THE FINANCIAL WORLD.

Earlier in the day Illinois Central lost 2 1-2, Chesapeake & Ohio 2, Toledo, St. Louis and Western 1 3-4, Western Union and Pullman 1. The market closed strong. London. BIG TOURIST TRAFFIC IS ON Valley Auto Company Reports Many Machines Coming Through and Stopping—More of Long-Distance Travelers Than Last Year.

The Valley Auto Company is handling a big tourist traffic in their new garage on Holly street. They report the tourist trade, especially the long distance travelers, stronger than in any previous year. Monday A. B. Newell and family of Seattle, who had made the trip this far south in their Cadillac car, after fitting up with nobby-tread tires, left for home via Crater Lake and Eastern Oregon. A. B. Polson of Hoquiam, Wash., passed through Medford this week on his way from Tawana, Mex. to his home. He has made the trip all the way in a Packard machine, and found the worst roads on the trip between Redding and Dunsmuir. The tourist's all report fairly good road conditions along the whole line. L. Woodford started Thursday with the Parkhurst party, who will open the hotel at Crater Lake, for that point, in a Studebaker 40.

GAY OLD BOY OF 94 TELLS HOW TO SELECT A WIFE

TONA ALTA, W. Va., June 18.—After handing over $3000 and thus freeing himself from the matrimonial yoke, 94 years old, Henry Albright declared that he would never marry again unless absolutely certain the woman loved him. Then he gave out a few points of advice on selecting a wife. "Don't be led astray by puppy love," he said. "When I was married the first time I knew how to select a wife, but at 94 I find that I was either too young or too perverse to control my affections and subject them to my will." Mr. Albright's trouble with his wife, who is 77 years old, was caused, he affirmed, by the devil. She was his second helpmeet and was a widow when she married him.

SPAIN TAKES NEW STEP TOWARD CHURCH FREEDOM

MADRID, June 18.—A royal decree issued today amends the constitution, authorizing the edifies of non-Catholic religious societies to display the insignia for public worship and other ceremonies.

RENO IS NOW CERTAIN.

(Continued from page 1.) Southern Pacific railroad between Sparks and Reno, one mile from the center of Reno, is being put in shape for the construction of an arena. The Nevada officials and the sheriff have agreed that there will be no interference with the fight. Every room in hotels and lodging houses is being renovated and reservations are pouring in from all parts of the country.

Blot Calls It Off.

The Kaufman-Langford prize fight was called off at 11 o'clock this morning by Promoter Louis Blot. Blot issued a statement from the office of Cleveland Dam, his attorney, in which he said that he had been notified by Adjutant General Lauck and Chief of Police Martin that the fight would be forcibly stopped.

Would Obey Law.

Blot conferred with his attorney for fully an hour before making the announcement that the fight would not be held. Blot stated that it was his desire to obey the law in all respects. The entire Fifth regiment, National Guard of California, through its officers, was ordered to be in readiness for service in San Francisco. The orders read that only four companies near San Francisco were to be called upon for immediate duty, but the others were commanded to be in readiness. Then came Blot's announcement that the fight would not be held.

linging to Hope.

Like drowning men clinging to a straw, Tex Rickard and Jack Gleason still entertain some hope that the Jeffries-Johnson fight will take place in San Francisco, although they admit that they are somewhat dismayed by Louis Blot's decision, made at 11 day. Early today there was possibility that a definite announcement that Reno would be the battle ground would be forthcoming before night-fall but Blot's postponement, combined with the decision to hold a test fight next Monday in Blot's arena put a crimp in their plans.

Reno Say Fans.

Despite the optimism displayed by the promoters, the almost unanimous belief is that Reno will be the battle ground. In fact, there is a suspicion that Gleason and Rickard have already decided upon Reno, but that they are holding back and contemplating the situation in an uncertain state for the purpose of getting better terms out of the Nevada metropolis. Rickard stated this morning that he did not know when he would go to Reno to consult with the representatives of Ely, Goldfield and Reno.

Fight Sure on July 4.

"We do not know what we are going to do in the matter of a battle ground, but we are going as far as we can to have the championship decided right here, but wherever the contest takes place, it will be on the afternoon of July 4. You can make that as strong as you like."

Packing Up.

That substantial preparations to go to Reno are being made became known today when it was officially announced, but by one in a position of authority that the railroads had been approached in the matter of rates for the Fourth of July. The tip was so concrete that the fare for the round trip was given as $9.50. When Owen Moran, the little English fighter, landed a right swing on the jaw of Tommy McCarthy, the San Francisco light weight, in Dreamland Rink on the night of May 5 he landed a knockout on pugilism in California.

If Tommy McCarthy had gone down, taken the count, come up groggy, been doused with water by his seconds, revived and explained how it all happened and could never happen again according to true pugilistic custom, it is highly probable that the Jeffries-Johnson battle would have been pulled off in San Francisco on schedule time and that the Langford-Kaufman affair would have been been dished up as an appetizer for the fight followers.

Protest Broadened.

Though the protest was aimed against the big fight scheduled for July 4, it gradually broadened until it was aimed against fighting in general. Ministers throughout California preached against fights, called mass meetings of protest, passed resolutions and bombarded the governor with letters and copies of anti-fight declarations. Ministers outside California joined in the crusade until the "battle of the century" had become a shining mark for reformers and crusaders.

Kept Up Fight.

Though the governor at first intimated that he would not interfere believing that the law did not warrant any action on his part, the ministers and their supporters kept on fighting the fight. How strong the organization was is shown by the fact that a delegation of 50 ministers and 50 laymen had planned to wait on the governor the day after the announcement was made that the fight would be called off.

A Hard Punch.

Considering that Owen Moran is a light weight, critics may agree that he must have had a pretty good punch to knock out four heavy weights all at one blow. There are many reasons assigned for the sudden determination of the governor of California to stop prize fighting in the state. Probably all of them had some weight, critics of the governor agree, but to the death of Tommy McCarthy, who died some hours after he was knocked out in Dreamland Rink, the sudden crystallization of anti-fight sentiment is assigned. From the morning that McCarthy's was announced, church societies, ministerial associations, churchmen's clubs—in fact, all the
