marie was keeping a confectionery in the lower part of the Odd Fellows' hall, on the corner of what is the old Bell property.

A great opera house will occupy what is now the unfenced premises of our miserable schoolhouse and over the door this sign, "Siocum opera house, Professor Oriene Powers, manager." It is likely that Sophia Wolters, prima donna, and Ociola Carnahan, the noted mezzo soprano, and Chester Wolters, with his famous band, will be the principal attractions.

The grammar, high school and agricultural college will be accommodated on the ground now owned by M. L. Alford. In the same neighborhood will be football and baseball grounds and a gymnasium, with facilities for basketball and other indoor sports.

To get a good idea of the city one might ascend over it in an airship just as the sun went down and watch the workers from the orchards and the clerks, business men and other people from the city hurrying on the streets to their homes in the suburbs; only to return later in the evening to hear the famous Talent cornet band play at the theater or perhaps to the pleasant parks. As darkness settles over the city we descend to earth and bleak reality. Thus we will leave our dream of future greatness of this town for time to accomplish.

SUMMONS.

In the circuit court of the state of Oregon for the county of Jackson, Effie L. Taylor, plaintiff, vs. Cory C. Taylor, defendant.

Suit in equity for divorce. To Cory C. Taylor, the above named defendant:

In the name of the state of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the plaintiff's complaint against you, now on file in the above entitled court and cause, on or before the last day of the time prescribed in the order for publication of summons herein, to-wit: On or before the 30th day of May, 1910, said date being the expiration of six (6) weeks from the day of first publication of this summons.

And if you fail to appear and answer, for want thereof the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief prayed for in said complaint, succinctly stated as follows:

That the bonds of matrimony existing between plaintiff and defendant are forever dissolved, abrogated and set aside; that plaintiff be awarded the care and custody of Armond Taylor, minor son of plaintiff and defendant; that plaintiff be awarded such an allowance of defendant's property as may appear to the court equitable and just, and that plaintiff have judgment therefor, to become effective in the event of defendant's coming, at any time, within the jurisdiction of this court; that the costs and disbursements of this suit be taxed to the defendant, and that plaintiff have such other and further relief as to the court may appear just and equitable.

This summons is published in the Medford Mail Tribune by order of the Honorable F. M. Calkins, Judge of the above entitled court, which said order was made and entered of record on the 13th day of April, 1910, and the first publication hereof is the 17th day of April, 1910.

W. E. PHIPPS, Attorney for Plaintiff.

A Wonderful Discovery for Medford.

"Cleanliness is next to Godliness." Mr. Allen's Portable Bath Apparatus is a marvel. It combines in one simple, inexpensive apparatus all the advantages known to modern bathing. Heats sufficient water within six minutes at the cost of only 1 cent. A bath can be taken in any room without the possibility of soiling carpets or rugs. Only one can understand the real merits of this bathing apparatus by having it demonstrated to you. Mr. H. Fox, who has the exclusive agency for Jackson county, will visit the homes of Medford and vicinity and demonstrate it. When he comes to your home, invite him in, and he will show you the merits of this 20th century invention. It is on exhibition at Strang's drug store. GO AND SEE IT.

Roanoke Roanoke

One of the Most Beautiful Resident Sections of Medford

Roanoke Addition is just far enough out to eliminate all noise and bustle of the business section and yet it is just right for the man who is in business. Only ten minutes' walk from the railroad. This is becoming one of the most finished residence districts of Medford. The lots all face on Main street and Rose avenue. Cement sidewalk all in. Sewer and water mains laid. The lots are high and slightly, which gives them a great advantage. Building restrictions $2000. There are already several fine new cottages on the property. These lots are quite large, being 50x137, which gives plenty of room for garden and garage and other necessary buildings.

Come and make your selections early. Prices $735 to $750 for east and west front lots.
