BULK TEAS AND COFFEES

Did you ever stop to reason about the matter? Don't you know that you can buy a better quality of most anything by buying in bulk? It's a fact that an article put up in bulk is bound to be good—to be a little better than the average. Two of the West Side grocers handle exclusive lines of bulk goods and both will tell you that what you have just read is absolutely true. You save money by buying exclusive bulk goods. Look up the stores on the West Side which advertise and they will give you the best the market affords. If they couldn't give you the best they wouldn't advertise. The people who don't advertise don't want the people to know too much about their goods—they'd rather you would just buy anything they happen to offer, whether it is good or not. Pure food laws were made to hold in check the fellow that would sell anything. You can't afford to buy anything but the best.

If you patronize the merchant, grocery or market that advertises you are sure to get good things to eat. Good tea and coffee can be bought from TWO WEST SIDE GROCERS ONLY.

SPOKANE MAY FAVOR HILL LINE

IF C. M. & P. S. R. R. Persists in Determination Not to Accept Franchise Containing Common User Clause Spokane Will Turn to N. C.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 11.—If the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound railroad persists in its announced determination not to accept a franchise containing a common user clause, the North Coast, a Hill line, will be permitted to take up the union depot franchise to be prepared by the council and construct a union passenger station, which is to be open for entrance by other railroads at any future date.

This decision was reached at a meeting of the city council committee of the whole yesterday, and immediately followed a conference between all the members of the council and Robert E. Straporn, president of the North Coast.

According to the terms of the resolution, the roads have 30 days to accept the franchise, and if in that time the Milwaukee does not file its acceptance, the North Coast railroad will be permitted to file its acceptance of the union depot franchise singly.

After a protracted conference between Milwaukee officials it was announced today that the line would continue its refusal of the common user clause.

This practically means that the road will not be allowed to enter the city, according to city officials.

CRAB GROWING AND CANNING IS WANTED

PORTLAND, June 11.—Recent shipment to this city by Portland and Asiatic Steamship company's steamer of 200 cases of canned crab, packed at Osara, Japan, has aroused a discussion among local packers relative to the purchase abroad of goods that could just as easily be bought in the United States if our manufacturers were alive to their opportunities. The 200 cases of the imported delicacy were in part intended for Chicago. There is said to be a growing demand for the luxury and an extensive business is being worked up by the active little brown men. The article is all that is claimed for it, but here is the question its introduction into American markets provokes: Are there any packers on the Pacific coast who have ever given this industry consideration? If they are with us we have never heard of them, and their output must be small. The finest crabs in the world are found in Puget Sound waters and excellent varieties thrive along the Oregon and California coasts. Speaking of the shipment a business man who was one of the promoters of the shipment from the Orient said:

"The Pacific Northwest can can crab meat just as successfully as any part of the world, and the wonder is that no one has ever engaged

A NEW PARTY IS PREDICTED

Horace T. Jones is Appointed Financial Secretary of Oregon Conservation Association—Was Favorite of Pinchot.

PORTLAND, June 11.—A sequel to the Ballinger-Pinchot controversy is found in the appointment of Horace T. Jones as financial secretary of the Oregon Conservation association. Jones was formerly on Ballinger's pay roll as an employe of the department of the interior. During the recent investigation at Washington Jones was a witness and gave testimony derogatory to his chief. Soon after he was suspended from the service for an indefinite period, without pay.

The Oregon Conservation association was formed under the patronage of Gifford Pinchot, when he was chief forester. Since Pinchot's political demise the association has maintained its original status and remained steadfast to its purpose, which was, and is, as stated in the propaganda distributed about the state, "to educate the public in the matter of protection of timber from fires and to promulgate the doctrines of conservation." The association is anti-Ballinger and pro-Pinchot politically.

Students of politics read between the lines in the stated purpose of the association. They see the upbuilding of a powerful organization that will at the crucial moment rally to the support of a new political party—perhaps neither republican, democrat nor "insurgent." They assert that a movement is now launching, under various guises in various states, to carefully organize Roosevelt partisans; that with his wonted prescience Roosevelt will jump into the gap caused by the republican defection and the democratic awakening.
