FOREIGNERS IN DANGER.

A serious aspect is given to the rebellion because of its changing character from one of attack upon the Manchú dynasty to a concerted effort to drive all foreigners from China.

GRAVE CRISIS.

Prince Chun, regent of China and father of the emperor, has called the imperial council into session to consider the problem of checking the uprising. The regent realizes that the government is menaced by a grave crisis and that if the revolt is not checked before it spreads foreign intervention may be necessary. Prince Chun is doing all in his power to prevent the powers from again occupying the cities of the flowery kingdom and the gates of the forbidden city.

Foreigners throughout the empire have been notified that protection will be granted them at the consulates, but have been urged to issue notices warning foreigners to leave Chinese soil immediately. American Minister Calhoun frankly expressed his alarm today at the situation.

FEELING BITTER.

The feeling against foreigners is most bitter at Nanking, where an outbreak is probable at any moment. The government fears the agents of the "Triad," the coalesced revolutionary party, will take advantage of the opening of the Nanking exposition tomorrow to begin an attack. The exposition, which displays the products and resources of the 18 provinces of China and contains a few foreign exhibits, is drawing hundreds of foreigners to the city. The government fears that these visitors may be marked for massacre and is taking precautions to protect them.

The Perking authorities learned today that foreign nations are rushing warships to Chinese waters for the purpose of protection to foreigners. The legations have been informed that an additional fleet of war ships will be sent to seaports of China.

CITY MAY GO DRY.

flocking to Woodville for liquid refreshments. It will be late in the fall present county license will not expire until next November. A majority of the new council is said to favor prohibition for the city, and the incorporation was fought by the single saloon now there.

There was little contest over the offices and the following were elected:

- Mayor—Samuel Mathis.
- Recorder—E. D. Thompson.
- Marshal—S. L. Sandry.
- Treasurer—C. G. Seaman.
- Aldermen—Charles Hatch, G. F. Wortz, E. B. O'Hair, W. M. Gortam, W. A. Beck, L. B. Ellis.

FRUIT ASS'N GETS BUSY.

to secure the prices for the products to which the growers are entitled.

The Rogue River Fruit and Produce association has, as has been reported, secured the services of C. W. Wilmeroth, as manager, than whom there is no better judge of market conditions in the west. The association has contracted for boxes and wrapping paper sufficient to handle the estimated crop, and is prepared to furnish everyone in or out side the association with orchard supplies. It has purchased the Perry warehouses and will fit up its offices in the rooms now occupied by J. A. Perry, and it is now ready to do business with fruit men.

Through the efforts of this organization Professor O'Gara will remain in Rogue River valley for another year at least, and the matter of the distribution of the pear crop has been arranged with the Stewart Fruit company. It is believed by the officers of the new association that in securing the Stewart Fruit company to handle the pear crop that a splendid step has been taken, as this company is paramount in the line of marketing Rogue River fruit, and that they will make the greatest efforts in securing top prices for the local output.

O'GARA TO REMAIN.

stance of the united fruitgrowing interests, insures a compulsory clean-up of orchards and the elimination of fruit tree diseases, for he is acknowledged the foremost authority on blight and other diseases in the world.

To remain here, Professor O'Gara must resign from the department. This he has agreed to do.

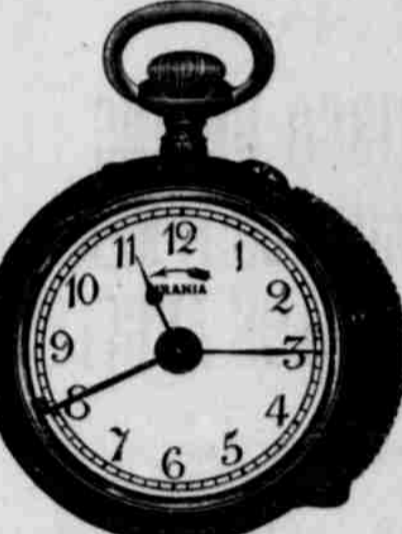

The promise to secure the services of Professor O'Gara was made Friday afternoon, Judge Neil and Commissioner Owens favoring it; and Commissioner Patterson agreeing not to oppose it, providing he was assured of its legality.
