F. W. Hutchison has returned from a visit to Portland.

Come and see the Automatic Call & Advertising Clock company. The automatic call system is an Oregon invention. Frank T. Wrightman, head of the corporation's department for this state, is president of the company. It surpasses the telephone. The fire alarm feature is well worth twice the price of the installation. The system is indispensable to up-to-date hotels, hospitals and schools. The home system has all the features of the system for hotels and hospitals. All who see this system demonstrated say that it is the most wonderful invention of the age. Rev. W. T. Goulder is associated with us and he would be glad to have his friends call and see our invention. We are located in the Palm block, room 9. 76

Medford and Central Point will play in Medford Sunday afternoon, while the Grants Pass "champions" will tangle with Jacksonville at the county seat. Suppose Central Point should win the Sunday game—would they also claim a championship? The addition of quality and home comforts will be Queen Anne water, sewer and paved streets building reconstructions. See McCallum, Hotel Nash. tf

Don't overlook those two games next week between the Medford team and the San Francisco boys. The visitors know the game and if the Medford team keeps up its record it must go some.

Where in Medford can you get better values than in Queen Anne addition? Did you notice the cut of the new public school to be erected in Queen Anne? Get busy. The present price won't last long. tf

H. D. Reed of Gold Hill was in Medford on business Friday.

The vote for goddess of liberty at Jacksonville on July 4 is now open. Tickets on sale at Russell's Confectionery store and Nash hotel and Haskins' drug store. Contest closes June 28, 6 p. m. tf

M'ALLISTER HAS QUIT HIS OFFICE

Master Fish Warden in San Francisco for Purpose of Conferring With Benson—Will Fight Statewide Prohibition.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17.—H. C. McAllister is in this city today to tender his resignation as master fish warden to Governor Frank W. Benson of Oregon.

Mr. McAllister has been offered the management of the Home Rule association of Oregon, which is opposing statewide prohibition, and has been induced to accept. The Home Rulers are said to have given him a two-year contract at $6000 a year to manage their affairs. It was only after repeated urging that McAllister decided to accept, for even last week, when he had the proposal under consideration, he had determined to reject it.

As Governor Benson was in California receiving medical treatment, McAllister came to San Francisco to deliver his resignation in person and confer with the governor as to his possible successor.

Mr. McAllister was appointed master fish warden by Former Governor George E. Chamberlain and when Secretary of State Benson succeeded Chamberlain as governor, upon the latter's election to the United States senate, McAllister was retained in his post by Benson. During the two years McAllister has been at the head of the state fish department he has thoroughly organized it and has obtained some valuable legislation so that the fish laws are considered now to be in better shape than ever before.

It is reported that McAllister intended to have his resignation take effect July 1.

HAND MANGLED IN FURNITURE MACHINE

B. F. Fifer Nearly Loses His Left Hand in Dato Head Saw at Mission Furniture Works.

At 10:30 Friday morning, while B. F. Fifer, who lives at the corner of Oakdale and Eighth street, was operating a "dato-head saw" at the Mission furniture works, on South Holly street, his left hand was drawn into the machine and badly mangled. He was immediately taken home and medical assistance summoned. The saw mangled the two middle fingers badly, but the physicians have hopes of saving the hand and probably the digits also. Mr. Fifer has been unfortunate, as he has just recovered from a badly sprained arm.

"I cannot account for the accident," said Mr. Fifer, between spasms of pain, "unless it was a knot in the board. I have handled machines all my life and I never had an accident before. It was not carelessness or the fault of the machine."

"HELLO, BILL!" GOES ON BOARDS NEXT MONDAY

The second week of the Athlon Stock company at the Medford theater will be given over to a production of a screaming farce, "Hello, Bill." The company has created a most favorable impression on its first appearance here in "The Powers That Be," and will doubtless do a splendid business all summer. Seats on sale for all next week at Haskins' drug store, beginning Saturday morning. Remember the change in dates—Mondays, Tuesdays and Wednesdays.

TEDDY WILL COMPLETE GREAT TRIP TOMORROW

pared with that of Roosevelt, lacking, as they did, its many spectacular features.

When it is remembered that the colonel spent nearly an entire year, from April 21, 1909, when he landed at Mombasa, to March 14, 1910, when he arrived at Khartoum, in the interior of Africa, when practically the only news of him was furnished by the United Press correspondent, who followed him through Africa, as the only accredited newspaperman in the party, his quickening of the world's pulse in his kaleidoscopic rush through Egypt and Europe becomes an even greater achievement.

It is safe to say that in the last three months Roosevelt has made more "news" than any private individual ever before him did in like time.

Every college he visited tacked a degree on him until now the better part of the alphabet is required to designate all the colonel's titles. Even the University of Egypt, a large part of whose students he so deeply offended by his anti-Nationalist sentiments, made him an honorary doctor of laws.

Roosevelt was robber of a number of highest honors by the death of King Edward. Chief of these was to have been the three days' entertainment of himself and family in the royal suite of the kaiser's palace in Berlin, the very suite that King Edward occupied on his visits to the German capital. Such an honor would have been unique in that private individuals are never entertained at this palace.

King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, President Fallieres of France, Emperor Franz Josef of Austria, King Albert of Belgium, Queen Wilhelmina of Holland, King Haakon of Norway, Emperor William of Germany, King George of England and the Crown Princes of Denmark and Sweden all strove to the utmost to honor Roosevelt, and in every capital he visited he was the nation's guest, despite the fact that he traveled wholly as a private citizen.

The colonel's feat in spending 11 months in the jungles of Africa without suffering so much as a day's illness and the practical immunity of his son, Kermit, was a great surprise to the medical world. All sorts of dire predictions were made that fever would lay him low, the sleeping sickness seize him, the tsetse fly poison him or the beast of the jungles maim him, but with characteristic "Roosevelt luck" he escaped them all and came out of Africa looking like a fighter trained for the ring. It remained for the effete civilization of European capitals to overtax his strength and endurance.

Another thing that astounded Roosevelt's American friends was the fidelity with which he adhered to his statement that from the time he left America until his return he would refrain from all public discussion of American politics. Not once has he violated this rule, and a number of correspondents, mostly foreign, who "piped" political stories and attributed them to Roosevelt were called the "shorter and uglier word" instanter.

The meeting between Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot, whom President Taft deposed as chief forester, at Porto Maurizio on April 10, it was thought, would surely result in at least a small break in Roosevelt's wall of reserve, but again the correspondents were fooled. Roosevelt's returns to America without having given public expression to a single sentiment that could reflect his views on Taft, insurgency, the tariff, the Ballinger affair or any other of the subjects in which it is presumed he is deeply interested.
